84th Congress Adjourns

U. S., Red China Recess PW Talks

48 Hour Delay Regarded Unusual

GENEVA, Aug. 2 (AP)—The United States and Communist China talked almost an hour today about the release of civilians to their respective countries, then decided on a 48-hour recess.

From the U. S. viewpoint, the next big item in the conversations here, aimed at easing tensions in the Far East, is the release of 40 American civilians. Eleven American fliers are already on their way to freedom.

Red China's Ambassador Wang Ping-nan announced yesterday at his first meeting with U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson the release of the fliers. That gave a promising outlook to the conference.

The break in the talks was not regarded as usual. It was considered likely both sides had found it necessary to consult their governments on proposals regarding the return of the American civilians detained in Red China and Chinese nationals in the United States.

Arrives In Geneva

Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the U. N. arrived in Geneva late today from Sweden where he has been vacationing. He said he probably would see both the ambassadors during a week's stay for the opening of the U. N. conference here on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Hammarskjold said the Red Chinese decision to release the fliers was a "fine example of how international cooperation in the right spirit can yield solutions of delicate problems."

The secretary general, who visited Peiping early this year in an effort to bring about their release, said he was hopeful the meeting here would bring about the solution of other problems at issue.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles disclosed in Washington today that Johnson also will make inquiries about more than 400 American soldiers missing without a trace as a result of the war in Korea.

Dulles said Johnson had brought a list of these servicemen to Geneva with him. Although hope that many of the men are alive is slight, Johnson will seek what information is available from the Chinese Communists.

Dulles Clamps Down

Dulles clamped down on obvious efforts by Wang to open up the talks for a wide discussion of points at issue between the United States and Red China. Wang said yesterday it was his opinion that under the second item on the agenda here "each side may put forward questions which directly involve both China and the United States and which they consider should be discussed so that both sides can have a free exchange of views." The second item is billed as "other practical matters at issue."

Dulles declared the states of Formosa, Quemoy and Matsu — islands claimed by the Communists — were not subject to negotiation.

Renounce Force Dulles States To Red Chinese

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Red China should issue a declaration renouncing the use of force. That, he said, would pave the way for further negotiations with the United States.

Dulles told his news conference the United States refuses to negotiate with any country while a pistol, as he put it, is pointed at its head. Peiping shows signs of having laid down the pistol, he commented, but the thing to do is to discard it permanently.

In this connection, he made reference to the announced freeing of 11 American airmen who have been held by the Reds, the hoped-for release of American civilians who also have been detained in China, and a relatively conciliatory speech made by Premier Chou En-lai last Sunday.

Dulles said:

"The release of the fliers, the release of the civilians, if it comes about, such statements as are made by Chou En-lai, if I interpret them right and if they are sincere and permanent parts of policy, might mark the beginning of a new phase in Chinese Communist relations with the rest of the world.

"I pointed out some time ago that the Chinese Communists seem to be much more violent and fanatical, more addicted to the use of force than the Russians are or have become. Whether or not there is going to be a change in that respect I don't know.

"There are some auguries, but we always have to remember the adage that one swallow does not make a summer."

Dulles rejected criticism by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that the U. S.-Red China talks now under way at Geneva would simply ratify a deal which McCarthy said the Eisenhower administration made at the Big Four summit conference last month to swap Nationalist China territory for the freedom of 11 U. S. airmen.

Dulles said he would add nothing to what Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said yesterday in reply to McCarthy's criticism on the Senate floor.

President Signs Aid Measure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the $2,765,875,000 foreign aid bill.

In a brief statement, he said:

"There are several provisions in the act relating to direct forces support and defense support where particular countries are named as eligible recipients of assistance in specified amounts.

"I regard these provisions as authorizations, and also as limitations on the availability of the amounts specified, rather than as directives. To construe them otherwise would raise substantial constitutional questions."

White House officials gave an example of what the President had in mind. They referred to provisions saying defense support of at least so much shall be available for country X.

They said the President regards that as an authorization to spend up to that amount, but also does not regard it as a mandate to spend anything.

Workmen Get Coins From Niagara River

Plan Locust Defense

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP)—Defense plans against locust plagues which have scourged the Middle East since biblical times will be made at an international conference starting in Syria Aug. 4 and sponsored by the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

Former Jap Minister Says Firing Of M'Arthur Unjust

TOKYO, Wednesday, Aug. 3 (AP)—Former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida says Gen. Douglas MacArthur was right in wanting to attack Manchuria in the Korean War and that this would not have provoked World War III.

"The general was dismissed because of his strong insistence on attacking across the Yalu River into Manchuria," Yoshida writes in his memoirs now running in Asahi Shimbun, Japan's largest newspaper.

"This idea conflicted with that of President Truman—but I do believe that MacArthur had real insight.

"If the Americans had crossed the border then and marched on, I think relations between Red China and Russia would have become something different from what they are today, and the world situation would be also much changed.

(Actually, MacArthur did not propose a U.S. march into Manchuria. He wanted to bomb Red Chinese air bases there, and proposed that Nationalist Chinese troops be used for a diversionary attack on the Red mainland.)

"I do not believe a march onward into Manchuria would have touched off World War III. In those days, the free nations had renewed their strength, but on the Russian part the Eastern European situation was unstable and had not firmed up."

The 76-year-old prime minister who was friendly to the United States was driven from office by a conservative revolt last December. He still is a political power as an elder statesman of his Liberal party.

Held In Slaying

Percy Haines, left, is escorted by Cumberland County Sheriff Clyde E. Fisher from the court house in Carlisle, Pa., after he re-enacted a scene in which he shot Judge Mark E. Garber, an attorney, his wife, and killed another attorney with a pistol in the courtroom. Haines was a defendant in a non-support case.

Berserk Man Shoots Four In Court Room

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP) — A 60-year-old man shouting he had been given a "raw deal" in a nonsupport case went beserk in Cumberland County Court today, whipping out a .38 calibre pistol and killing an attorney. Three others, including Judge Mark E. Garber, were wounded.

The gun wielder, identified as Percy Haines, 60, was taken into custody after a brief hand-to-hand struggle with George Geiger, court reporter, who took the gun from the man and held it until police arrived.

John D. Faller, Carlisle attorney, died in the hospital a short time after the shooting of wounds of the chest. Judge Garber was winged in the arm. Others struck by the flurry of bullets were Mrs. Lulu Haines, 60, wife of the defendant, and George Black, Chambersburg attorney.

Mrs. Jessie Holtzman, assistant probation officer, said she was in the courtroom when the shooting began. She said "it was a terrible thing." She told police that as soon as the first shot was fired she rushed downstairs along with others in the courtroom where they all huddled behind locked doors until the police took the situation in hand.

Witnesses said Judge Garber ruled that Haines pay $50 a month support to his wife.

Haines asked the judge, "how am I going to pay. I don't have the money."

His attorney told Haines, "We'll worry about that later."

Then, witnesses told police, Haines whipped out the pistol and sprayed the courtroom with bullets.

Russians To Attend

Masons Walk Off Job, It's Much Too Hot

NEW ULM, Minn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Masons walked off a house building job yesterday because it was too hot.

Contractor George Arndt got a thermometer for four carpenters who remained with him on the job. It showed 97 in the shade.

Arndt placed it inside the partially finished house. Within a half hour the mercury climbed to 120 degrees and the thermometer popped.

Arndt and the carpenters went home.

Airman's Wife Remarried

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—The wife of Daniel C. Schmidt, one of 11 American airmen released by the Chinese Communists, was quoted by the Sacramento Bee today as saying she had remarried in the belief Schmidt was dead.

The former Una Schmidt said she wed Alford D. Fine of Soda Springs, Calif., last September after being informed Schmidt's plane had been shot down in Korea.

Mrs. Fine said she believed Schmidt had been killed.

Alvin S. Trivelpiece, a correspondent for the Sacramento Bee, said the 20-year-old woman told him in Soda Springs that she and Schmidt were married May 24, 1952, but had only five weeks together before he was sent overseas.

She said she received word in January, 1953, that A.2.C. Schmidt, was aboard a plane that had been shot down. She said a son was born to her and Schmidt March 31, 1953.

"In September, 1954, I married Alford Fine, believing my husband was dead," the Bee reporter quoted her.

"In November, 1954, I received word my husband was a prisoner and had been sentenced to a term of four years. I should have obtained an annulment immediately, but I made the mistake of not doing so.

"I intend to meet my husband when he arrives from overseas. We have a great deal to discuss, including the future of our son.

"I believe we can straighten out all our difficulties."

Issue Draft Call

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 10,000 men in October, the same quota previously announced for each of the last five months.

The new call brings to 1,948,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since Selective service was resumed in September, 1950.

KLAGENFURT, Austria, Aug. 2 (AP) — Britain began withdrawing troops from Austria today.

Four Candidates Neck And Neck In Miss. Race

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 2 (AP) — Four candidates for governor of Mississippi stepped off neck and neck in early, scattered returns in the Democratic primary election tonight.

Voters braved cloudy skies and rain to take their choice among five candidates who all promised to keep Negroes out of white schools.

A record vote was indicated for the Democratic primary. Long ballots mean a trend in the governor's race may not be established until tomorrow.

In the lineup:

Former Gov. Fielding Wright, founder of the 1948 States Rights party; Mrs. Mary Cain, newspaperwoman known for her fight against compulsory social security; Paul Johnson, son of a former governor making his third try; Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, making his first statewide race; and Ross Barnett, Jackson attorney.

With unofficial returns from 42 of 1851 precincts reporting, Wright led with 1,049 votes; Johnson 943; Coleman 914; Barnett 703; and Mrs. Cain 172.

None is expected to get the needed majority. This will call for a runoff primary between the top two Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Gov. High White is ineligible to succeed himself.

In all, 24 state positions will be filled in the primaries. Democratic nomination is the same as election in Mississippi.

In most cases, the Republicans don't even bother to run in the November general election.

The polls opened at 7 a.m. They close at 6 p.m.

Old timers in the Capitol predicted the total vote will run about 425,000 despite the rain.

All the candidates for governor have assured the voters they favor segregated schools. They differ only on the method of retaining segregation.

Students Return To Commie China

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Twelve Chinese students returned to Communist China today from the United States, Peiping radio reported.

They were not identified but presumably were among the 76 Chinese students who earlier this year were permitted to leave the United States if they wished.

Peiping radio said only that the 12 were given a warm welcome at Canton by a "returned students reception committee."

Population Grows

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (AP)—Canada's population has passed 15,600,000. The Bureau of Statistics today reported its June 1 population estimate was 15,601,000, up 2.7 per cent from June 1, 1954.

British Keep Watch For 11 Freed Airmen

Fliers Are Scheduled To Arrive Tomorrow In Hong Kong, China

HONG KONG, Aug. 2 (AP)—British patrols kept special watch on the border tonight to welcome 11 American airmen, being freed by Red China, if they show up before their scheduled arrival Thursday.

Peiping announced yesterday the airmen — crew of a B29 Superfortress shot down Jan. 12, 1953, on what U. S. officials called a routine leaflet-dropping mission over North Korea — are expected to reach Hong Kong Thursday.

But officials of this British crown colony believe the group, sentenced last November to prison terms ranging up to 10 years on a charge of spying, may arrive earlier.

12 Hours Ahead

In any event Hong Kong is 12 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time and news of the men's emergence from the Bamboo Curtain may reach the United States Wednesday, U. S. time.

In Washington the U. S. Air Force announced the men will be flown direct to the West Coast after a stay of two or three days in the Philippines.

Families of the airmen who desire to go will be flown to either Travis Air Base near San Francisco or McChord Air Base near Seattle for a reunion with their menfolk.

An Air Force officer indicated the group, headed by Col. John Knox Arnold of Silver Spring, Md., will be headed home from Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport within two to four hours after crossing the border. Two C54s, four-engine transports, are to make the flight.

Taken To Club

The men will be taken first to the Fanling Jockey Club for medical examinations and outfitting in new uniforms. Under present arrangements, only one photographer and one reporter, representing news media on a pool basis, will be permitted to see and talk with the men briefly.

Newsmen gathered here to report the fliers' arrival protested this limitation on the coverage. However, Air Force Attache O.W. D. Simpson told them individual interviews will not be allowed, "according to my instructions from Washington."

The Hong Kong community generally feels release of the 11 is a good omen for the current U. S.-Chinese talks in Geneva and a forerunner to release of U. S. civilians still held in Red China.

Soviet Group Sees Harvest

REDFIELD, S. D., Aug. 2 (AP)—The Soviet farm delegation went out today to see wheat harvesting on South Dakota farms.

The Russians stopped this morning in Mitchell to visit the famous Corn Palace there. They bought indian souvenirs and listened to a brief talk by one of the guides on the history of the ornate structure whose domes are a little reminiscent of those on St. Basil's Cathedral in Moscow.

They lunched here in Redfield and then went out to see the farms of Wiley Bloom and G. Fredericks near here. Their destination for the night was Aberdeen.

John Strom, American coordinator for the tour said that the Russian delegates have been invited to visit the 173,000-acre Keeline Ranch at Gillette, Wyo. owned by the Keeline Oil and Uranium Co.

Death Of Mother Ends Odd Hollywood Triangle

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—Death today shattered a domestic triangle in which, police say, a 20-year-old girl, her 41-year-old sweetheart and his wife lived together.

The girl, Alice Huff, committed suicide by swallowing about 25 sleeping pills in the bungalow court apartment she shared with Jacob Traub and his wife, Ada, officers reported.

Detectives A. E. Urzik and C. B. Turner quoted Traub as saying Miss Huff was "devoted to me" and that his wife agreed to the situation.

The officers quoted him as saying Miss Huff was three months pregnant and that he fathered her unborn child.

Traub sadly told the detectives: "Alice and Ada used to race each other to see who would make my breakfast in the morning."

She left a note giving Traub custody of her 2½-year-old daughter, Caroline, "as long as Ada Traub has no say in the matter."

Traub said he and the girl had several drinks last night at a nearby bar and then returned to the apartment.

"My wife and I got into an argument and Alice went into the other room to change her clothes," Traub added. "When she came out, she was very pale. A few minutes later she collapsed."

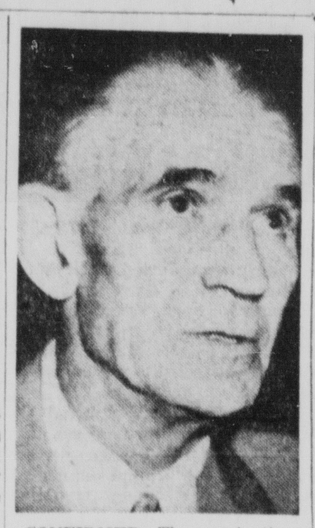

She was dead on arrival at Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

Traub, asked his wife's views of the love affair, replied with a shrug:

"When you get in your late thirties those things don't mean so much to you."

The police report did not say how long the three had lived together, nor did it give the wife's age.

Traub and his wife said they both want custody of the child, Caroline. They said they don't know the identity of the father.

CONFIRMED—The nomination of Harold C. Patterson, above, by President Eisenhower to fill a Democratic vacancy on the Securities and Exchange Commission was confirmed yesterday by the Senate.

Butler Assails Talbott As Not Being Punished

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler today pounced on Harold E. Talbott's resignation as secretary of the Air Force as "a case of unpunished unethical conduct."

He accused President Eisenhower of sidestepping an "unpleasant responsibility" with his "friendly acceptance" last night of Talbott's resignation.

Butler's acidly phrased statement came out after several Republican senators expressed doubt the affair could be kept burning as a political issue next year.

As for the Senate Investigations subcommittee's search into Talbott's outside business interests, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) indicated the case is just about closed.

McClellan told newsmen the subcommittee would "have an announcement within a day or two," but added: "There is no immediate probability that any further hearings will be held in the Talbott matter."

The inquiry had led directly to Talbott's tender of resignation in order to spare the administration any "embarrassment." The subcommittee had been primarily concerned with Talbott's partnership in the New York management engineering firm of Paul B. Mulligan and Co., a connection which earned him $132,032 in the 2½ years he served as secretary.

Testifying before the Senate group, Talbott had acknowledged some mistakes of judgment but denied steadfastly using his office to promote business for the Mulligan company. In resigning, he told the President he remained "clear in my mind and conscience" that his activities had been within the bounds of ethics.

Eisenhower complimented Talbott for "fine accomplishments" as Air Force boss but accepted his decision to resign as "the right one."

Speculation continued over who would move into the post when Talbott departs on Aug. 13. Eisenhower asked Talbott to stay on that long to supervise some "critical programming activities."

Among those mentioned were James Douglas, present undersecretary, and Lee White, New York lawyer who formerly was an assistant secretary.

Lawmakers To Finish Work Today

Resolution Sent To President Noting Body Ready To Quit

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Aug. 2 (AP)—The first session of the 84th Congress adjourned amid barbershop harmonizing early today after passing a mass of bills but shunting a lot of hot issues over to 1956.

Adjournment came at 12:05 a. m. when the Senate quit until Jan. 3, 1956, barring an unforeseen call to a special session. The House had already knocked off work at 11:36 p. m.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Congress reached the brink of adjournment tonight.

The House passed a resolution authorizing a delegation to notify President Eisenhower formally that Congress was ready to quit unless the chief executive had a message for the lawmakers.

On a voice vote, the Senate approved a resolution to adjourn the first session of the 84th Congress sine die (finally) sometime tonight.

The resolution then went to the House. No hour was fixed in it. The exact quitting time remained to be determined when the last of the two branches to remain in session completed its work.

The day's rush for adjournment brought House passage of a compromise housing bill. GOP leaders said the President doesn't like it. At first they said the President might veto it and call a special session of Congress this fall to draft a new housing program. But later the word was passed that this was unlikely.

Round Of Applause

There was a round of applause when the House took its first formal step toward adjournment with its presidential notification resolution. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) appointed majority leader McCormack (D-Mass) and minority leader Martin (R-Mass) to represent the House on the delegation.

Then, before taking a brief recess until later in the evening, the House passed without debate a compromise bill extending the Defense Production Act for one year. The Senate had approved it on a voice vote earlier.

Earlier the House disposed of another barrier to adjournment, passing a compromise $98,808,972 legislative appropriation bill to finance the operation of Congress during the current fiscal year and give pay raises to staff members of both the House and Senate.

The Senate still had to act on this legislation.

At 6 p.m. it looked like the Senate still had several hours of work ahead of it.

The Senate passed up an opportunity to act on a House-approved bill to give larger quotas of the American sugar market to domestic producers. The bill was surrounded by controversy, and sponsors conceded it was dead for this session.

One of the hottest eleventh hour issues was disposed of when the House passed 187-168 and sent to the White House, an omnibus housing bill including, among other things, authority for the government to help finance 45,000 public housing units in the next year.

Asked For 70,000 Units

President Eisenhower had asked for 70,000 units in two years. His request had hard sledding in Congress (House Republicans and Southern Democrats combined to knock out any public housing on the bill's first go around).

Among other features, the bill provides for 100,000 units of military housing, a 500 million dollar investment in slum clearance, expansion of FHA mortgage insurance, and extension of other phases of the housing program.

As congressional ranks grew thinner by the hour, Senate Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) said Republican leaders still hoped to get action on atomic ship legislation, and legislation to end the month-old Washington transit strike.

West Germany Plans Atomic Reactor

BONN, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—West Germany will build an atomic reactor at Karlsruhe, the government said today.

The announcement stated that since the end of the Allied occupation last May all possibilities of utilizing atomic energy for peaceful purpose have been under study.

The government said further details of construction and operation of the station had yet to be settled in negotiations between industry and federal and state authorities.

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP) — A 60-year-old man shouting he had been given a "raw deal" in a nonsupport case went beserk in Cumberland County Court today, whipping out a .38 calibre pistol and killing an attorney. Three others, including Judge Mark E. Garber, were wounded.

The gun wielder, identified as Percy Haines, 60, was taken into custody after a brief hand-to-hand struggle with George Geiger, court reporter, who took the gun from the man and held it until police arrived.

Airman's Wife Remarried

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—The wife of Daniel C. Schmidt, one of 11 American airmen released by the Chinese Communists, was quoted by the Sacramento Bee today as saying she had remarried in the belief Schmidt was dead.

The former Una Schmidt said she wed Alford D. Fine of Soda Springs, Calif., last September after being informed Schmidt's plane had been shot down in Korea.

Mrs. Fine said she believed Schmidt had been killed.

Alvin S. Trivelpiece, a correspondent for the Sacramento Bee, said the 20-year-old woman told him in Soda Springs that she and Schmidt were married May 24, 1952, but had only five weeks together before he was sent overseas.

She said she received word in January, 1953, that A.2.C. Schmidt, was aboard a plane that had been shot down. She said a son was born to her and Schmidt March 31, 1953.

"In September, 1954, I married Alford Fine, believing my husband was dead," the Bee reporter quoted her.

"In November, 1954, I received word my husband was a prisoner and had been sentenced to a term of four years. I should have obtained an annulment immediately, but I made the mistake of not doing so.

"I intend to meet my husband when he arrives from overseas. We have a great deal to discuss, including the future of our son.

Four Candidates Neck And Neck In Miss. Race

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 2 (AP) — Four candidates for governor of Mississippi stepped off neck and neck in early, scattered returns in the Democratic primary election tonight.

Voters braved cloudy skies and rain to take their choice among five candidates who all promised to keep Negroes out of white schools.

A record vote was indicated for the Democratic primary. Long ballots mean a trend in the governor's race may not be established until tomorrow.

In the lineup:

Former Gov. Fielding Wright, founder of the 1948 States Rights party; Mrs. Mary Cain, newspaperwoman known for her fight against compulsory social security; Paul Johnson, son of a former governor making his third try; Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, making his first statewide race; and Ross Barnett, Jackson attorney.

With unofficial returns from 42 of 1851 precincts reporting, Wright led with 1,049 votes; Johnson 943; Coleman 914; Barnett 703; and Mrs. Cain 172.

None is expected to get the needed majority. This will call for a runoff primary between the top two Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Gov. High White is ineligible to succeed himself.

In all, 24 state positions will be filled in the primaries. Democratic nomination is the same as election in Mississippi.

In most cases, the Republicans don't even bother to run in the November general election.

State Republicans have not set a primary date this year.

The polls opened at 7 a.m. They close at 6 p.m.

Old timers in the Capitol predicted the total vote will run about 425,000 despite the rain.

All the candidates for governor have assured the voters they favor segregated schools. They differ only on the method of retaining segregation.

British Keep Watch For 11 Freed Airmen

Fliers Are Scheduled To Arrive Tomorrow In Hong Kong, China

HONG KONG, Aug. 2 (AP)—British patrols kept special watch on the border tonight to welcome 11 American airmen, being freed by Red China, if they show up before their scheduled arrival Thursday.

Peiping announced yesterday the airmen — crew of a B29 Superfortress shot down Jan. 12, 1953, on what U. S. officials called a routine leaflet-dropping mission over North Korea — are expected to reach Hong Kong Thursday.

But officials of this British crown colony believe the group, sentenced last November to prison terms ranging up to 10 years on a charge of spying, may arrive earlier.

12 Hours Ahead

In any event Hong Kong is 12 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time and news of the men's emergence from the Bamboo Curtain may reach the United States Wednesday, U. S. time.

In Washington the U. S. Air Force announced the men will be flown direct to the West Coast after a stay of two or three days in the Philippines.

Families of the airmen who desire to go will be flown to either Travis Air Base near San Francisco or McChord Air Base near Seattle for a reunion with their menfolk.

An Air Force officer indicated the group, headed by Col. John Knox Arnold of Silver Spring, Md., will be headed home from Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport within two to four hours after crossing the border. Two C54s, four-engine transports, are to make the flight.

Taken To Club

The men will be taken first to the Fanling Jockey Club for medical examinations and outfitting in new uniforms. Under present arrangements, only one photographer and one reporter, representing news media on a pool basis, will be permitted to see and talk with the men briefly.

Newsmen gathered here to report the fliers' arrival protested this limitation on the coverage. However, Air Force Attache O.W. D. Simpson told them individual interviews will not be allowed, "according to my instructions from Washington."

The Hong Kong community generally feels release of the 11 is a good omen for the current U. S.-Chinese talks in Geneva and a forerunner to release of U. S. civilians still held in Red China.

CONFIRMED—The nomination of Harold C. Patterson, above, by President Eisenhower to fill a Democratic vacancy on the Securities and Exchange Commission was confirmed yesterday by the Senate.

Butler Assails Talbott As Not Being Punished

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler today pounced on Harold E. Talbott's resignation as secretary of the Air Force as "a case of unpunished unethical conduct."

He accused President Eisenhower of sidestepping an "unpleasant responsibility" with his "friendly acceptance" last night of Talbott's resignation.

Butler's acidly phrased statement came out after several Republican senators expressed doubt the affair could be kept burning as a political issue next year.

As for the Senate Investigations subcommittee's search into Talbott's outside business interests, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) indicated the case is just about closed.

McClellan told newsmen the subcommittee would "have an announcement within a day or two," but added: "There is no immediate probability that any further hearings will be held in the Talbott matter."

The inquiry had led directly to Talbott's tender of resignation in order to spare the administration any "embarrassment." The subcommittee had been primarily concerned with Talbott's partnership in the New York management engineering firm of Paul B. Mulligan and Co., a connection which earned him $132,032 in the 2½ years he served as secretary.

Testifying before the Senate group, Talbott had acknowledged some mistakes of judgment but denied steadfastly using his office to promote business for the Mulligan company. In resigning, he told the President he remained "clear in my mind and conscience" that his activities had been within the bounds of ethics.

Eisenhower complimented Talbott for "fine accomplishments" as Air Force boss but accepted his decision to resign as "the right one."

Speculation continued over who would move into the post when Talbott departs on Aug. 13. Eisenhower asked Talbott to stay on that long to supervise some "critical programming activities."

Among those mentioned were James Douglas, present undersecretary, and Lee White, New York lawyer who formerly was an assistant secretary.

Soviet Group Sees Harvest

REDFIELD, S. D., Aug. 2 (AP)—The Soviet farm delegation went out today to see wheat harvesting on South Dakota farms.

The Russians stopped this morning in Mitchell to visit the famous Corn Palace there. They bought indian souvenirs and listened to a brief talk by one of the guides on the history of the ornate structure whose domes are a little reminiscent of those on St. Basil's Cathedral in Moscow.

They lunched here in Redfield and then went out to see the farms of Wiley Bloom and G. Fredericks near here. Their destination for the night was Aberdeen.

John Strom, American coordinator for the tour said that the Russian delegates have been invited to visit the 173,000-acre Keeline Ranch at Gillette, Wyo. owned by the Keeline Oil and Uranium Co.

Lawmakers To Finish Work Today

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Aug. 2 (AP)—The first session of the 84th Congress adjourned amid barbershop harmonizing early today after passing a mass of bills but shunting a lot of hot issues over to 1956.

Adjournment came at 12:05 a. m. when the Senate quit until Jan. 3, 1956, barring an unforeseen call to a special session. The House had already knocked off work at 11:36 p. m.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Congress reached the brink of adjournment tonight.

The House passed a resolution authorizing a delegation to notify President Eisenhower formally that Congress was ready to quit unless the chief executive had a message for the lawmakers.

On a voice vote, the Senate approved a resolution to adjourn the first session of the 84th Congress sine die (finally) sometime tonight.

The resolution then went to the House. No hour was fixed in it. The exact quitting time remained to be determined when the last of the two branches to remain in session completed its work.

The day's rush for adjournment brought House passage of a compromise housing bill. GOP leaders said the President doesn't like it. At first they said the President might veto it and call a special session of Congress this fall to draft a new housing program. But later the word was passed that this was unlikely.

Round Of Applause

There was a round of applause when the House took its first formal step toward adjournment with its presidential notification resolution. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) appointed majority leader McCormack (D-Mass) and minority leader Martin (R-Mass) to represent the House on the delegation.

Then, before taking a brief recess until later in the evening, the House passed without debate a compromise bill extending the Defense Production Act for one year. The Senate had approved it on a voice vote earlier.

Earlier the House disposed of another barrier to adjournment, passing a compromise $98,808,972 legislative appropriation bill to finance the operation of Congress during the current fiscal year and give pay raises to staff members of both the House and Senate.

The Senate still had to act on this legislation.

At 6 p.m. it looked like the Senate still had several hours of work ahead of it.

The Senate passed up an opportunity to act on a House-approved bill to give larger quotas of the American sugar market to domestic producers. The bill was surrounded by controversy, and sponsors conceded it was dead for this session.

One of the hottest eleventh hour issues was disposed of when the House passed 187-168 and sent to the White House, an omnibus housing bill including, among other things, authority for the government to help finance 45,000 public housing units in the next year.

Asked For 70,000 Units

President Eisenhower had asked for 70,000 units in two years. His request had hard sledding in Congress (House Republicans and Southern Democrats combined to knock out any public housing on the bill's first go around).

Among other features, the bill provides for 100,000 units of military housing, a 500 million dollar investment in slum clearance, expansion of FHA mortgage insurance, and extension of other phases of the housing program.

As congressional ranks grew thinner by the hour, Senate Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) said Republican leaders still hoped to get action on atomic ship legislation, and legislation to end the month-old Washington transit strike.

Workmen Get Coins From Niagara River

Plan Locust Defense

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP)—Defense plans against locust plagues which have scourged the Middle East since biblical times will be made at an international conference starting in Syria Aug. 4 and sponsored by the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

Russians To Attend

Former Jap Minister Says Firing Of M'Arthur Unjust

TOKYO, Wednesday, Aug. 3 (AP)—Former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida says Gen. Douglas MacArthur was right in wanting to attack Manchuria in the Korean War and that this would not have provoked World War III.

"The general was dismissed because of his strong insistence on attacking across the Yalu River into Manchuria," Yoshida writes in his memoirs now running in Asahi Shimbun, Japan's largest newspaper.

"This idea conflicted with that of President Truman—but I do believe that MacArthur had real insight.

"If the Americans had crossed the border then and marched on, I think relations between Red China and Russia would have become something different from what they are today, and the world situation would be also much changed.

(Actually, MacArthur did not propose a U.S. march into Manchuria. He wanted to bomb Red Chinese air bases there, and proposed that Nationalist Chinese troops be used for a diversionary attack on the Red mainland.)

"I do not believe a march onward into Manchuria would have touched off World War III. In those days, the free nations had renewed their strength, but on the Russian part the Eastern European situation was unstable and had not firmed up."

The 76-year-old prime minister who was friendly to the United States was driven from office by a conservative revolt last December. He still is a political power as an elder statesman of his Liberal party.

Issue Draft Call

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 10,000 men in October, the same quota previously announced for each of the last five months.

The new call brings to 1,948,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since Selective service was resumed in September, 1950.

Troops Withdrawn

KLAGENFURT, Austria, Aug. 2 (AP) — Britain began withdrawing troops from Austria today.

Students Return To Commie China

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Twelve Chinese students returned to Communist China today from the United States, Peiping radio reported.

They were not identified but presumably were among the 76 Chinese students who earlier this year were permitted to leave the United States if they wished.

Peiping radio said only that the 12 were given a warm welcome at Canton by a "returned students reception committee."

Population Grows

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (AP)—Canada's population has passed 15,600,000. The Bureau of Statistics today reported its June 1 population estimate was 15,601,000, up 2.7 per cent from June 1, 1954.

Death Of Mother Ends Odd Hollywood Triangle

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—Death today shattered a domestic triangle in which, police say, a 20-year-old girl, her 41-year-old sweetheart and his wife lived together.

The girl, Alice Huff, committed suicide by swallowing about 25 sleeping pills in the bungalow court apartment she shared with Jacob Traub and his wife, Ada, officers reported.

Detectives A. E. Urzik and C. B. Turner quoted Traub as saying Miss Huff was "devoted to me" and that his wife agreed to the situation.

The officers quoted him as saying Miss Huff was three months pregnant and that he fathered her unborn child.

Traub sadly told the detectives: "Alice and Ada used to race each other to see who would make my breakfast in the morning."

She left a note giving Traub custody of her 2½-year-old daughter, Caroline, "as long as Ada Traub has no say in the matter."

Traub said he and the girl had several drinks last night at a nearby bar and then returned to the apartment.

"My wife and I got into an argument and Alice went into the other room to change her clothes," Traub added. "When she came out, she was very pale. A few minutes later she collapsed."

She was dead on arrival at Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

Traub, asked his wife's views of the love affair, replied with a shrug:

"When you get in your late thirties those things don't mean so much to you."

The police report did not say how long the three had lived together, nor did it give the wife's age.

Traub and his wife said they both want custody of the child, Caroline. They said they don't know the identity of the father.

West Germany Plans Atomic Reactor

BONN, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—West Germany will build an atomic reactor at Karlsruhe, the government said today.

The announcement stated that since the end of the Allied occupation last May all possibilities of utilizing atomic energy for peaceful purpose have been under study.

The government said further details of construction and operation of the station had yet to be settled in negotiations between industry and federal and state authorities.

Dixon Story Goes To Justice Dept. For Perjury Look

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Edgar H. Dixon's story of negotiations leading up to the Dixon-Yates contract was referred to the Justice Department today for a check on whether he has opened himself to a perjury charge.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said there were "glaring conflicts" in testimony Dixon gave before a Senate subcommittee investigating the controversial private power contract, now ordered cancelled by President Eisenhower.

Daniel James, Dixon's attorney, told Kefauver he resented any implication that the utility magnate had not told a straight story. "His testimony has been consistent throughout," James said.

On motion of Sen. Langer (R-ND), however, the subcommittee voted to refer the transcript to the Justice Department for study. "This is a serious matter," Langer said.

Kefauver, who heads the inquiry group, said there were conflicts in the testimony Dixon gave before the Securities and Exchange Commission and the subcommittee, particularly with the reference to the activities of Adolphe H. Wenzell, a key figure in the probe.

As president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., Dixon was one of the principal promoters of a plan to build a 107-million-dollar private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., under federal auspices.

Wenzell was a Budget Bureau consultant at the same time as he was serving as a vice president of the First Boston Corp., a New York financial house which later became fiscal agent for the Dixon-Yates interests on the contract.

Senators have suggested that Wenzell's dual role during the negotiations might have violated the conflict of interests statute. They have also accused the administration of covering up Wenzell's role, although Eisenhower has said it was a perfectly proper one.

Kefauver asserted there were not only conflicts in Dixon's testimony, but that some of his statements were diametrically opposed to statements made under oath by Wenzell.

With the Dixon-Yates contract now out the window, the comptroller general's office has advised Kefauver's subcommittee that the government can escape liability for cancellation only if it can prove there was wrongdoing.

Frank H. Weitzel, assistant comptroller general, said in a long opinion on the case that "questions of possible conflict of interest and public policy" have been raised at the Senate hearings.

"Without attempting to suggest the particular course of administrative action in such circumstances," Weitzel wrote, "We believe there should be considered appropriate means to protect the interests of the United States should it develop that the government is entitled to relief from liability on the ground of public policy."

Crown Prince Of Bavaria Dies Of Heart Attack

STARNBERG, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—Crown Prince Rupprecht, a nobleman who wanted to be king of Bavaria, died today at 86.

His eldest son, Prince Albrecht, 50, succeeds him as pretender to the Bavarian throne, which fell in Germany's socialist revolution of 1918.

Prince Rupprecht suffered a heart attack over the weekend. His two sons and five daughters were at his bedside when the end came. A family priest administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Millions of Bavarians, including thousands of diehard followers who called him "King Rupprecht," mourned his passing.

To them Rupprecht, a field marshal in World War I and a foe of Hitler in the Third Reich, was a symbol of the good old days.

Rupprecht was a member of the House of Wittelsbach, which ruled Bavaria more than seven centuries.

Despite the 1918 upheaval, Rupprecht maintained that a true German federated state had room for a re-established Bavarian kingdon.

In 1953 several thousand nostalgic Bavarians gathered in Munich for the first public celebration of his birthday since 1918.

Last year his birthday was marked by 10 days of celebrations. Crowds sang "Heil, Our King, Heil," and special services were conducted by the Evangelical, Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox churches.

The dapper old crown prince, tall and white-mustached, opposed the Nazis from their rise in the early 1930s until their downfall in 1945.

Man Sentenced For False Testimony

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—Calvin A. Vaughn, 24, was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in jail for falsely confessing to the slaying of Nancy Shomette and Michael Ryan.

Vaughn retracted his confession after police determined he did not know where the slayings took place. The two girls were killed by shots from a .22 rifle.

Church Council Opens Meeting

DAVOS, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (AP)—Faced with the task of laying down a Christian program of action in world affairs, the World Council of Churches opened its annual meeting today.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, who is chairman of the session, described it as one of the most important in the Council's history.

3,122 Persons Visit Maryland Statehouse

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Department of Information reports 3,122 persons visited Maryland's historic statehouse during July, a new record for the month.

The previous high for July was in 1953 when 2,293 registered.

July's total brought the seven month total to 36,885, compared with the 43,542 who toured the old building during the 12 months of 1954.

Last month's visitors came from 40 states and eight foreign countries.

Trio Arrested In Connection With Robbery

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 2 (AP)—Three men were arrested today in connection with an armed attack last night on property of strike-hampered Capitol Transit Co.

Authorities quoted two of them as admitting their presence at the time and of accusing the third man of the shooting. The third man refused to make a statement.

Police, meanwhile, were put on a 48-hour week, instead of a 40-hour week, to bolster the guard against further outbreaks of violence.

Gov. Orval Faubus, after conferring today with Little Rock Mayor Pratt Remmel about possible ways to curb the violence, said he was hopeful the arrests would stop the series of incidents.

Faubus said Remmel did not request that the National Guard be called out, as the mayor had indicated he might. The governor said Remmel told him he would make such a request if the violence continued.

None of the three men arrested today has any present or past connection with either the transit company, which serves Little Rock and North Little Rock, or with a striking AFL Union of bus drivers and mechanics.

Tennessee — Baker.
Democrats against:
Virginia — Abbitt, Gary, Hardy, Harrison, Robeson, Smith.
Tennessee — Murray.
Republicans against:
Virginia — Broyhill, Poff.
Maryland — Devereux, Hyde, Miller.

Youth Is Killed Stealing Gas

FERNDALE, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—William H. Bruchey, 18, of Baltimore, was shot and killed early today by one of the operators of a building materials plant at nearby Severn.

Anne Arundel County police said Bruchey and a 19-year-old companion apparently were trying to syphon gasoline out of one of the firm's trucks.

James H. Ringgold, owner of the plant, said he and his 29-year-old son, Raymond, spotted some figures at the truck about 12:30 a.m.

The younger Ringgold said he went into his home and got a .22 rifle and four bullets. He said he challenged the two figures and fired a shot in the air when they ran. When they jumped in a car, he fired three shots after them.

The car turned up a short time later at the Ft. Meade Army Hospital, where Bruchey was pronounced dead and his companion was taken into custody.

Tawes Reveals State Ledgers In Good Shape

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP)—Comptroller J. Millard Tawes took a long look at the State's ledgers today, found an unencumbered surplus of nearly four million dollars and announced, "our position at present is good."

The Tawes statement of today contrasts mightily with the hue and cry heard at the Legislature earlier this year when budget experts predicted Maryland would squeeze through with a surplus of less than $200,000.

The State bookkeepers like to see a surplus of at least two million dollars to guard against unanticipated drops in revenue.

The Tawes treasury statement was reckoned on the basis of last June 30 when Maryland ended the fiscal year.

More revenue than was expected from sales and income taxes built up the plush financial cushion.

The unencumbered surplus of $3,926,381 puts Maryland in a position of being better off by $2,680,446 than it was when the previous fiscal year ended. At that time there was a surplus of $6,004,533, but $4,758,598 of it was tied up.

The income tax produced $1,006,008 more than had been expected, and the sales tax brought in a windfall of an extra $807,565.

Together, these two taxes account for about 70 per cent of Maryland's revenue.

Tawes' report on the fiscal year which ended June 30 showed some indications of extremely close bookkeeping.

Agencies are supposed to return to the treasury what they don't spend.

Of the agencies sending money back to the State till, seven reverted amounts of $10 or less.

The Geology and Water Resources branch of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, for instance, forthrightly admitted it had 25 cents left over and returned that sum to Tawes.

The Maryland Racing Commission had a surplus too modes to buy a $2 ticket—$1.63. But the second lowest reversion came from a branch of the comptroller's own office—the Bureau of Revenue Estimates. It had 97 cents left over.

Tito Promises U.S. Cooperation

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP) — President Tito has pledged cooperation and friendship with the United States regardless of extension of American aid, Belgrade radio said tonight.

"I would like to say to the American people that Yugoslavia, just as she did in the hours of trial, still looks upon the American people and upon America as a country in which she can have confidence," Tito was quoted as saying.

Tito's pledge was given to a group of visiting Americans headed by Huntley Dupre, dean of Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., on July 25. Later that week there were reports that the United States might cut aid if Yugoslavia undertook production of Soviet MIG fighters.

Congress Sends Bill To End Transit Strike To President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Congress sent to the White House tonight a bill that could end the 33-day-old bus and street car strike in the nation's capital.

The bill is a compromise worked out by Senate-House conferees and then approved by both Houses. It would enable the District of Columbia commissioners to arrange with Capital Transit Co. or some other firm for service in the next 12 months. At the end of that time the District's governing body could revoke the franchise of Capital Transit, which is controlled by financier Louis Wolfson.

In the interim the District could prescribe wage terms for the AFL bus and street car workers who walked out July 1 in a dispute over pay and other benefits. The District also would stand any financial loss during the year.

The compromise bill, last major barrier to congressional adjournment, eliminated a Senate provision that would have permitted the District commissioners to seize Capital Transit Co. House spokesmen insisted their colleagues would never accept such a solution.

The District commissioners administer the capital's local government, but only under authority granted by Congress.

Capital Transit Co. offered last week to surrender its franchise after a year and turn its lines over to the District in the meantime if stockholders approved. The House bill taken into conference would in effect have accepted that arrangement.

The transit workers struck to back up their demand for a 25-cent increase for operators, who had been making $1.90 an hour, and a 31-cent boost for top mechanics, who had been paid $2.09.

Soldier Is Killed, One Hurt In Crash

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—One solider was killed late last night and another was critically injured when their car went out of control of Maryland 103, hit a utility pole and burst into flames.

Both men were members of the 89th Anti-Aircraft Battalion manning an emplacement near Towson.

John F. Comer, 19, of LaFollette, Tenn., was killed outright. Bobby G. Shroeder, 21, of Dexter, Ky., is under treatment in a Baltimore hospital for burns, a broken leg, and other injuries.

Poet Succumbs

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Pulitzer prize-winning poet Wallace Stevens, 75, whose career in verse spanned more than four decades, died today at St. Francis Hospital.

Swimmer Fails In Record Bid

NEW MADRID, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP)—Argentina's Antonio Abertondo, bleeding from fish bites, failed today in his second bid to swim some 300 miles down the Mississippi and was hauled unconscious from the river.

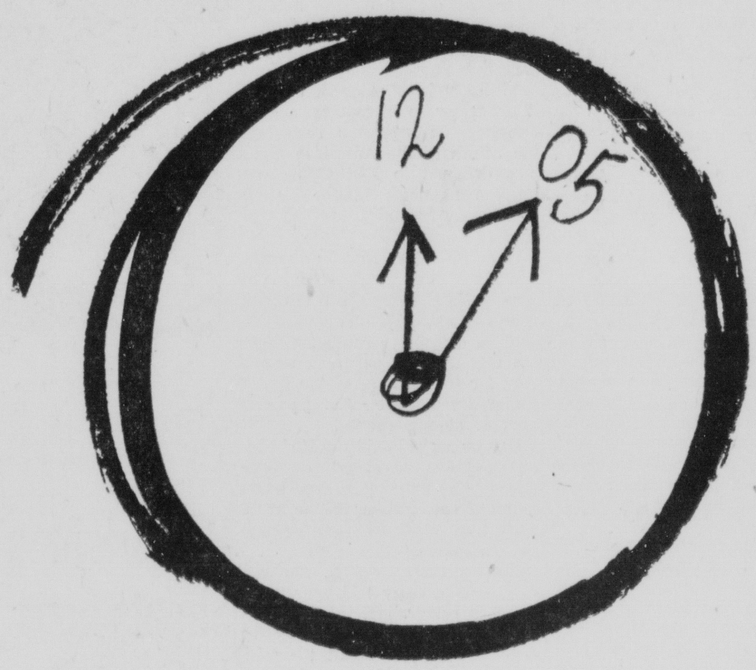

The 37-year-old swimmer, three-time conqueror of the English Channel, had covered 221 miles and had been in the water 65 hours and 17 minutes. He started at St. Louis Saturday.

In the early morning darkness a strong current swept Abertondo three miles into the lesser channel of the river at Bend Island No. 8, some 14 miles upstream from here. The swimmer and members of the party accompanying him by boat thought he had been carried into a tributary, and he fought his way back upstream against the 4-m.p.h. current.

He was overcome as he reached the main channel, and was lifted into the boat with straps.

"His whole body was literally covered with fish bites," said a spokesman for the group. "This brave man. He didn't say a thing about them. We didn't know he had been bitten until we pulled him out."

Still champion for the 292-mile swim from St. Louis to Caruthersville, Mo., is John Sigmund, St. Louis butcher.

Dixon Story Goes To Justice Dept. For Perjury Look

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Edgar H. Dixon's story of negotiations leading up to the Dixon-Yates contract was referred to the Justice Department today for a check on whether he has opened himself to a perjury charge.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said there were "glaring conflicts" in testimony Dixon gave before a Senate subcommittee investigating the controversial private power contract, now ordered cancelled by President Eisenhower.

Daniel James, Dixon's attorney, told Kefauver he resented any implication that the utility magnate had not told a straight story. "His testimony has been consistent throughout," James said.

On motion of Sen. Langer (R-ND), however, the subcommittee voted to refer the transcript to the Justice Department for study. "This is a serious matter," Langer said.

Kefauver, who heads the inquiry group, said there were conflicts in the testimony Dixon gave before the Securities and Exchange Commission and the subcommittee, particularly with the reference to the activities of Adolphe H. Wenzell, a key figure in the probe.

As president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., Dixon was one of the principal promoters of a plan to build a 107-million-dollar private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., under federal auspices.

Wenzell was a Budget Bureau consultant at the same time as he was serving as a vice president of the First Boston Corp., a New York financial house which later became fiscal agent for the Dixon-Yates interests on the contract.

Senators have suggested that Wenzell's dual role during the negotiations might have violated the conflict of interests statute. They have also accused the administration of covering up Wenzell's role, although Eisenhower has said it was a perfectly proper one.

Kefauver asserted there were not only conflicts in Dixon's testimony, but that some of his statements were diametrically opposed to statements made under oath by Wenzell.

With the Dixon-Yates contract now out the window, the comptroller general's office has advised Kefauver's subcommittee that the government can escape liability for cancellation only if it can prove there was wrongdoing.

Frank H. Weitzel, assistant comptroller general, said in a long opinion on the case that "questions of possible conflict of interest and public policy" have been raised at the Senate hearings.

"Without attempting to suggest the particular course of administrative action in such circumstances," Weitzel wrote, "We believe there should be considered appropriate means to protect the interests of the United States should it develop that the government is entitled to relief from liability on the ground of public policy."

Crown Prince Of Bavaria Dies Of Heart Attack

STARNBERG, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—Crown Prince Rupprecht, a nobleman who wanted to be king of Bavaria, died today at 86.

His eldest son, Prince Albrecht, 50, succeeds him as pretender to the Bavarian throne, which fell in Germany's socialist revolution of 1918.

Prince Rupprecht suffered a heart attack over the weekend. His two sons and five daughters were at his bedside when the end came. A family priest administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Millions of Bavarians, including thousands of diehard followers who called him "King Rupprecht," mourned his passing.

To them Rupprecht, a field marshal in World War I and a foe of Hitler in the Third Reich, was a symbol of the good old days.

Rupprecht was a member of the House of Wittelsbach, which ruled Bavaria more than seven centuries.

Despite the 1918 upheaval, Rupprecht maintained that a true German federated state had room for a re-established Bavarian kingdon.

In 1953 several thousand nostalgic Bavarians gathered in Munich for the first public celebration of his birthday since 1918.

Last year his birthday was marked by 10 days of celebrations. Crowds sang "Heil, Our King, Heil," and special services were conducted by the Evangelical, Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox churches.

The dapper old crown prince, tall and white-mustached, opposed the Nazis from their rise in the early 1930s until their downfall in 1945.

Man Sentenced For False Testimony

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—Calvin A. Vaughn, 24, was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in jail for falsely confessing to the slaying of Nancy Shomette and Michael Ryan.

Vaughn retracted his confession after police determined he did not know where the slayings took place. The two girls were killed by shots from a .22 rifle.

3,122 Persons Visit Maryland Statehouse

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Department of Information reports 3,122 persons visited Maryland's historic statehouse during July, a new record for the month.

The previous high for July was in 1953 when 2,293 registered.

July's total brought the seven month total to 36,885, compared with the 43,542 who toured the old building during the 12 months of 1954.

Last month's visitors came from 40 states and eight foreign countries.

Church Council Opens Meeting

DAVOS, Switzerland, Aug. 2 (AP)—Faced with the task of laying down a Christian program of action in world affairs, the World Council of Churches opened its annual meeting today.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, who is chairman of the session, described it as one of the most important in the Council's history.

CHILDREN REUNITED — Two-year-old George Connelly, left, who was found in a church in Wilmington, a week ago, and his three-year-old sister, Veronica, who was found in a Baltimore department store at the same time are led from court in Wilmington by their aunt, Mrs. Joseph Lawler, of New Gardens, N. Y., who was given custody of the children yesterday.

Trio Arrested In Connection With Robbery

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 2 (AP)—Three men were arrested today in connection with an armed attack last night on property of strike-hampered Capitol Transit Co.

Authorities quoted two of them as admitting their presence at the time and of accusing the third man of the shooting. The third man refused to make a statement.

Police, meanwhile, were put on a 48-hour week, instead of a 40-hour week, to bolster the guard against further outbreaks of violence.

Gov. Orval Faubus, after conferring today with Little Rock Mayor Pratt Remmel about possible ways to curb the violence, said he was hopeful the arrests would stop the series of incidents.

Faubus said Remmel did not request that the National Guard be called out, as the mayor had indicated he might. The governor said Remmel told him he would make such a request if the violence continued.

None of the three men arrested today has any present or past connection with either the transit company, which serves Little Rock and North Little Rock, or with a striking AFL Union of bus drivers and mechanics.

Maryland — Devereux, Hyde, Miller.

Youth Is Killed Stealing Gas

FERNDALE, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—William H. Bruchey, 18, of Baltimore, was shot and killed early today by one of the operators of a building materials plant at nearby Severn.

Anne Arundel County police said Bruchey and a 19-year-old companion apparently were trying to syphon gasoline out of one of the firm's trucks.

James H. Ringgold, owner of the plant, said he and his 29-year-old son, Raymond, spotted some figures at the truck about 12:30 a.m.

The younger Ringgold said he went into his home and got a .22 rifle and four bullets. He said he challenged the two figures and fired a shot in the air when they ran. When they jumped in a car, he fired three shots after them.

The car turned up a short time later at the Ft. Meade Army Hospital, where Bruchey was pronounced dead and his companion was taken into custody.

Tawes Reveals State Ledgers In Good Shape

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP)—Comptroller J. Millard Tawes took a long look at the State's ledgers today, found an unencumbered surplus of nearly four million dollars and announced, "our position at present is good."

The Tawes statement of today contrasts mightily with the hue and cry heard at the Legislature earlier this year when budget experts predicted Maryland would squeeze through with a surplus of less than $200,000.

The State bookkeepers like to see a surplus of at least two million dollars to guard against unanticipated drops in revenue.

The Tawes treasury statement was reckoned on the basis of last June 30 when Maryland ended the fiscal year.

More revenue than was expected from sales and income taxes built up the plush financial cushion.

The unencumbered surplus of $3,926,381 puts Maryland in a position of being better off by $2,680,446 than it was when the previous fiscal year ended. At that time there was a surplus of $6,004,533, but $4,758,598 of it was tied up.

The income tax produced $1,006,008 more than had been expected, and the sales tax brought in a windfall of an extra $807,565.

Together, these two taxes account for about 70 per cent of Maryland's revenue.

Tawes' report on the fiscal year which ended June 30 showed some indications of extremely close bookkeeping.

Agencies are supposed to return to the treasury what they don't spend.

Of the agencies sending money back to the State till, seven reverted amounts of $10 or less.

The Geology and Water Resources branch of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, for instance, forthrightly admitted it had 25 cents left over and returned that sum to Tawes.

The Maryland Racing Commission had a surplus too modes to buy a $2 ticket—$1.63. But the second lowest reversion came from a branch of the comptroller's own office—the Bureau of Revenue Estimates. It had 97 cents left over.

Tito Promises U.S. Cooperation

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP) — President Tito has pledged cooperation and friendship with the United States regardless of extension of American aid, Belgrade radio said tonight.

"I would like to say to the American people that Yugoslavia, just as she did in the hours of trial, still looks upon the American people and upon America as a country in which she can have confidence," Tito was quoted as saying.

Tito's pledge was given to a group of visiting Americans headed by Huntley Dupre, dean of Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., on July 25. Later that week there were reports that the United States might cut aid if Yugoslavia undertook production of Soviet MIG fighters.

Congress Sends Bill To End Transit Strike To President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Congress sent to the White House tonight a bill that could end the 33-day-old bus and street car strike in the nation's capital.

The bill is a compromise worked out by Senate-House conferees and then approved by both Houses. It would enable the District of Columbia commissioners to arrange with Capital Transit Co. or some other firm for service in the next 12 months. At the end of that time the District's governing body could revoke the franchise of Capital Transit, which is controlled by financier Louis Wolfson.

In the interim the District could prescribe wage terms for the AFL bus and street car workers who walked out July 1 in a dispute over pay and other benefits. The District also would stand any financial loss during the year.

The compromise bill, last major barrier to congressional adjournment, eliminated a Senate provision that would have permitted the District commissioners to seize Capital Transit Co. House spokesmen insisted their colleagues would never accept such a solution.

The District commissioners administer the capital's local government, but only under authority granted by Congress.

Capital Transit Co. offered last week to surrender its franchise after a year and turn its lines over to the District in the meantime if stockholders approved. The House bill taken into conference would in effect have accepted that arrangement.

The transit workers struck to back up their demand for a 25-cent increase for operators, who had been making $1.90 an hour, and a 31-cent boost for top mechanics, who had been paid $2.09.

Soldier Is Killed, One Hurt In Crash

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., Aug. 2 (AP)—One solider was killed late last night and another was critically injured when their car went out of control of Maryland 103, hit a utility pole and burst into flames.

Both men were members of the 89th Anti-Aircraft Battalion manning an emplacement near Towson.

John F. Comer, 19, of LaFollette, Tenn., was killed outright. Bobby G. Shroeder, 21, of Dexter, Ky., is under treatment in a Baltimore hospital for burns, a broken leg, and other injuries.

Poet Succumbs

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Pulitzer prize-winning poet Wallace Stevens, 75, whose career in verse spanned more than four decades, died today at St. Francis Hospital.

Swimmer Fails In Record Bid

NEW MADRID, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP)—Argentina's Antonio Abertondo, bleeding from fish bites, failed today in his second bid to swim some 300 miles down the Mississippi and was hauled unconscious from the river.

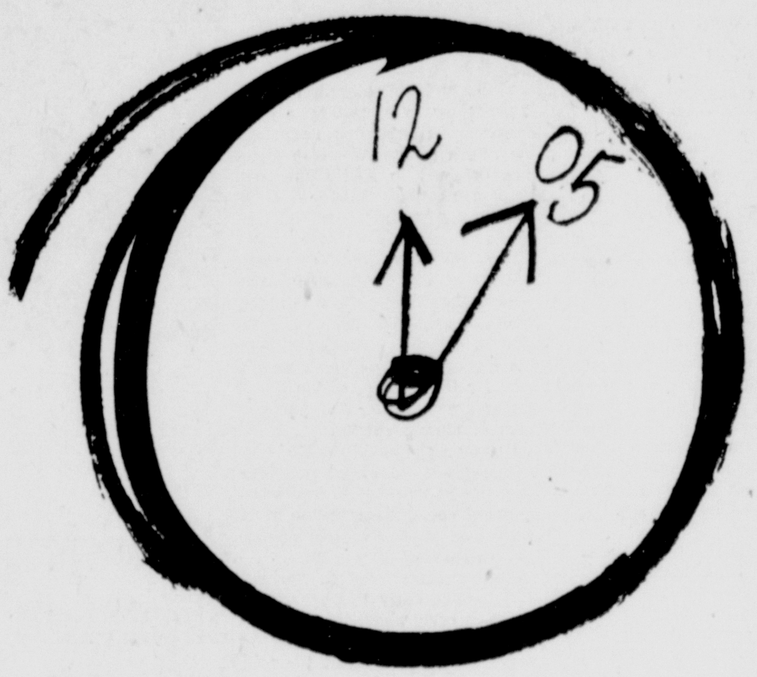

The 37-year-old swimmer, three-time conqueror of the English Channel, had covered 221 miles and had been in the water 65 hours and 17 minutes. He started at St. Louis Saturday.

In the early morning darkness a strong current swept Abertondo three miles into the lesser channel of the river at Bend Island No. 8, some 14 miles upstream from here. The swimmer and members of the party accompanying him by boat thought he had been carried into a tributary, and he fought his way back upstream against the 4-m.p.h. current.

He was overcome as he reached the main channel, and was lifted into the boat with straps.

"His whole body was literally covered with fish bites," said a spokesman for the group. "This brave man. He didn't say a thing about them. We didn't know he had been bitten until we pulled him out."

Still champion for the 292-mile swim from St. Louis to Caruthersville, Mo., is John Sigmund, St. Louis butcher.

Wang Ping-nan, China Envoy At Geneva Conference, Is Past Master Of Intrigue

(Editors Note: Spencer Moosa, veteran AP correspondent in China, had many opportunities to observe Wang Ping-nan when Wang was a communist liaison officer in Chungking in 1946. Moosa here gives impressions of the Chinese Red who will negotiate with the United States in Geneva on Far East issues.

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 2 (AP) — Wang Ping-nan, chosen by the Chinese communists to represent them at their first ambassadorial talks with the United States, would be well qualified to write "M.I" after his name—if there was a degree denoting "master of intrigue."

Foreign correspondents who met Wang at Chungking during World War II found him friendly and helpful. Certainly he did well in selling some of them—not to mention assorted foreign diplomats and military men—the Communist line of those days:

Chinese Reds were agrarian reformers, not connected with Moscow and opposed to the Kuomintang only because Chiang Kai-shek's National Peoples party was not democratic.

What the Communists stood for, Wang and other Reds would say, were free elections, freedom of speech, freedom of press and so on.

Wang had two jobs in Chungking. He was contact man for Chou En-lai, then Communist "ambassador" at Chungking, now the Premier of Red China. Wang maintained liaison with various foreign quarters, notably the Soviet Embassy and the official Soviet news agency, Tass.

He also was liaison man for the Communist Eighth Route Army.

Wang was stout, round-faced, had close-cropped hair, wore Western-style clothes and liked eating food flavored with garlic.

He was not distinguished looking. He was the type that would pass easily in a crowd, an advantage for one in secret service work as Wang was.

Wang and his German-born wife, Anna, were particularly close friends of Madame Sun Yat-sen, now one of the vice chairmen of the Chinese Communist government. Anna used to screen foreign correspondents wishing to see Madame Sun.

Like Wang, she kept contact with foreigners, among them U. S. diplomats and Army officers. No one could be more convincing in spreading stories about shortcomings of the Kuomintang.

Best possible sources say Wang was born in Shensi Province 47 years ago as the second of three sons of a landowner. He went to school in Nanking, joined the Communist party at Shensi in 1925 and was assigned to agitate the farmers.

His father was a great friend of Gen. Yang Hu-cheng who sent Wang to Germany to complete his education at Berlin University. Wang joined the Third Internationale in 1930 in Germany. Before that, the had spent some time in Soviet Russia.

On returning to China, Wang made a good impression on Chou En-lai and became his protege.

Wang is credited with playing a part in the plot that led to the kidnaping of President Chiang Kai-shek and the generalissimo's 12-day detention. He helped persuade his father's friend, Gen. Yang, then governor of Shensi, to become a principal in the kidnaping. Yang subsequently was executed for the kidnaping.

Wang went to Yenan, the Communist capital, after World War II and then to Peiping after the Nationalist surrender there in January, 1949.

Wang brought his own Iron Curtain to Peiping. It was impenetrable to Western newsmen. Newsmen found it hard to believe of Wang, who had sought their company in the past and had wined and dined with them.

In Peiping, Wang was given the post of executive secretary of the Sino-Soviet Friendship Association. He also was made chief of the secretariat of the Communist foreign ministry.

In April, 1954, he went with Chou En-lai to the Geneva conference that worked out the partition of Indochina. In November, he was appointed assistant to the foreign minister.

Last January he became ambassador to Poland.

Installment Debt Soars To Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Consumer installment debt outstanding soared upward by 765 million dollars in June to a record breaking total of $24,914,000,000 at the month end, the Federal Reserve Board reported.

The rise, over which administration officials have shown concern, was 75 per cent greater than the gain in June a year ago and three times as large as the increase in the same month of 1953.

Installment purchases of automobiles again accounted for most of the rise, with the record increase of 576 million dollars.

Russians, Red China Had Concrete Concessions For Geneva Conferences

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Russians came to the recent Geneva conference with a concrete concession and the Chinese Reds have done the same thing.

The announcement of the release of 11 American fliers from Red imprisonment indicates that they have been held all along, as was suspected, until they could be used to bargain with.

It also means that the Chinese have joined negotiations with a definite purpose extending far beyond the matter of release of all of the 51 Americans who have been held.

It does not mean that they are ready to seriously and sincerely negotiate the broad issues affecting relations with the United States, any more than Russian entry into the atoms-for-peace pool meant they were ready for broad European issues at this time.

The pattern in the Far Eastern negotiations, however, appears to be very similar, with the Reds aiming at future conferences and perhaps ready to freeze the ball of international byplay as has been done in Europe.

It seems likely now that the other 40 Americans will be permitted to come home in return for an agreement to negotiate political issues.

Chief of these from the Western standpoint is Formosa, flanked by Red violations of the Indochina and Korean truces. These issues are almost as closely tied together as were European collective security and German reunification at the Big Four meeting, since any arrangement regarding Formosa would depend upon re-establishment of goodwill in the cases of the other truces.

From the Red standpoint, Formosa, trade and United Nations membership are the big issues.

One Red demand cannot be met. That is for acquisition of Formosa. On the other issues there is room for negotiation, with the United States offering concessions in return for guarantees of a nonwar policy in Peiping.

There are numerous reasons why the United States cannot offer Formosa in return for peace. Two of them are paramount. One is that the United States, allied with the Chinese Nationalists, cannot ethically bargain their downfall.

For the other, you only have to remember what happened in the Philippines on the day of Pearl Harbor.

Japanese bombers and fighters came out of Formosa and left Clark Field a shambles. Formosa was more important to the Japanese than it would be now that planes could easily fly from the Chinese mainland.

It seems likely now that the other 40 Americans will be permitted to come home in return for an agreement to negotiate political issues.

Chief of these from the Western standpoint is Formosa, flanked by Red violations of the Indochina and Korean truces. These issues are almost as closely tied together as were European collective security and German reunification at the Big Four meeting, since any arrangement regarding Formosa would depend upon re-establishment of goodwill in the cases of the other truces.

From the Red standpoint, Formosa, trade and United Nations membership are the big issues.

One Red demand cannot be met. That is for acquisition of Formosa. On the other issues there is room for negotiation, with the United States offering concessions in return for guarantees of a nonwar policy in Peiping.

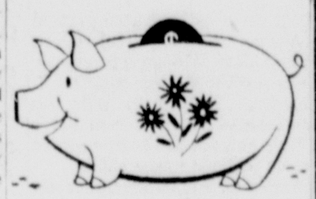

There are numerous reasons why the United States cannot offer Formosa in return for peace. Two of them are paramount. One is that the United States, allied with the Chinese Nationalists, cannot ethically bargain their downfall.

For the other, you only have to remember what happened in the Philippines on the day of Pearl Harbor.

Japanese bombers and fighters came out of Formosa and left Clark Field a shambles. Formosa was more important to the Japanese than it would be now that planes could easily fly from the Chinese mainland.

Commissioners Delay Liquor Complaint Action

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners has withheld action on a report by one of its inspectors concerning the after-hours operation of a Cumberland club.

A report by the inspector stated that he had entered the club rooms of Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, Wahaba Temple 237, at 66-72 North Mechanic Street, shortly after midnight, Saturday, July 30 to find a number of patrons or members drinking at tables.

The county liquor law, which was changed in part by legislation passed at the last session of the General Assembly, requires that all bottles and glasses be removed from tables and bars of all establishments selling alcoholic beverages at midnight each Saturday.

The board also scheduled a hearing on a remonstrance to the issuance of an off-sale beer license to Robert E. Grapes, who operates a grocery store on Bedford Road near the volunteer fire company hall about five miles from Cumberland.

The petition against the issuance of the permit to Grapes contains the names of 115 persons. The board will hear the remonstrance Tuesday, August 16 at 10 a. m. Another hearing is scheduled for the South End Republican Club on Thursday, August 11, at 10 a. m.

The GOP club was the scene of a fight between two men in which a waitress at the club was fatally injured when struck by a chair thrown during the incident.

The board issued a beer license to Edward L. Malamphy, for premises at 27 North Front Street. The application of Malamphy was signed by several men in that neighborhood who have liquor permits. The board commented on the fact that the signers were not against issuance of a beer license to a competitor.

Board Gets Road Report

The annual report of the County Roads Department was submitted to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday by Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

It took $333,340.99 to run the department last year. This amounted to $27,785.54 per month or $1,388.71 per day, Chapman reported.

Of the overall total, $47,006.60 was spent on equipment; $180,324 for labor; $68,606 for materials to be used on the roads; $31,970 for miscellaneous items, and $350 for tools.

Sick pay amounted to $1,226 and vacation pay to $3,855.

Chapman also had a very detailed cost breakdown on the operation of every piece of equipment the department uses.

He listed the hours worked for each piece of equipment, the total cost and the post per hour, ranking from $20.96 for a Littleford roller, to two cents an hour for one truck and another car.

Car 2 had the most hours used, 15,758 while the Littleford roller had only six hours use.

Four Get Divorces In Circuit Court

Four divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Lewis Earl Hammond has obtained a divorce from Imogene K. Hammond. William D. Weir has been granted a divorce from Melva V. Weir and she has been awarded custody of their minor child.

Charles L. Knippenberg has obtained a divorce from Anna E. Virginia Knippenberg and he has been granted custody of their minor child. Arden Varner has obtained a divorce from Geraldine Varner.

County To Decorate For Bicentennial

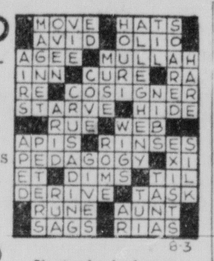

A contract was let yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the decoration of the Court House and Union Street County Building in observance of the Bicentennial of Fort Cumberland.

The contract was given to Francis Humbertson, a representative of the W. C. Abernathy Company. The two buildings will be decked out with American flags and bunting at a cost of $215.

Social Security Coverage For City Workers Studied

The possibilities of the City of Cumberland's employes going into the Social Security program were discussed Monday by the Mayor and Council and the local SS office head.

James Robertson, manager of the Cumberland District SS office, informed the commissioners and Mayor Roy W. Eves that House Bill 228 passed by the General Assembly this spring allows employes of municipalities and political subdivisions of the state to come under the benefits.

It was pointed out there must be a referendum among the employes, with the majority ruling.

But the hitch that appears in the bill is that there can be no vote among those to be affected until July 1, 1956.

In the event, the employes decide to participate in the program when the referendum is held July 1 or after, the program could be made retroactive to January 1, 1955, Robertson told the council.

The commissoners were informed that the city government's participation in Social Security would cost about $14,000 annually.

The problem that arises, city officials pointed out, is the large lump sum the city and the individual employes would have to pay up to meet the retroactivity requirements.

One thought among the councilmen is to have the city set aside each month a fund that with the employes participating that would eliminate the large payment next year.

If the employes would decide not to go under Social Security, the money would be refunded, it was pointed out.

It was suggested that an informal consensus could be taken among the employes, and on the basis of that prepare for next year, or drop the plan.

City employes come under the State Employees Retirement System. Social Security offers more retirement pay and also has survivors' benefits in case of death of the participant.

The widow is provided monthly payments under Social Security until the children are 18 years of age, in addition to her allotment.

The State Pension Fund provides only a half-year's pay in case of death.

Industrial Water Supply Is Topic Of Study Here

A resolution submitted by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson at yesterday's session of the county commissioners is being turned over to Albert H. Hargreaves, director of Industrial Development for the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The Wilkinson resolution calls for a water conference to explore the possibility of obtaining additional water supplies for the county to attract new industries.

The Wilkinson resolution follows:

"An ample supply of water of suitable quality is essential to the county, the communities and to many types of industry.

Aided To Getting Plant

"The present amount of water available appears to be adequate for existing demands, and the factor of adequate water supply was a prominent industrial location factor used to good avail in the successful attraction of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company by the Industrial Promotion Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

"Despite this present adequacy for existing demands, it is highly questionable if sufficient water supply has been provided for to attract new industry which may be large users of water.

"The attraction of new industry with the prospective employment they offer to county residents is desired whole-heartedly by all county residents.

"It has been suggested by various agencies that among those facilities which could be suitably devised at a comparatively low cost for such increased water supply would be such possibilities as pipe line connection to Savage River Dam, increase of the height of the spillway of the Lake Gordon Dam to increase the storage capacity of that reservoir, increase of filtration plant capacities of present water supplies, or a third dam constructed at the upper end of the Lake Koon reservoir.

Planning Important

"It is essential and desirable that planning for this important industrial location factor be accomplished at the earliest possible time.

"Be it resolved that the county commissioners of Allegany County shall call a water conference inviting to such conference representatives of the Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, various industries, the representatives of municipal, state and federal governments and their agencies with a view towards development of a water program for this county."

Wilkinson also suggested that a copy of the resolution be sent to U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall Rep. DeWitt Hyde, State Senator Charles M. See and members of the county delegation to the General Assembly.

Bids Rejected For Buildings

The State Department of Public Improvements rejected all bids for the construction of a residence, implement shed and shop building that is planned for the state game and fish reserve at Mt. Nebo in Garrett County.

The low and only bidder was Russell Hamilton of 201 Main Street, Westernport, with a $20,950 figure.

The structures are for a resident caretaker for the Game and Inland Fish Commission at the reserve.

Fire Fighters Invest Heavily In Equipment

It is a known fact that volunteer fire companies have much money invested in equipment, most of which is the best that can be purchased.

To point this up, Cromwell C. Zembower, president of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company and co-chairman of the recent convention of the Maryland State Firemen Association held in Cumberland, made an interesting survey.

He checked all of the equipment in the parade that climaxed the state convention and found that the total value of fire trucks and other vehicles amounted to $769,000.

There were 47 fire trucks, three ambulances, three rescue trucks, one tank truck and two jeeps.

The lowest priced pumper was valued at $4,000 and the most expensive, $30,000.

Twelve pumpers cost more than $20,000 each while most were between $12,000 and $20,000, he reported.

All of this money was raised by the individual companies through their various activities, representing quite a savings for the taxpayer of their communities.

The savings is not only reflected on the tax bills, either, as many communities are enjoying considerably lower fire insurance rates.

For instance, Zembower pointed out, the residents of much of LaVale have fire insurance premiums that are only one cent higher on the $100 of insured property than the residents of Cumberland.

Student Nurses See Blood Unit At Work

Eight studerts of the Saint Joseph College Division of Nursing observed the local American Red Cross blood donor team in action Monday at the Eagles Home on Mechanic Street.

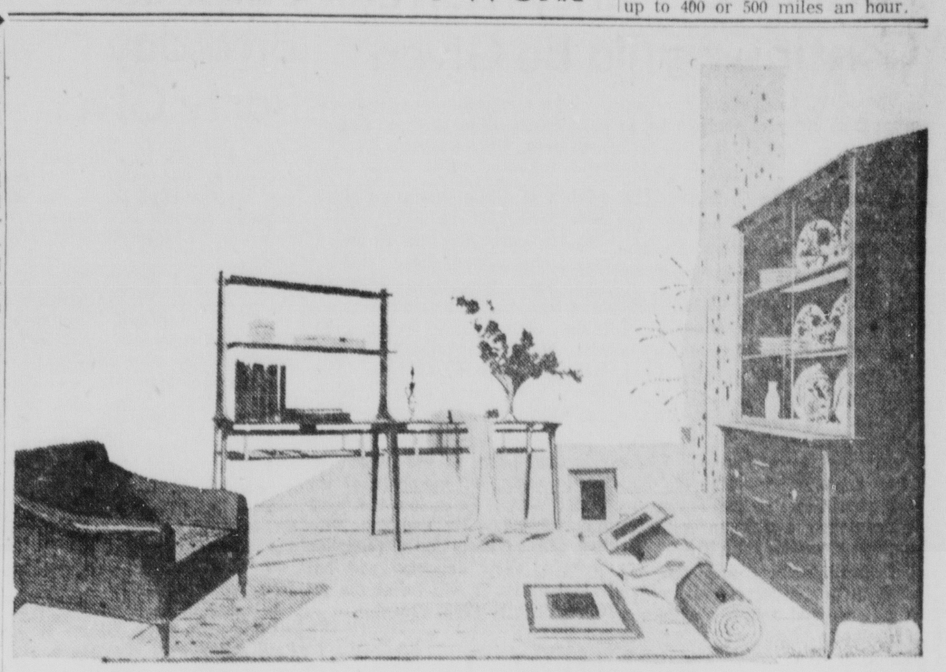

They learned step by step the process by which life-giving blood is collected. They listened as Red Cross volunteers asked the key questions which determine the eligibility of donors. They watched the double-checking laboratory tests which eliminate individuals with anemia or disease.

Following the actual withdrawal of blood, the nursing students were impressed by the considerate aftercare of the donors who were given a nourishing drink and encouraged to rest for 20 minutes.

Despite the urgent need for human blood, the American Red Cross restricts subsequent donation until the blood volume of the donor has been restored.

The St. Joseph Division of Nursing collegiennes from Emmitsburg, are spending 10 weeks at Sacred Heart Hospital for clinical experience.

The wind at the center of a tornado has been estimated to be up to 400 or 500 miles an hour.

Social Security Coverage For City Workers Studied

The possibilities of the City of Cumberland's employes going into the Social Security program were discussed Monday by the Mayor and Council and the local SS office head.

James Robertson, manager of the Cumberland District SS office, informed the commissioners and Mayor Roy W. Eves that House Bill 228 passed by the General Assembly this spring allows employes of municipalities and political subdivisions of the state to come under the benefits.

It was pointed out there must be a referendum among the employes, with the majority ruling.

But the hitch that appears in the bill is that there can be no vote among those to be affected until July 1, 1956.

In the event, the employes decide to participate in the program when the referendum is held July 1 or after, the program could be made retroactive to January 1, 1955, Robertson told the council.

The commissoners were informed that the city government's participation in Social Security would cost about $14,000 annually.

The problem that arises, city officials pointed out, is the large lump sum the city and the individual employes would have to pay up to meet the retroactivity requirements.

One thought among the councilmen is to have the city set aside each month a fund that with the employes participating that would eliminate the large payment next year.

If the employes would decide not to go under Social Security, the money would be refunded, it was pointed out.

It was suggested that an informal consensus could be taken among the employes, and on the basis of that prepare for next year, or drop the plan.

City employes come under the State Employees Retirement System. Social Security offers more retirement pay and also has survivors' benefits in case of death of the participant.

The widow is provided monthly payments under Social Security until the children are 18 years of age, in addition to her allotment.

The State Pension Fund provides only a half-year's pay in case of death.

Industrial Water Supply Is Topic Of Study Here

A resolution submitted by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson at yesterday's session of the county commissioners is being turned over to Albert H. Hargreaves, director of Industrial Development for the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The Wilkinson resolution calls for a water conference to explore the possibility of obtaining additional water supplies for the county to attract new industries.

The Wilkinson resolution follows:

"An ample supply of water of suitable quality is essential to the county, the communities and to many types of industry.

Aided To Getting Plant

"The present amount of water available appears to be adequate for existing demands, and the factor of adequate water supply was a prominent industrial location factor used to good avail in the successful attraction of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company by the Industrial Promotion Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

"Despite this present adequacy for existing demands, it is highly questionable if sufficient water supply has been provided for to attract new industry which may be large users of water.

"The attraction of new industry with the prospective employment they offer to county residents is desired whole-heartedly by all county residents.

Parties For Nancy Murray Continuing, To Be Given

Miss Ada Lou Snyder entertained with a miscellaneous shower and prenuptial party in compliment to Miss Nancy Alan Murray, fiancee of Albert G. Tase Jr. It was held at her home, Cash Valley.

Miss Murray, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. Alan G. Murray, 292 Narrows Park, will become the bride of Mr. Tase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Tase, Woodlawn, LaVale, Saturday. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. H. M. Richardson in Emmanuel Episcopal Church at 2 p. m. Miss Elizabeth Anne Murray is to be her sister's maid of honor, while a niece, Linda Murray, is junior bridesmaid; and Miss Patricia Minke, Miss Snyder, Miss Patricia Salitrik and Miss Patricia Taylor are bridesmaids; and Victoria Twigg, another niece, flower girl.

A Bicentennial theme was carried out in the decorations, with a small covered wagon, containing a miniature bride and bridegroom, centering the table. The bridegroom, with mustache and beard, and his bride, had been used on the wedding cake of the hostess' mother, Mrs. John K. Snyder. Miss Murray and Miss Snyder also wore Bicentennial bonnets for the party.

The bridal motif was used for the refreshment table, with an all white cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centering the table with double candelabra of white tapers on either side.

Guests were Mrs. Clifford Minke, Mrs. John Salitrik, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Tase, Miss Patricia Minke, Miss Patricia Salitrik, Miss Nancy Miller, Miss Lucy Kriechbaum, Miss Ann Dixon, Miss Betty June McLuckie, Miss Gail Snyder, Miss Janet Sisk, Miss Betty Whetzel and Miss Joan Miller.

Mrs. Tase will entertain with a rehearsal party at her home Friday evening, for members of the bridal party. Following the wedding ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Murray will be hosts for a reception honoring their daughter and her bridal party. It will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

Bride Is Entertained

Miss Shirley Kelso and Mrs. Lillian Park entertained with a shower honoring Mrs. David Wright, the former Miss Janice Nicely of Arlington.

It was held recently at the Wiley Ford fire hall. A pastel color scheme was carried out in the flowers decorating the house.

Guests were Mrs. Harold Lambert, Mrs. Doris Fazenbaker, Mrs. Nellie Brinkman, Mrs. Raymond Cox, Mrs. Dorothy Howdersheldt, Mrs. Mildred Lambert, Mrs. Betty Knippenberg, Mrs. Mary Browning, Mrs. Mae Nield, Mrs. Ethel Hendricks, Mrs. Margaret Powell, Mrs. Wanda Tucker, Mrs. Maxine Valentine, Mrs. Dorothy Cox, Mrs. Joan Self, Mrs. James Blankenship, Mrs. Gloria Bennett, Mrs. Marion Sacks, Mrs. Thelma Wright, and Mrs. Delsa Wright, McCoole.

Surprise Birthday Party Given

Mrs. Patricia A. Flanagan was honored by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Randolph Schry and her husband, Jimmie D. Flanagan, at a surprise birthday party Saturday evening.

It was held in the form of a hamburger fry in the garden at the Schry residence, Narrows Park. Refreshments included a birthday cake with candles.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fulkoski, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cartee and two sons; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Proud, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carroll, Miss Sue Eberly, Richard Bonebreak, Bruce Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Sheetz, Mr. and Mrs. James Kave, Mr and Mrs. Roscoe McElfish, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Davis, and John Workmeister.

In addition to Mrs. Flanagan's parents, Randolph Schry II and Paul Schry were also there.

Social Chart

A special meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Cresaptown Fire Company will be held at 7:30 tonight in the fire hall.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Murley's Branch Church will hold a bake sale at Kolb's Garage, Flintstone, Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m.

Murley's Branch Methodist Church will hold its annual old fashioned festival on the church grounds August 13, starting at 6 o'clock.

Fairview Avenue WSCS will meet in Grove 4, Constitution Park today for a tureen supper for members and their families. Cars will leave the church at 5:30.

Discipline Features Training Meeting

The kind of adult a child would grow to be depending on his parents was shown in a moving picture which featured the Family Life training meeting held yesterday afternoon in the extension office.

Mrs. Jeanne S. Moehn, family life specialist of the University of Maryland, conducted the meeting on "Discipline in the Home." The moving picture, "Preface to a Life," began with the birth of a child and showed the change as it grew up in three different family groups.

Family Life chairman of each club will use the material taught in discussion groups in the September meetings of their clubs.

There were 20 women attending.

Club Entertains At Picnic Dinner

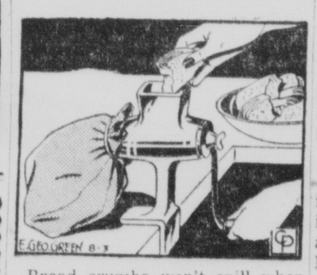

The Progressive Young Women's Club of Potomac Valley entertained with its annual picnic Saturday. It was held on the lawn of the Carlton Helmick residence, McMullen Highway.

Games were arranged for the children and the men played ball. The program also included group singing.

There will not be a meeting this month, because of the Cumberland Fair, but regular business sessions will be resumed in September.

Big Girls Turn To Frontier

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The heroic figures of America's frontier days are inspiring not only television producers and songwriters these days, but also the creators of grown-up women's fashions.

In addition to little boys in Davy Crockett hats, you're going to see college and career girls wearing Daisy Crockett dresses this fall. Responsible for this newest expression of a national craze is a designer called Miss Cane, a comparative newcomer to the crowded canyons of New York's garment center, but one who is creating much excitement in the marts of fashion.

She has designed for fall wear by youthful feminine patriots a tight-fitting sheath in fire engine red flannel, with a choker collar of chinchilla rabbit. Big girls wear their fur around their necks, it seems, instead of dangling from their hats. The creation is called Daisy Crockett.

Carried away by the colorful pageant of American history, Miss Cane also has designed a dress inspired by the fringed buckskins of the frontiersmen, which she calls Dolly Boone. This one is a dress of light-weight gray tweed with a middy effect top, flared skirt and square sailor collar edged with black wool fringe. It succeeds in giving a very dashing early-American effect.

DOLLY BOONE . . . Fringed sailor collar on a gray wool tweed middy dress gives dashing frontier touch.

Bride-Elect Is Being Entertained

Prenuptial parties in honor of Miss Marguerite Keller, fiancee of Frederick A. Puderbaugh, Jr., are continuing, with Mrs. Irene B. Mac Donald, 439 North Centre Street, entertaining tonight. She will be hostess for a dinner and shower at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

Miss Keller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Keller, 406 Fayette Street, is to become the bride of Mr. Puderbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Puderbaugh, 777 Fayette Street, August 20. The ceremony will be performed in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

Mrs. Joseph M. Miller, 420 Fayette Street, will be hostess for a luncheon and bathroom shower Saturday. It also will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, at 1 o'clock.

A luncheon and shower was given by Mrs. Harry Scott Swartzwelder Jr., Baltimore, at the Ali Ghan Country Club Saturday. A pink and white color scheme was used in flowers and miniature umbrellas.

Guests were Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Puderbaugh, Mrs. Annie Close, Mrs. John Rowan, Mrs. Edward Martz, Mrs. Clara Schute, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Maurice Stegmaier, Mrs. James Alvaro, Mrs. Gilbert Lancaster, Mrs. Arthur Crum, Miss Carolyn Murray, Miss Jane Ebert, Miss Josephine Wilson and Miss Carol Martz.

Card Party To Be Held Tonight

The Ladies Club of St. Ambrose Catholic Church, Cresaptown, will hold its monthly card party tonight at the Cresaptown Fire Hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

First and second prizes will be awarded for both setback and 500. There also is to be a special award and refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Goldblatt and four children, Westfield, N. J., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, The Dingle.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fry and family, Homestead, Fla., are visiting her mother, Mrs. C. P. Flanagan, 36 Knobley Street, Ridgeley. Mr. Fry is assistant superintendent at the Everglades National Park, Fla., and has been in the National Park Service for 20 years.

BPW Board Of Directors Schedules Year's Activities

Program plans, the club calendar, the Business and Professional Women's Week activities, a money raising project for the scholarship fund, the third annual Hobby Show, and a theatre party at the Mountain Playhouse, Jennerstown, were scheduled by the board of directors of the Business and Professional Women's Club at a meeting on Monday night at the Central Y.M.C.A. Miss Helen Beck presided.

Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, state and local program coordinator, led the discussion of the program and set up the calendar. The theme of the local program is "A time to cast away stones—" with the International Relations committee the lead committee for the year. All other committees will coordinate their work with that of the International Relations committee.

Among the activities planned for Business and Professional Women's Week, September 25 to October 1, as announced by Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, chairman, are a church service, a Sunday brunch, a radio broadcast, a card party and style show, and a banquet at the Ali Ghan Country Club. The week's activities will culminate in a state board meeting in Cambridge on October 1.

The state news service contest and the national BPW program contest were discussed and suggestions made for action at the state board meeting.

Others present were Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth Philson, corresponding secretary; Miss Gerardine Pritchard, second vice president; Miss Anna Nicht, Women in Government chairman; Mrs. John Burke, finance; Miss Marion Dennison, Attendance chairman; Mrs. Effie Parsons, National Security chairman; Dr. Lillian C. Compton, Public Affairs chairman; Mrs. Ethel Northcraft, Miss Dorothy Manley, Membership chairman; Miss Marguerite Mullan, Year Book chairman; Mrs. Karl Perry, Education and Vocations chairman; Miss Olive Simpson, Legislation chairman; and Miss Theresa Nicht, parliamentarian.

Meeting Date Set

August 25 was announced as the date for a business meeting of the Past President's Club of the VFW Auxiliary. The date was selected at a picnic held recently at Constitution Park.

Members and guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watson, Mrs. Goldie Speis, Mrs. Zellene Norris, Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, Mrs. Violet Karns, Mrs. Elsie Kilroy, Mrs. Sadie Smith, Mrs. Chloe Reynolds, Mrs. Rachael Iames, Mrs. Hester Lindamood, Judith Ann Watson, George Speis and James Speis.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

If you have dry skin, it needs coddling — and you can't start too young. A skin that is lusterless, quick to wrinkle, sometimes flakes or irritates easily can usually be identified as dry. It may result from poor circulation, careless exposure to sun and wind, or even poor diet and a nervous, run-down physical condition. There is a weakness in the sebaceous glands, which makes it difficult for them to secrete the necessary amount of oil.

What to do. First you'll have to concentrate on skin lubricants. But, that doesn't mean neglect soap and water for true cleanliness. Wash your face, neck, and well behind your ears once a day. Use a super-fatted or lanolin-based complexion soap and only your own two hands to lather up. Rinse well with lukewarm water. Finish off with a dry-skin lotion. Don't use an astringent.

For additional coddling when you're around the house in the daytime, keep a thin film of rich emollient cream on the skin. Only 20 or 30 minutes each day will help tremendously to bring that dewy look to your face.

To freshen up during the day, remove your makeup with cream cleanser or use cosmetic-remover pads without astringent in them. Blot your face with a Turkish cloth wrung out in cool water (no soap). This is possible at the office too.

When taking the sun, always use as a tanning agent a preparation that is extra oily and keeps your skin moist. Apply it generously. Be careful about exposing yourself to the sun in too large doses.

Alma Jo Little Is Bride Of Charles D. Pennington

Miss Alma Jo Little, daughter of Virgil Little, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Edith Dewitt, Akron, Ohio, became the bride of Charles Darwin Pennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pennington, Hambleton, W. Va., July 23.

The candlelight ceremony was solemnized in St. John's Lutheran Church at Red House, with Rev. William A. Renn reading the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Virgil Blizzard, Hambleton, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor; and Mrs. Charles Hymes, Hendricks, bridesmaid. Clyde Dale Pennington, Hambleton, served as his brother's best man, and Charles Hymes was an usher.

The bride was attired in an ice blue suit with which she wore white accessories. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her costume. Her matron of honor wore a pink suit with matching accessories and had a corsage of sweet peas.

A graduate of Parsons High School, class of 1953, while there the bride was Queen of the Parsons Homecoming; president of the Student Body, vice president of the Senior Class, a member of the National Honor Society, the Upper Ten, Latin Club, BGB Club, Tri-Hi-Y and Bow Tie Club. She also was named as Miss PHS in her senior year. For the past two years she has been clerk and secretary in the Monongahela Power Company office in Parsons.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons High School, also of the class of 1953, where he participated in softball and basketball. He was a member of the National Honor Society and escort to the Queen in 1952. For the past year, he has been employed by the Clover Farm Market in Parsons.

For the present the couple will reside in Hambleton.

Surprise Birthday Party Given

Mrs. Patricia A. Flanagan was honored by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Randolph Schry and her husband, Jimmie D. Flanagan, at a surprise birthday party Saturday evening.

It was held in the form of a hamburger fry in the garden at the Schry residence, Narrows Park. Refreshments included a birthday cake with candles.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fulkoski, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cartee and two sons; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Proud, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carroll, Miss Sue Eberly, Richard Bonebreak, Bruce Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Sheetz, Mr. and Mrs. James Kave, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe McElfish, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Davis, and John Workmeister.

In addition to Mrs. Flanagan's parents, Randolph Schry II and Paul Schry were also there.

Social Chart

A special meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Cresaptown Fire Company will be held at 7:30 tonight in the fire hall.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Murley's Branch Church will hold a bake sale at Kolb's Garage, Flintstone, Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m.

Murley's Branch Methodist Church will hold its annual old fashioned festival on the church grounds August 13, starting at 6 o'clock.

Fairview Avenue WSCS will meet in Grove 4, Constitution Park today for a tureen supper for members and their families. Cars will leave the church at 5:30.

Discipline Features Training Meeting

The kind of adult a child would grow to be depending on his parents was shown in a moving picture which featured the Family Life training meeting held yesterday afternoon in the extension office.

Mrs. Jeanne S. Moehn, family life specialist of the University of Maryland, conducted the meeting on "Discipline in the Home." The moving picture, "Preface to a Life," began with the birth of a child and showed the change as it grew up in three different family groups.

Family Life chairman of each club will use the material taught in discussion groups in the September meetings of their clubs.

There were 20 women attending.

Club Entertains At Picnic Dinner

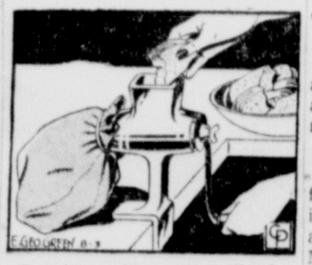

The Progressive Young Women's Club of Potomac Valley entertained with its annual picnic Saturday. It was held on the lawn of the Carlton Helmick residence, McMullen Highway.

Games were arranged for the children and the men played ball. The program also included group singing.

There will not be a meeting this month, because of the Cumberland Fair, but regular business sessions will be resumed in September.

Big Girls Turn To Frontier

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The heroic figures of America's frontier days are inspiring not only television producers and songwriters these days, but also the creators of grown-up women's fashions.

In addition to little boys in Davy Crockett hats, you're going to see college and career girls wearing Daisy Crockett dresses this fall. Responsible for this newest expression of a national craze is a designer called Miss Cane, a comparative newcomer to the crowded canyons of New York's garment center, but one who is creating much excitement in the marts of fashion.

She has designed for fall wear by youthful feminine patriots a tight-fitting sheath in fire engine red flannel, with a choker collar of chinchilla rabbit. Big girls wear their fur around their necks, it seems, instead of dangling from their hats. The creation is called Daisy Crockett.

Carried away by the colorful pageant of American history, Miss Cane also has designed a dress inspired by the fringed buckskins of the frontiersmen, which she calls Dolly Boone. This one is a dress of light-weight gray tweed with a middy effect top, flared skirt and square sailor collar edged with black wool fringe. It succeeds in giving a very dashing early-American effect.

Bride-Elect Is Being Entertained

Prenuptial parties in honor of Miss Marguerite Keller, fiancee of Frederick A. Puderbaugh, Jr., are continuing, with Mrs. Irene B. Mac Donald, 439 North Centre Street, entertaining tonight. She will be hostess for a dinner and shower at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

Miss Keller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Keller, 406 Fayette Street, is to become the bride of Mr. Puderbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Puderbaugh, 777 Fayette Street, August 20. The ceremony will be performed in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

Mrs. Joseph M. Miller, 420 Fayette Street, will be hostess for a luncheon and bathroom shower Saturday. It also will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, at 1 o'clock.

A luncheon and shower was given by Mrs. Harry Scott Swartzwelder Jr., Baltimore, at the Ali Ghan Country Club Saturday. A pink and white color scheme was used in flowers and miniature umbrellas.

Guests were Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Puderbaugh, Mrs. Annie Close, Mrs. John Rowan, Mrs. Edward Martz, Mrs. Clara Schute, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Maurice Stegmaier, Mrs. James Alvaro, Mrs. Gilbert Lancaster, Mrs. Arthur Crum, Miss Carolyn Murray, Miss Jane Ebert, Miss Josephine Wilson and Miss Carol Martz.

Card Party To Be Held Tonight

The Ladies Club of St. Ambrose Catholic Church, Cresaptown, will hold its monthly card party tonight at the Cresaptown Fire Hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

First and second prizes will be awarded for both setback and 500. There also is to be a special award and refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Goldblatt and four children, Westfield, N. J., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, The Dingle.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fry and family, Homestead, Fla., are visiting her mother, Mrs. C. P. Flanagan, 36 Knobley Street, Ridgeley. Mr. Fry is assistant superintendent at the Everglades National Park, Fla., and has been in the National Park Service for 20 years.

BPW Board Of Directors Schedules Year's Activities

Program plans, the club calendar, the Business and Professional Women's Week activities, a money raising project for the scholarship fund, the third annual Hobby Show, and a theatre party at the Mountain Playhouse, Jennerstown, were scheduled by the board of directors of the Business and Professional Women's Club at a meeting on Monday night at the Central Y.M.C.A. Miss Helen Beck presided.

Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, state and local program coordinator, led the discussion of the program and set up the calendar. The theme of the local program is "A time to cast away stones—" with the International Relations committee the lead committee for the year. All other committees will coordinate their work with that of the International Relations committee.

Among the activities planned for Business and Professional Women's Week, September 25 to October 1, as announced by Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, chairman, are a church service, a Sunday brunch, a radio broadcast, a card party and style show, and a banquet at the Ali Ghan Country Club. The week's activities will culminate in a state board meeting in Cambridge on October 1.

The state news service contest and the national BPW program contest were discussed and suggestions made for action at the state board meeting.

Others present were Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth Philson, corresponding secretary; Miss Gerardine Pritchard, second vice president; Miss Anna Nicht, Women in Government chairman; Mrs. John Burke, finance; Miss Marion Dennison, Attendance chairman; Mrs. Effie Parsons, National Security chairman; Dr. Lillian C. Compton, Public Affairs chairman; Mrs. Ethel Northcraft, Miss Dorothy Manley, Membership chairman; Miss Marguerite Mullan, Year Book chairman; Mrs. Karl Perry, Education and Vocations chairman; Miss Olive Simpson, Legislation chairman; and Miss Theresa Nicht, parliamentarian.

Meeting Date Set

August 25 was announced as the date for a business meeting of the Past President's Club of the VFW Auxiliary. The date was selected at a picnic held recently at Constitution Park.

Members and guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watson, Mrs. Goldie Speis, Mrs. Zellene Norris, Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, Mrs. Violet Karns, Mrs. Elsie Kilroy, Mrs. Sadie Smith, Mrs. Chloe Reynolds, Mrs. Rachael Iames, Mrs. Hester Lindamood, Judith Ann Watson, George Speis and James Speis.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

If you have dry skin, it needs coddling — and you can't start too young. A skin that is lusterless, quick to wrinkle, sometimes flakes or irritates easily can usually be identified as dry. It may result from poor circulation, careless exposure to sun and wind, or even poor diet and a nervous, run-down physical condition. There's a weakness in the sebaceous glands, which makes it difficult for them to secrete the necessary amount of oil.

What to do. First you'll have to concentrate on skin lubricants. But, that doesn't mean neglect soap and water for true cleanliness. Wash your face, neck, and well behind your ears once a day. Use a super-fatted or lanolin-based complexion soap and only your own two hands to lather up. Rinse well with lukewarm water. Finish off with a dry-skin lotion. Don't use an astringent.

For additional coddling when you're around the house in the daytime, keep a thin film of rich emollient cream on the skin. Only 20 or 30 minutes each day will help tremendously to bring that dewy look to your face.

To freshen up during the day, remove your makeup with cream cleanser or use cosmetic-remover pads without astringent in them. Blot your face with a Turkish cloth wrung out in cool water (no soap). This is possible at the office too.

When taking the sun, always use as a tanning agent a preparation that is extra oily and keeps your skin moist. Apply it generously. Be careful about exposing yourself to the sun in too large doses.

Alma Jo Little Is Bride Of Charles D. Pennington

Miss Alma Jo Little, daughter of Virgil Little, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Edith Dewitt, Akron, Ohio, became the bride of Charles Darwin Pennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pennington, Pambleton, W. Va., July 23.

The candlelight ceremony was solemnized in St. John's Lutheran Church at Red House, with Rev. William A. Renn reading the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Virgil Blizzard, Hambleton, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor; and Mrs. Charles Hymes, Hendricks, bridesmaid. Clyde Dale Pennington, Hambleton, served as his brother's best man, and Charles Hymes was an usher.

The bride was attired in an ice blue suit with which she wore white accessories. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her costume. Her matron of honor wore a pink suit with matching accessories and had a corsage of sweet peas.

A graduate of Parsons High School, class of 1953, while there the bride was Queen of the Parsons Homecoming; president of the Student Body, vice president of the Senior Class, a member of the National Honor Society, the Upper Ten, Latin Club, BGB Club, Tri-Hi-Y and Bow Tie Club. She also was named as Miss PHS in her senior year. For the past two years she has been clerk and secretary in the Monongahela Power Company office in Parsons.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons High School, also of the class of 1953, where he participated in softball and basketball. He was a member of the National Honor Society and escort to the Queen in 1952. For the past year, he has been employed by the Clover Farm Market in Parsons.

For the present the couple will reside in Hambleton.

Personals

Stock Market Goes Higher Following Irregular Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — The stock market finally swung higher today after going through a quite irregular session.

The steels, motors and railroads were the most active of the major divisions, and all were higher. Also up were the mail order issues, aircrafts, coppers, and a few oils and airlines together with a good list of individual issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $173.90. Yesterday it lost $1.90, the biggest drop since early July. The industrial average today was up 6 cents while rails were ahead 30 cents. Utilities, however, were down 20 cents. American Telephone, in the utility component, was off 1⅛ at 185⅛.

The margin by which the market advanced was small. There were 484 gainers and 435 losers out of the 1,184 individual issues traded.

At the top of the most active list was Rhodesian Selection Trust up ½ at 6⅝. News came today of a boost in Afridan copper prices among companies controlled by the trust.

United Park City Mines, yesterday's most active issue up ⅜, was second today up ½ at 3⅞. Graham Paige was third up ¼ at 2⅝.

Those three low priced issues were followed by Electric Auto Lite up 4¼ at 53 and Chrysler up 2⅛ at 92.

Chicago Pneumatic Tool wes ahead 2¾ at 45¾ after directors raised the dividend payments and declared an extra.

Police Probe Entry Of Local Motor Firm

City Police detectives are continuing a probe into the breaking and entering of the Steinla Motor Company building, 218 South Mechanic Street, in which two safes were jimmied.

Employes reporting for work at 8 a. m. yesterday discovered the breaking and entering and notified police.

A window pane on the south side of the building had been broken and the window opened. Detective Lieutenant James E. Van and Detective Donald Smith reported the hole in the glass was very small and only a person with a small hand could have reached through to trip the latch.

A soft drink machine was forced open but no money was taken, the officers said.

In the second floor offices, attempts were made to open two safes by knocking the combination dials off.

But the efforts succeeded only in disrupting the lock mechanisms so that the safes can be opened only with an acetylene torch or by a representative of the manufacturers, police said.

The breaking and entry follows a pattern that began two weeks ago when the Texaco service station on Wineow Street was entered.

Then last week, further toward the heart of the city, the R. W. Norris firm was burglarized, the detectives reported.

The modus operandi, or method of operation, in all three cases was identical, they observed.

Stock Market Goes Higher Following Irregular Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — The stock market finally swung higher today after going through a quite irregular session.

The steels, motors and railroads were the most active of the major divisions, and all were higher. Also up were the mail order issues, aircrafts, coppers, and a few oils and airlines together with a good list of individual issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $173.90. Yesterday it lost $1.90, the biggest drop since early July. The industrial average today was up 6 cents while rails were ahead 30 cents. Utilities, however, were down 20 cents. American Telephone, in the utility component, was off 1⅛ at 185⅛.

The margin by which the market advanced was small. There were 484 gainers and 435 losers out of the 1,184 individual issues traded.

At the top of the most active list was Rhodesian Selection Trust up ½ at 6⅝. News came today of a boost in Afridan copper prices among companies controlled by the trust.

United Park City Mines, yesterday's most active issue up ⅜, was second today up ½ at 3⅞. Graham Paige was third up ¼ at 2⅜.

Those three low priced issues were followed by Electric Auto Lite up 4¼ at 53 and Chrysler up 2⅛ at 92.

Body Is Found

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 2 (AP)—The body of an 50-year-old millionaire rancher — skull smashed and hands and feet tightly bound—was found today in his home at Cordoba.

Police said Carlos Barrenier, a bachelor, apparently had been dead since Thursday.

Police Probe Entry Of Local Motor Firm

City Police detectives are continuing a probe into the breaking and entering of the Steinla Motor Company building, 218 South Mechanic Street, in which two safes were jimmied.

Employes reporting for work at 8 a. m. yesterday discovered the breaking and entering and notified police.

A window pane on the south side of the building had been broken and the window opened. Detective Lieutenant James E. Van and Detective Donald Smith reported the hole in the glass was very small and only a person with a small hand could have reached through to trip the latch.

In the second floor offices, attempts were made to open two safes by knocking the combination dials off.

But the efforts succeeded only in disrupting the lock mechanisms so that the safes can be opened only with an acetylene torch or by a representative of the manufacturers, police said.

The breaking and entry follows a pattern that began two weeks ago when the Texaco service station on Wineow Street was entered.

Then last week, further toward the heart of the city, the R. W. Norris firm was burglarized, the detectives reported.

The modus operandi, or method of operation, in all three cases was identical, they observed.

Guardsmen Battle Dust, Heat In Field Maneuvers

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP)—Members of the 29th Infantry Division of the Virginia and Maryland National Guard found dust and heat the biggest factors to contend with today as they went through maneuvers here on the eighth day of their summer encampment.

Most of the division personnel went through heavy and light gun exercises in the field where the mercury hovered in the high 90s during most of the day and the arid soil was kicked up in clouds of dust.

The 128th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion of Virginia joined in the maneuvers with division foot soldiers and heavy gun operators.

The 175th Infantry Regiment of Baltimore remained in the field last night with most other units of the 29th Division which will remain there until Friday when they will break camp and leave for their homes.

The division, with some 7,400 members, will end its annual two-week summer encampment Friday noon. The return journey will be made with several stopovers en route.

Legion Picnic Slated Sunday

The annual family basket picnic of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, of Ridgeley, will be held on Sunday from noon until 6 p. m. at the VFW grounds in Fort Ashby. Members and guests are invited.

A bus will leave the post home at 11:30 a. m. for the picnic area and will provide transportation for those who need it.

Refreshments and a light lunch will be served by the Legionnaires. Members of the auxiliary unit will be in charge of games and contests for the children.

"Open House" will be held tonight at the post home. A highlight of the evening will be a movie at 8 p. m.

Kiwanians To Hear Bicentennial Talk

A discussion of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration will feature the meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p. m. Thursday at Central YMCA.

Participants will be Raleigh Tozer, representative of the John B. Rogers Production Company, and French Sensabaugh, instructor-trainer for the pageant.

Union Laundry Pact Reached

An agreement on a two-year contract with the Union Laundry was announced yesterday by Local 687, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Gerald Peters, New York, Amalgamated representative, said members will vote on the pact at noon today, adding the committee will recommend ratification.

The pact, to become effective on August 29, will provide wage increases ranging from 7½ to 9 cents for some 16 workers of the Seymour Street plant, and two additional holidays.

The contract also provides, Peters said, for inclusion of the workers in the ACW welfare insurance program. Included are sick or off-the-job accident benefits of $20 a week for 13 weeks, $9 a day hospitalization benefits for 31 days for sickness or accidents not covered by workmen's compensation, up to $200 in surgical benefits, maternity benefits and $50 for incidental hospital expenses, plus a $500 death policy.

The program is being financed by the company's contribution of two per cent of its gross payroll, Peters said.

A cost of living reopening clause is available for either the company or the union in case the cost of living varies five points during the life of the contract.

Heading the Local 687 contract committee was Gertrude Seeders, president.

Five Cities Will Get Bicentennial Bids Today

Invitations to attend Cumberland's Bicentennial celebration and pageant the week of August 14-20 will be extended to the people of five more communities today.

Serving in the capacity of Miss Fort Cumberland for the occasion will be Miss Ellen Newnam who will extend the invitations on behalf of the City of Cumberland.

Invitations today will be extended at Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg, W. Va., and Oakland and Accident, Md.

Miss Newnam will be accompanied by her mother and by Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Kendall and A. T. Brust Jr.

SRC Sells Bond Issue For Projects

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP) — The State Roads Commission got a 2.50165 interest rate today when it put up for sale $1,551,000 worth of bonds to finance road construction by seven counties.

A New York syndicate headed by Union Securities Corp. made the best offer. Syndicates of Baltimore and Philadelphia investment houses also bid on the issue.

Under the system, the Roads Commission issues bonds and the proceeds go to the counties for construction projects on county roads. The counties pay off the bonds, using the share of highway revenues redistributed to them by the State.

The seven counties participating in the program this year are Baltimore, Frederick, Garrett, Washington, Montgomery, Calvert and St. Marys.

The 1953 Maryland General Assembly instituted the plan as part of Maryland's 568-million dollar highways overhaul program. This is only the second year of its operation.

Mt. Savage Man's Will Is Filed

The will of James Lilly, who was a 68-year-old Mt. Savage resident at the time of his death June 11, was admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

A son, Joseph E. Lilly of Mt. Savage, qualified as executor of the estate under a $100 bond. This son also was bequeathed the home and premises at Mt. Savage provided he pay $2,200 to the estate.

The rest of the estate is to be divided equally among the deceased's six children, Joseph E. Lilly, Marie O'Brien, Emma Hammil, James F. Lilly, George W. Lilly and Margaret O'Neal. The will was dated June 16, 1948.

Pine Ave. To Make Plans For Float

A meeting of all children registered at the Pine Avenue Playground will be held at 2 p. m. today at the playground. The purpose of the meeting, Mrs. Jean Etta Beckward, director, said, is to select those who will ride the playground's float in the recreation parade.

A games party is scheduled at the playground tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Property Sold

William E. Johnston and Kathleen G. Johnston have sold property on the southeast side of National Turnpike in LaVale to Albert R. Salvato and Caroline Salvato, according to a deed filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Police Probing Area Accidents

West Virginia State Police at Keyser are continuing investigation of two unsolved hit-and-run accidents which were reported last weekend in Mineral County.

The first mishap was reported Saturday night on Route 28, one mile north of Fort Ashby, when the car of Raymond Wallis, Cumberland, was sideswiped by another auto. Wallis is stationed with the Army at Dover, Del.

Wallis told authorities that he saw the car coming toward him on the wrong side of the road and that he pulled off the highway in an effort to keep from being hit. Damage to Wallis' auto was estimated at $300.

On Sunday night Larry Donohue, 72, was driving to his home in Westernport when he was sideswiped on the Keyser-Piedmont Road.

Donohue, who was accompanied by his wife, told State Police he could not get a good view of the other car. Damage to his car was estimated at $400.

For a generation before the invention of electric telegraphy, in 1832, Europe had several extensive systems for transmitting messages by means of semaphore signals relayed between towers.

Court Approves Four Divorces

Four divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Paul M. Crabtree was granted a divorce from Mildred E. Crabtree. Betty Maxine Trozzo obtained a divorce from William D. Trozzo and was granted the right to resume use of her former name of Betty Maxine Lockard.

Betty Weakley obtained a divorce from Howard Dale Weakley and she was awarded custody of their infant daughter. John A. Stull was granted a divorce from Mary Dorothy Stull and she was awarded custody of their three minor children.

The Ladies Club of St. Ambrose Church, Cresaptown, formulated plans for a bake sale and a supper at the brief business session, held in conjunction with the outing at the home of Mrs. James Julianna, Patterson Creek.

A bake sale will be held August 7 after the 8:15 o'clock and 11 o'clock masses. Plans also were discussed for a chicken supper to be held early in September.

Boating and swimming featured the entertainment and a corn roast concluded the evening. Approximately 18 members attended.

The next meeting will be August 31 at the home of Mrs. Catherine Smith, Cresap Park.

Guardsmen Battle Dust, Heat In Field Maneuvers

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP)—Members of the 29th Infantry Division of the Virginia and Maryland National Guard found dust and heat the biggest factors to contend with today as they went through maneuvers here on the eighth day of their summer encampment.

Most of the division personnel went through heavy and light gun exercises in the field where the mercury hovered in the high 90s during most of the day and the arid soil was kicked up in clouds of dust.

The 128th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion of Virginia joined in the maneuvers with division foot soldiers and heavy gun operators.

The 175th Infantry Regiment of Baltimore remained in the field last night with most other units of the 29th Division which will remain there until Friday when they will break camp and leave for their homes.

The division, with some 7,400 members, will end its annual two-week summer encampment Friday noon. The return journey will be made with several stopovers en route.

Legion Picnic Slated Sunday

The annual family basket picnic of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, of Ridgeley, will be held on Sunday from noon until 6 p. m. at the VFW grounds in Fort Ashby. Members and guests are invited.

A bus will leave the post home at 11:30 a. m. for the picnic area and will provide transportation for those who need it.

Refreshments and a light lunch will be served by the Legionnaires. Members of the auxiliary unit will be in charge of games and contests for the children.

"Open House" will be held tonight at the post home. A highlight of the evening will be a movie at 8 p. m.

Kiwanians To Hear Bicentennial Talk

A discussion of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration will feature the meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p. m. Thursday at Central YMCA.

Participants will be Raleigh Tozer, representative of the John B. Rogers Production Company, and French Sensabaugh, instructor-trainer for the pageant.

Union Laundry Pact Reached

An agreement on a two-year contract with the Union Laundry was announced yesterday by Local 687, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Gerald Peters, New York, Amalgamated representative, said members will vote on the pact at noon today, adding the committee will recommend ratification.

The pact, to become effective on August 29, will provide wage increases ranging from 7½ to 9 cents for some 16 workers of the Seymour Street plant, and two additional holidays.

The contract also provides, Peters said, for inclusion of the workers in the ACW welfare insurance program. Included are sick or off-the-job accident benefits of $20 a week for 13 weeks, $9 a day hospitalization benefits for 31 days for sickness or accidents not covered by workmen's compensation, up to $200 in surgical benefits, maternity benefits and $50 for incidental hospital expenses, plus a $500 death policy.

The program is being financed by the company's contribution of two per cent of its gross payroll, Peters said.

A cost of living reopening clause is available for either the company or the union in case the cost of living varies five points during the life of the contract.

Heading the Local 687 contract committee was Gertrude Seeders, president.

Serving in the capacity of Miss Fort Cumberland for the occasion will be Miss Ellen Newnam who will extend the invitations on behalf of the City of Cumberland.

Invitations today will be extended at Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg, W. Va., and Oakland and Accident, Md.

Miss Newnam will be accompanied by her mother and by Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Kendall and A. T. Brust Jr.

SRC Sells Bond Issue For Projects

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP) — The State Roads Commission got a 2.50165 interest rate today when it put up for sale $1,551,000 worth of bonds to finance road construction by seven counties.

A New York syndicate headed by Union Securities Corp. made the best offer. Syndicates of Baltimore and Philadelphia investment houses also bid on the issue.

Under the system, the Roads Commission issues bonds and the proceeds go to the counties for construction projects on county roads. The counties pay off the bonds, using the share of highway revenues redistributed to them by the State.

The seven counties participating in the program this year are Baltimore, Frederick, Garrett, Washington, Montgomery, Calvert and St. Marys.

The 1953 Maryland General Assembly instituted the plan as part of Maryland's 568-million dollar highways overhaul program. This is only the second year of its operation.

Mt. Savage Man's Will Is Filed

The will of James Lilly, who was a 68-year-old Mt. Savage resident at the time of his death June 11, was admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

A son, Joseph E. Lilly of Mt. Savage, qualified as executor of the estate under a $100 bond. This son also was bequeathed the home and premises at Mt. Savage provided he pay $2,200 to the estate.

The rest of the estate is to be divided equally among the deceased's six children, Joseph E. Lilly, Marie O'Brien, Emma Hammil, James F. Lilly, George W. Lilly and Margaret O'Neal. The will was dated June 16, 1948.

Pine Ave. To Make Plans For Float

A meeting of all children registered at the Pine Avenue Playground will be held at 2 p. m. today at the playground. The purpose of the meeting, Mrs. Jean Etta Beckward, director, said, is to select those who will ride the playground's float in the recreation parade.

A games party is scheduled at the playground tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Property Sold

William E. Johnston and Kathleen G. Johnston have sold property on the southeast side of National Turnpike in LaVale to Albert R. Salvato and Caroline Salvato, according to a deed filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Police Probing Area Accidents

West Virginia State Police at Keyser are continuing investigation of two unsolved hit-and-run accidents which were reported last weekend in Mineral County.

The first mishap was reported Saturday night on Route 28, one mile north of Fort Ashby, when the car of Raymond Wallis, Cumberland, was sideswiped by another auto. Wallis is stationed with the Army at Dover, Del.

Wallis told authorities that he saw the car coming toward him on the wrong side of the road and that he pulled off the highway in an effort to keep from being hit. Damage to Wallis' auto was estimated at $300.

On Sunday night Larry Donohue, 72, was driving to his home in Westernport when he was sideswiped on the Keyser-Piedmont Road.

Donohue, who was accompanied by his wife, told State Police he could not get a good view of the other car. Damage to his car was estimated at $400.

For a generation before the invention of electric telegraphy, in 1832, Europe had several extensive systems for transmitting messages by means of semaphore signals relayed between towers.

Court Approves Four Divorces

Four divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Paul M. Crabtree was granted a divorce from Mildred E. Crabtree. Betty Maxine Trozzo obtained a divorce from William D. Trozzo and was granted the right to resume use of her former name of Betty Maxine Lockard.

Betty Weakley obtained a divorce from Howard Dale Weakley and she was awarded custody of their infant daughter. John A. Stull was granted a divorce from Mary Dorothy Stull and she was awarded custody of their three minor children.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Ex-Gov. Patteson's Wife Succumbs

MOUNT HOPE, W. Va., Aug. 2—Death came unexpectedly today to Mrs. Lee Hawse Patteson, 53, wife of West Virginia's 23rd governor.

A servant found the body this morning and the family physician said Mrs. Patteson apparently had died in her sleep of a coronary thrombosis.

As a dark-haired, gracious first lady of the state, Mrs. Patteson presided over the executive mansion in Charleston during Patteson's term as governor, lasting from January, 1949, to January, 1953.

She had suffered periodically from a heart ailment in recent years.

As the former Miss Lee Hawse of Romney, she and Patteson were married on June 1, 1923. They had two children, Mrs. William E. Miller of Charleston and Miss Anna Hughes Patteson, at home.

Mrs. Patteson also is survived by her father, G. W. Hawse of Mount Hope.

RAY LYTLE

FRIENDSVILLE—Ray Lytle, 54, died here Saturday with services being conducted Monday at the Christian Church. Interment was in Blooming Rose Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ada May Lytle; a son, Paul Lytle, at home; his father, Leonard Lytle, also of here, and a sister, Mrs. Effie Van Horn, Smickburg, Pa.

JACOB H. SUMMERFIELD

PARSONS, W. Va.—Jacob Harness Summerfield, 79, a farmer of Dry Fork, died Monday afternoon at his home.

A native of Pendleton County, he was born September 25, 1875 and was a son of the late Jackson and Betty (Pennington) Summerfield.

Mr. Summerfield was the last surviving member of his immediate family.

His wife, Mrs. Laura (Kisamore) Summerfield, died nine years ago. Surviving are five sons, Vernice Summerfield, Webster Springs; Clyde, Oscar, Russell Summerfield, all of Cumberland, Md.; and Delton Summerfield, Vendigh, Va.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Howard Arbogast, Dry Fork; 22 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren. The body will be at the residence until noon tomorrow when it will be taken to the Riverside Mennonite Church for a service at 2 p. m. (EST).

Rev. M. J. Brunk and Rev. Oliver Keener will officiate and interment will be in the Cooper Cemetery near Harman.

MRS. MARY O. CROWE

Mrs. Mary (Offman) Crowe, 87, of 534 Fairview Avenue, wife of the late William J. Crowe, died last night.

A native of Frostburg, she was a daughter of the late Henry and Catherine Offman. She was a charter member of the Pythian Sisters of Frostburg; a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and of the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Mrs. Crowe was the oldest member of the Ladies Auxiliary unit of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion. Surviving are three sons, Curtis V. Crowe, a patient in Newton D. Baker VA Center, Martinsburg; Fred O. Crowe, Baltimore; Z. R. Crowe, Lakewood, Ohio.

Also surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Katherine Poland, Westernport; Mrs. Ora Mae Pollock, Mrs. Martha Warhime, Baltimore; Mrs. Orvelia Walker, city; Mrs. Marion Danner, Chicago; eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body is at the Silcox Funeral Residence.

MRS. EPHRIAM K. BLAUCH

Mrs. Louise W. Blauch, 79, wife of Ephriam K. Blauch, RD 2, (Short Gap), died Monday at the Kiser Nursing Home, Mountain Lake Park. Born in Cumberland, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leibrant.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, is a daughter, Mrs. Zelma Fisher, of this city; six step-children; a grandson, Jack Fisher, California; a brother, Walter Leibrant, and a sister, Mrs. Emma White, both of here.

Mrs. Blauch was a member of the Methodist Church. The body will be at the George Funeral Home after 10 a. m. today.

A service will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the funeral home with Rev. Lehman Longenecker, pastor of the Pinto Mennonite Church, in charge.

Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

EDWARD KINNEY

Edward Kinney, about 75, former resident of 815 Maryland Avenue, died yesterday morning in Hawkinstown, Va. where he had been visiting this summer.

He was a retired B & O conductor and had worked between Cumberland and Grafton. Mr. Kinney, a native of Keyser, W. Va., is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lou (Golliday) Kinney. A funeral service will be held in Hawkinstown.

LLOYD W. DAWSON

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Lloyd William Dawson, 58, of here, died in a local hospital last Friday following a three-day illness. Born in Westernport, Md., he was a son of the late Fletcher and Edith (Lee) Dawson.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Effie (Augusta) Dawson, at home; a son, Rex Dawson, also of here; a brother, Albert E. Dawson, Akron, and a sister, Miss Mabel Dawson.

Services were conducted Monday with interment in the Stonewall Park Cemetery, here.

HARVEY BOSLEY

MOOREFIELD – Services were held yesterday for Harvey Bosley, 86, who died at his home in the Bethel section Sunday, from the Bethel Church with Rev. Lowell Rogers officiating. Interment was in Bethel Cemetery.

Born July 8, 1869, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida Bosley, and a daughter, Mrs. Richard Kessel.

HOTTLE FUNERAL

A funeral service for Jacob A. Hottle, 79, of Dan's Mountain Road, Cresaptown, who died Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James Hoffman, also of Dan's Mountain Road, will be held today at 2 p. m. (EST) at the Spiggle Funeral Home, Davis, W. Va.

Rev. George Weriick, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, will officiate and interment will be in the Davis Cemetery. The body is at the funeral home.

PATTERSON SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Mattie Ann Patterson, 83, wife of James E. Patterson, 803 Manns Terrace, who died Monday, will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Grace Baptist Church.

Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park. The body is at the George Funeral Home and will be taken to the church at noon tomorrow.

JOSEPH A. STOWELL

PIEDMONT—Joseph A. Stowell, 72, of 18 Oak Street, died at his home Monday. A retired coal miner, Mr. Stowell was active in band work here for many years.

A son of the late David and Margaret (Casey) Stowell, he was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church and Bloomington Local, United Mine Workers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ida (Van) Stowell; a brother, William Stowell, Mt. Savage, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Gillespie, Westernport.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday at 9 a. m. from St. Peter's Church with burial in the church cemetery. The body will remain at the Boal Funeral Home.

WILLIAM R. CALHOUN

MOOREFIELD—William Randall Calhoun, 38, son of Mrs. Delphia Calhoun and the late W. C. Calhoun, died at the Veterans Hospital, Roanoke, Va., last Wednesday. He had been a patient for six months.

Born at Whitmer, he operated the Work Clothes Store here until ill health forced him to retire last year. He was a graduate of Moorefield High School, Class of 1934, and a veteran of World War II.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, is his widow, Mrs. Violet (Sherman) Calhoun; two brothers, Richard Calhoun, of this place, and Gerard Calhoun, Berkeley Springs, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Marshall and Mrs. Felix Poling.

Services were held Saturday from the Thrush Funeral Home with the Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of the Duffey Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in the Olivet Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Devaul Schell, G. C. Charlton, Clifton Funkhouser, Lawrence Bean, Weldon Neff and William Guilliams. Honorary pallbearers were John Fisher, Virgil Mathias, Arno Friddle, L. R. Grover, Clyde Shanholtzer, J. E. Caseykamp, P. W. Clarke, C. B. Hiett and W. W. Vance.

Personal

Mrs. R. W. Miller, 7 Cresap Street, is a patient in Memorial Hospital for the past month.

Birth Is Announced

Court Hears Reports

Reports on the visit to Sylvan Retreat, the chalice fund and annual retreat in October, were given by Mrs. Cecelia Albright, Mrs. Caroline Ruppert and Mrs. Hazel Soethe at the business meeting of Court Cardinal Gibbons 529, CDA, Monday. It was held in St. Patrick's Social Center with Mrs. Anna McCleary presiding.

Members with birthdays in August will be honored at the monthly social August 29 at the center. Mrs. Katherine Mellon will be in charge of arrangements.

There are at least 26 waterfalls in the world which are higher than the famous Niagara falls.

MOUNT HOPE, W. Va., Aug. 2—Death came unexpectedly today to Mrs. Lee Hawse Patteson, 53, wife of West Virginia's 23rd governor.

A servant found the body this morning and the family physician said Mrs. Patteson apparently had died in her sleep of a coronary thrombosis.

As a dark-haired, gracious first lady of the state, Mrs. Patteson presided over the executive mansion in Charleston during Patteson's term as governor, lasting from January, 1949, to January, 1953.

She had suffered periodically from a heart ailment in recent years.

As the former Miss Lee Hawse of Romney, she and Patteson were married on June 1, 1923. They had two children, Mrs. William E. Miller of Charleston and Miss Anna Hughes Patteson, at home.

Mrs. Patteson also is survived by her father, G. W. Hawse of Mount Hope.

RAY LYTLE

FRIENDSVILLE—Ray Lytle, 54, died here Saturday with services being conducted Monday at the Christian Church. Interment was in Blooming Rose Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ada May Lytle; a son, Paul Lytle, at home; his father, Leonard Lytle, also of here, and a sister, Mrs. Effie Van Horn, Smickburg, Pa.

JACOB H. SUMMERFIELD

PARSONS, W. Va.—Jacob Harness Summerfield, 79, a farmer of Dry Fork, died Monday afternoon at his home.

A native of Pendleton County, he was born September 25, 1875 and was a son of the late Jackson and Betty (Pennington) Summerfield.

Mr. Summerfield was the last surviving member of his immediate family.

His wife, Mrs. Laura (Kisamore) Summerfield, died nine years ago. Surviving are five sons, Vernice Summerfield, Webster Springs; Clyde, Oscar, Russell Summerfield, all of Cumberland, Md.; and Delton Summerfield, Vendigh, Va.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Howard Arbogast, Dry Fork; 22 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren. The body will be at the residence until noon tomorrow when it will be taken to the Riverside Mennonite Church for a service at 2 p. m. (EST).

Rev. M. J. Brunk and Rev. Oliver Keener will officiate and interment will be in the Cooper Cemetery near Harman.

MRS. MARY O. CROWE

Mrs. Mary (Offman) Crowe, 87, of 534 Fairview Avenue, wife of the late William J. Crowe, died last night.

A native of Frostburg, she was a daughter of the late Henry and Catherine Offman. She was a charter member of the Pythian Sisters of Frostburg; a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and of the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Mrs. Crowe was the oldest member of the Ladies Auxiliary unit of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion. Surviving are three sons, Curtis V. Crowe, a patient in Newton D. Baker VA Center, Martinsburg; Fred O. Crowe, Baltimore; Z. R. Crowe, Lakewood, Ohio.

Also surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Katherine Poland, Westernport; Mrs. Ora Mae Pollock, Mrs. Martha Warhime, Baltimore; Mrs. Orvelia Walker, city; Mrs. Marion Danner, Chicago; eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body is at the Silcox Funeral Residence.

MRS. EPHRIAM K. BLAUCH

Mrs. Louise W. Blauch, 79, wife of Ephriam K. Blauch, RD 2, (Short Gap), died Monday at the Kiser Nursing Home, Mountain Lake Park. Born in Cumberland, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leibrant.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, is a daughter, Mrs. Zelma Fisher, of this city; six step-children; a grandson, Jack Fisher, California; a brother, Walter Leibrant, and a sister, Mrs. Emma White, both of here.

Mrs. Blauch was a member of the Methodist Church. The body will be at the George Funeral Home after 10 a. m. today.

A service will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the funeral home with Rev. Lehman Longenecker, pastor of the Pinto Mennonite Church, in charge.

Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

EDWARD KINNEY

Edward Kinney, about 75, former resident of 815 Maryland Avenue, died yesterday morning in Hawkinstown, Va. where he had been visiting this summer.

He was a retired B & O conductor and had worked between Cumberland and Grafton. Mr. Kinney, a native of Keyser, W. Va., is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lou (Golliday) Kinney. A funeral service will be held in Hawkinstown.

LLOYD W. DAWSON

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Lloyd William Dawson, 58, of here, died in a local hospital last Friday following a three-day illness. Born in Westernport, Md., he was a son of the late Fletcher and Edith (Lee) Dawson.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Effie (Augusta) Dawson, at home; a son, Rex Dawson, also of here; a brother, Albert E. Dawson, Akron, and a sister, Miss Mabel Dawson.

Services were conducted Monday with interment in the Stonewall Park Cemetery, here.

HARVEY BOSLEY

MOOREFIELD – Services were held yesterday for Harvey Bosley, 86, who died at his home in the Bethel section Sunday, from the Bethel Church with Rev. Lowell Rogers officiating. Interment was in Bethel Cemetery.

Born July 8, 1869, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida Bosley, and a daughter, Mrs. Richard Kessel.

HOTTLE FUNERAL

A funeral service for Jacob A. Hottle, 79, of Dan's Mountain Road, Cresaptown, who died Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James Hoffman, also of Dan's Mountain Road, will be held today at 2 p. m. (EST) at the Spiggle Funeral Home, Davis, W. Va.

Rev. George Weriick, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, will officiate and interment will be in the Davis Cemetery. The body is at the funeral home.

PATTERSON SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Mattie Ann Patterson, 83, wife of James E. Patterson, 803 Manns Terrace, who died Monday, will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Grace Baptist Church.

Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park. The body is at the George Funeral Home and will be taken to the church at noon tomorrow.

JOSEPH A. STOWELL

PIEDMONT—Joseph A. Stowell, 72, of 18 Oak Street, died at his home Monday. A retired coal miner, Mr. Stowell was active in band work here for many years.

A son of the late David and Margaret (Casey) Stowell, he was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church and Bloomington Local, United Mine Workers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ida (Van) Stowell; a brother, William Stowell, Mt. Savage, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Gillespie, Westernport.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday at 9 a. m. from St. Peter's Church with burial in the church cemetery. The body will remain at the Boal Funeral Home.

WILLIAM R. CALHOUN

MOOREFIELD—William Randall Calhoun, 38, son of Mrs. Delphia Calhoun and the late W. C. Calhoun, died at the Veterans Hospital, Roanoke, Va., last Wednesday. He had been a patient for six months.

Born at Whitmer, he operated the Work Clothes Store here until ill health forced him to retire last year. He was a graduate of Moorefield High School, Class of 1934, and a veteran of World War II.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, is his widow, Mrs. Violet (Sherman) Calhoun; two brothers, Richard Calhoun, of this place, and Gerard Calhoun, Berkeley Springs, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Marshall and Mrs. Felix Poling.

Services were held Saturday from the Thrush Funeral Home with the Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of the Duffey Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in the Olivet Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Devaul Schell, G. C. Charlton, Clifton Funkhouser, Lawrence Bean, Weldon Neff and William Guilliams. Honorary pallbearers were John Fisher, Virgil Mathias, Arno Friddle, L. R. Grover, Clyde Shanholtzer, J. E. Caseykamp, P. W. Clarke, C. B. Hiett and W. W. Vance.

Personal

Mrs. R. W. Miller, 7 Cresap Street, is a patient in Memorial Hospital for the past month.

YOUR MONEY

Is it safe—and is it really working hard for you?

As any experienced businessman will tell you, part of your earnings should go into a savings account which is not subject to market fluctuations. When you open an account, look for two basic things:

One is safety. The other is a good return on your money.

Where are you sure to get both of these things? In an insured Savings and Loan Association!

More and more prudent Americans now choose to put their savings in these Associations because: Your money brings excellent returns in these Associations which invest most of their funds in sound, steady-paying home mortgages.

Your money is safe. It is protected by sound management and substantial reserves. It is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

You really owe it to yourself to get acquainted with the insured Savings and Loan Association nearest you!

East-West Struggle For Favors Of Middle East Is In Offing

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A big political struggle between the East and West for the favors and loyalties of the Middle East is yet to come. While the broad problems of international tension in Europe and the Orient dominate the world spotlight, little public attention is paid to a series of wasps' nests being stirred up in the vast strategic area made up of the Middle East, East Africa and North Africa.

In a determined campaign, directed both to the Arab world and black Africa, Egypt pictures herself as standing "at the head of the Arab people" against alleged imperialist designs of the United States and Britain.

Cairo denies the Egyptians have any imperialist designs of their own while it pushes hard on the theme of union with the Sudan to the south. It accuses Ethiopia, by inference, of planning to dominate the Sudan with the help of the British and Americans.

Directed Eastward, Egyptian propaganda calls for Arab collective defense without any big power participation. It pictures a menace to Egypt's frontiers by "Israel and those who created her," meaning the Americans and British. Westward, Cairo's broadcasts persistently fan the flame of extreme nationalism against the French throughout Arab North Africa.

Cairo radio recently broadcast a statement by Egypt's minister of national guidance, Maj. Salah Salem, saying: "If the Western Powers continue their policy of splitting the Arab world with alliances (a reference to the British-Iraqi pact) the only solution for Arabs will be to ask aid from Russia, since Russia is in a position to render any military aid the Arab states want."

The regime of Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser, beset by its own massive internal problems, seems to be attempting to become spokesman for the Arab world as a bloc between the West and the Soviet orbit.

One of Egypt's biggest worries, of course, is the water of the Nile River. This explains the constant Egyptian pressure on the Sudanese and the expressed suspicions of backward Ethiopia. Propaganda sent to the south frequently refers to the "battle for the Sudan."

"Does Ethiopia," a recent broadcast demanded, "as is clearly apparent and logical, intend after a while to admit the Sudan and Ethiopia into an alliance comprising the African nations which lie behind Egypt—an alliance which is connected with other alliances with which America and Britain wish to bind the Middle East, Africa and even Asia?"

The Egyptian answer appears to be in the affirmative, since the Western nations are accused of attempting to outflank Egypt as a substitute for dominating the country.

Egypt's economy depends upon the Nile, and it has always worried about the river, which rises outside Egypt. The blue Nile, which rises in Ethiopia, joins the white Nile at Khartoum in the Sudan. The British, the Sudanese and the Ethiopians, therefore, in a sense, might have Egypt at their mercy, despite the several agreements in effect now for sharing the Nile.

Coexistence Isn't Going To Be Easy

"Peaceful coexistence" line of communist propaganda insists that only the aggressive designs of the ruling circles of the West deprive the world's peoples of the peace they crave. But it is not easy to coexist peacefully with a communist-ruled nation.

The shooting down of a commercial airliner by Bulgaria, killing all 58 persons aboard is the latest of a long series of reminders of that.

The 58 persons aboard were not permitted to coexist, or even to exist at all. The plane, an Israeli-owned Constellation, was en route from Vienna to Istanbul. A beeline air route between the two cities would cross Bulgaria, but the usual route lies through Yugoslavia and Greece, passing at some points about three miles west of the Bulgarian border.

This sort of thing happens only in communist countries which follow the Moscow line. Last July the Chinese communists shot down a British passenger plane over international waters, and compounded the offense—to their cost—by attacking American rescue planes on a mission of mercy. An American weather plane was shot down off the Alaskan coast while top Moscow reds were being entertained in San Francisco.

Bulgaria has admitted the incident and apologized. But apologies in Sofia and smiling courtesy in Geneva should never lead the civilized world to forget that when it has intercourse with communist lands it is dealing with ruthless, violent rulers with whom strong nations may coexist with difficulty, while their weaker neighbors are not permitted to coexist at all as independent states.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Division Of Powers

No society can long remain static. Events force changes in structure, just as ideas force changes in the nature of government. The orderliness of a society is not to be measured by its capacity to reject change but by the strength of its institutions to withstand change without due process. The difference between the conservative and the radical is not the velocity of change but the method of development.

Our Constitution provides ample due process for affecting any kind of changes that the American people desire. As a matter of fact, by the process of amendment, the Government of the United States could be abolished altogether, to use an extreme example.

The basic structural theory of our government is the division of powers. So firmly was this idea adhered to by the Founding Fathers that the first three Articles of the Constitution, setting forth functions and limitations, follow the divisions of powers rigidly. The first three Articles are 1. The Legislative; 2. The Executive; 3. The Judicial.

The foreign affairs of the United States are conducted by the President, assisted by his Secretary of State, in accordance with the Constitution.

The Congress plays a Constitutional role in foreign relations as follows: 1. It declares war; 2. It ratifies treaties; 3. It appropriates funds for the conduct of foreign relations in peace and in war; it confirms the appointment of officers dealing with such matters. It may refuse to do any of these things.

The Judiciary plays no role in the conduct of foreign affairs, except as matters may arise out of law suits that come to its attention. The Judiciary plays no role in the formulation of policy, in the conduct of foreign relations, in the appropriation of funds or in any other way.

When, therefore, Justice William O. Douglas, while still a member of the Supreme Court, wherever he may be, holds forth on the foreign policy of the United States, he engages in an act of impropriety. When what he says is opposite to the stated policy of his country, as publicly declared by his government, his conduct is outrageous.

It has been said that while Douglas is Justice of the Supreme Court, he is also a citizen of the United States and that such a statement as he is reported to have made in Tokyo concerning our foreign policy has no official nature but is personal opinion. A person who appreciates the proprieties attending his position knows that certain offices require restraints of tongue because those who don the uniforms of some offices never are private persons. A Justice of the United States Supreme Court could not with propriety shoot crap, even at a private party; similarly, he ought to have better manners than to talk out of turn. If he wants to do a lot of free-and-easy talking, he ought to resign from a job that places upon him the restraints of position.

The phrase, "the dignity of a judge," had potent meaning in the United States and particularly as applied to Federal judges. They do not run for office; they do not have to compromise themselves by raising campaign funds; they do not have to curry the cheap plaudits of the mob. They are appointed for life or good behavior and it is expected of them that they shall remove themselves from vulgar living and wise-crack obiter dicta. They are expected to be aloof and dignified. To put it plainly, such living is part of their job and they are paid a salary to abide by it, just as a traffic cop is paid not to be drunk on his beat.

In recent years, there has been a let-down in judicial proprieties and some of it is quite ugly. There was a time when it was possible to see a Justice of the Supreme Court come up to New York on a weekend night-clubbing with ladies whose notorieties were known to those who specialize in such matters. It was not a pleasant sight if one gave a thought to the dignity and the propriety of the Judiciary.

No one can prevent Justice Douglas from talking too much and about subjects which are constitutionally none of his official business. That has become a habit with him and because it is unusual, extraordinary and in bad taste, it makes news and he is assured a headline.

Birds Of A Feather?

Release Of 11 Airmen Followed Expected Pattern

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Months and months of shenanigans behind the scenes have finally resulted in the release of the 11 American airmen held by the gangster regime in Peiping.

The United States government has paid no ransom, and the Red China government has made no concession—that's what the official record says. But the moves have been made with a deep-seated expectation that Red China will obtain better treatment now for her claims to a seat in the Security Council of the United Nations than she otherwise would have gotten.

The release of the airmen—whose imprisonment was unlawful and high-handed in the first instance—will be hailed in Europe as a dramatic change of attitude and as a manifestation of peaceful purpose. But actually the Americans were imprisoned in the first place merely to be used as pawns in the diplomatic game which the Peiping government has been playing.

Pattern No Surprise

The pattern of behavior is no surprise. On January 17, not quite seven months ago, this correspondent called attention to the remarks of the secretary general of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold, on his return to New York City from Peiping, when he said:

"It is not really a question of negotiations. It is a question of where the ground is prepared by negotiations—that ground having partly been prepared and partly by negotiations conducted by this or that national government. But the final decisions, I think, will necessarily emerge as unilateral decisions in all those various ticklish cases. They will emerge as unilateral decisions and as part of a general development, more than as the result of any kind of settlement."

Commenting on the foregoing, this correspondent wrote: "This means that each side does whatever it does without any apparent pressure from the other and seemingly in spontaneous fashion. That way of handling it is almost a prerequisite to success because each side, especially in the case of Red China, must presumably not 'lose face,' which is something of vital importance to Oriental psychology . . .

Passage Of Time

"Anyone familiar with the resourcefulness of personal diplomacy conducted with the old-fashioned skill . . . will read between the lines and come to the hopeful conclusion that after all the shouting dies down the 11 Americans will be released by Red China's government."

It may well be asked what arguments were used by the many go-betweens behind the scenes, including Krishna Menon and Prime Minister Nehru of India. It was clear that the United States government couldn't be in the position publicly of paying a ransom. It was clear also that the Red China government couldn't place herself in the position of bowing to a demand. What better way out than to let time pass and then permit each government to act on its own and seemingly of its own volition?

The United States took certain steps. It agreed to talk with the Red Chinese envoys face to face in Geneva. This called for some action on Peiping's part. Undoubtedly the Red Chinese were told by intermediaries that maybe Washington then would consent to talk about other things — perhaps the Formosa problem and later on even the admission of Red China to the United Nations if the Peiping officials showed some signs of bending and released the airmen.

Having held the airmen primarily for bargaining purposes, it undoubtedly seemed reasonable to the Red Chinese to release the airmen just before the Geneva talks on Far Eastern affairs began rather than afterwards. It would look to the world like a "unilateral" act. Thus the two ambassadors who met in Switzerland in the early part of this week had only the question of captured American civilians and "other practical matters" to discuss.

Plainly, under these circumstances, the United States couldn't turn away from talks on any subject once the conference has begun. As on official put it, "we can listen, but we don't have to agree to anything."

The tangible thing, however, is that the Red Chinese have made a sensational move and have given the appearance of great friendliness. The United States government is, therefore, compelled by world opinion to listen to arguments on the whole Far Eastern problem. This is what the British and French governments want—in fact, they're ready to abandon the 500,000-man army of Chiang Kai-shek and surrender Formosa to the Red Chinese.

Real Issue Ahead

The big question is whether the United States has been maneuvered through the use of the imprisoned fliers into a position where America will be accused of obstructing peace in the Far East unless it lets Red China have something in exchange for its exhibition of alleged humanitarianism. The airmen, of course, never should have been kept in prison after the signing of the Panmunjom agreement, which pledged the return of all prisoners of war.

What "ransom" will America pay in the long run for the release of the 11 airmen? That's a question the answer to which only future events will reveal. It was a "unilateral" act for the Red Chinese to release them. What "unilateral" act is coming next from the American government? That's the real issue now.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Following an administration through Congress is like kibitzing a Bingo game with Mexican jumping beans.

Ike figures to do a little nuclear shopping on the fashionable side of the deficit. All he needs from the petrified cash drawer is around $7,895,054,684 pin money.

The House looks over the list and tells Ike to set on one.

It goes back to the committee on economical mistakes. Which refers it to the committee on Pennsylvania Avenue road blocks.

The three branches of government are the Executive, the Judicial and the Propositional. The Senate sends the dumpling back to the kitchen for more sauce.

The House Committee on Viewing with Suspicion adjourned last week. But not before recommending that we put wheels on the Treasury and back it up into Ike's lap.

Tom Dewey's Law Firm Tried To Sneak $2,200,000 Appropriation For Client

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Few people noticed it, but a neat litle appropriation of $2,200,000 was sneaked through Congress at the last minute, thanks to ex-Governor Tom Dewey of New York. It was the first bit of lobbying Dewey has done since he left the Governor's office to take up private law.

His lobbying, incidentally, was done for a Democrat—the Harvey Machine Company of Los Angeles, of which partner Lawrence Harvey has been active in Democratic circles and was once considered as Democratic committeeman from California.

It all goes to show that if you hire the right lawyer, you can get things done in Washington regardless of politics.

What happened was that the Harvey Company has been lobbying frantically to put up an aluminum plant at the Dalles, Ore., on the Columbia River, not far from Bonneville Dam.

To do this they wanted: 1. a contract from the government guaranteeing to buy part of their production for five years; 2. a certificate of tax amortization permitting them to write off capital expenses over five years; and 3. they wanted the government to build an electric power line from Bonneville to the Dalles. The latter was to cost $2,200,000 and would give the Harvey Company cheap government power.

To get this done, the Harveys employed Governor Dewey's law firm, and Dewey sent to Washington James F. Nickerson, once with Roosevelt's NRA and now a Dewey law partner.

"Free Enterprise"

Nickerson camped on the doorstep of Secretary of Interior McKay, hounded Undersecretary of Interior Clarence Davis, worked with Senators to get quick action for the Harveys.

These are days when business is supposed to be imbued with the spirit of free enterprise. But both Reynolds Metals and the Kaiser Aluminum Company have had gilt-edged contracts from the government and did not expand their aluminum factories until the government practically guaranteed a profit. Harvey felt it was only fair that he should get the same.

Secretary McKay, however, argued that Harvey should first build his plant at the Dalles, after which he would get the electric power line built from Bonneville Dam. Secretary McKay thought the horse should go before the cart, and that the plant should be built before the transmission lines were authorized.

Governor Dewey's law firm, however, argued that the cart should come before the horse. Finally Dewey got action. At the last minute the Senate okayed a special rider giving the Harveys $2,200,000.

The money, however, finally got stopped in the House. There eagle-eyed Congressman Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, spotted the Senate's sneak bill and started to kill it. Equally suspicious was Cannon's associate, Joe Evins of Tennessee. However, they consulted with Congressman Wright Patman's Small Business Committee, which advised that it was important to get more competition in the aluminum industry, regardless of Governor Dewey's lobbying.

But in the end the appropriation was killed in conference committee. While Dewey was on the right side, Democrats couldn't swallow the fact that for two years straight the Republican director of the budget had recommended against the $2,200,000 and only reversed himself after Dewey got into the picture.

Battle Over Health

It missed the headlines during the mad rush to adjourn Congress, but a backstage conference of Senators and Representatives quietly knifed part of the money to be spent on cancer, heart disease, arthritis and other diseases. Chief knife-wielder was a Democrat—Congressman John Fogarty of Rhode Island, though he could not have functioned without almost 100 per cent support from Republicans.

What happened was that the Senate, under the leadership of Alabama's Lister Hill, had appropriated $23,000,000 more for health than Mrs. Hobby, retiring head of health, education, and welfare, asked for. The House, however, appropriated $22,000,000 less than the Senate.

And when the conferees between the two bodies locked horns in secret session to iron out the difference, a battle royal ensued. On one side were Chairman Hill, Chavez of New Mexico, Stennis of Mississippi, Magnuson of Washington, all Democrats, fighting for more money to find cures for the nation's dread diseases. Aligned with them were two health-minded Republicans, Thye of Minnesota and Potter of Michigan, also anxious to improve the nation's health.

But across the table from them, most of the Republican Congressmen were solid with Democrat Fogarty, the chairman, also Lanham of Rome, Georgia, and Fernandez of Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Over and over again, Fogarty repeated: "They don't need the money, they don't need the money."

Intermittently, for six weeks the conferees argued. The House committeemen had not heard the testimony, as did the Senate, of such expert witnesses as Dr. Paul White of Boston, the heart specialist; of Dr. Sidney Farber, the cancer specialist, or Dr. Cornelius Rhoads of the New York Memorial Hospital. Without hearing all the testimony, they just stood pat.

Finally the Senators managed to get about $8,000,000 extra out of the congressmen — $2,500,000 for cancer; $1,500,000 for heart; $2,000,000 for arthritis; $1,000,000 for neurological diseases; $985,000 for contagious diseases; and $500,000 for basic research.

But they failed to get $15,000,000 for hospitals, $4,000,000 for crippled children, and $3,000,000 for vocational education.

Psychological Victory

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (INS)—The most terrifying weapon of World War II was the atomic bomb. Second, or close to second, was the V-2 rocket. But in ten short years we now have the "powder" of the A-bomb running peaceful turbines and generating power. And the V-2, or a reasonable facsimile, has now been cast in the role of a mighty hand that will enable man to reach into the limitless unknowns of space.

No scientific developments were ever more closely guarded than the bomb and the mighty rocket. But now our enemies are invited to share our peaceful knowledge of atomic energy and are invited to tune in on whatever is electronically revealed by the "bird." This is the affectionate name for the basketball-sized object which will be thrust into the ionosphere at 18,000 miles an hour, there to spin around the earth every hour and a half until diminishing speed enables the magnetic core of the earth to drag the object back to disintegrate in the 50 mile deep layer of thick air in which we humans crawl.

At the atoms-for-peace exhibit on the grounds of the Palais des Nations in Geneva, where Russia learned how to say "nyet" with a smile instead of a fang-bared snarl, all printed descriptions of marvels on display are in English, French and Russian. The mysteries and magic of the "ball" will be similarly explained, despite the expressed alarm of several members of the Congress.

The President's thinking in all this would seem to be pretty plain. Russia has been able to build a small atomic reactor which is already producing power. It was proudly shown to Pandit Nehru on his recent trip to Moscow. Russia's plans for a 100,000 kilowatt atomic power station will be spread before the West at next week's international atom show at Geneva. It would have been psychologically calamitous to our prestige if Russia rather than the United States had become the agent who offered the world information and assistance in the spread of peaceful atomic energy.

It is known, too, that the Red army's "talent scouts," a group which searched out and frequently seized outstanding German scientists and technicians and packed them off to work in Russia, harvested a bumper crop when the Red army moved in on Peenamunde. It was there that the V-1 and V-2 had taken shape and where there were plans not only for an intercontinental ballistic missile which might reach New York City from a German launching base but, also, sketches and plans for a "space platform" grander in all respects than the "bird." Unquestionably, these Germans have been working ceaselessly on Russian rockets.

By announcing an all-out attempt to hurl the "bird" into space, for all the world to see, we have won another great psychological victory over the Kremlin. Millions, maybe billions, will be able to observe that we—with the knowledge of how to suspend an H-bomb over their heads as if dangling it by a hair—chose to put a tiny research laboratory up there for the good of all. Russian propagandists will have a most difficult time thereafter attempting to persuade the people that we are brutal aggressors and exploiters.

Not since Lucius Quintius Cincinnatus literally beat his sword into a plowshare, after defeating the Aequians in an economy-sized 1-day battle in 458 A. D., has an implement of war undergone a faster and more gentle metamorphosis than the change in the A-bomb and the V-1. We finished World War I with an arsenal of dusty junk and barrels of poison gas that had to be dumped at sea. Herbert Hoover noted recently that we were stuck with $30,000,000,000 of obsolete arms at the end of World War II. But the bomb wasn't one and, as of President Eisenhower's announcement of last Friday, neither was Germany's V-2. One now makes the wheels go around and the other will help to spin a shiny ball around the earth.

Many Misconceptions Spread About Food

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Many erroneous beliefs and misconceptions make the rounds in every generation and sometimes it takes years to disprove them. Some of these myths arise through over-evaluation of a product by means of advertising. The origin of others is buried deep in folklore.

The fear that tomato juice would thin the blood might have arisen because of its color. Years ago, housewives soaked cucumbers in salt water to draw out the poison. Not many people today take these fairy tales seriously.

But some still think that oranges are acid formers. This is understandable because this citric fruit does contain acid but its chemical form changes after being digested and used by the body. It leaves an alkaline residue in the blood and tissues, rather than an acid ash.

Would-be reducers tend to indulge in fruit juices freely, thinking they have no calories. Actually, they contain natural sugars and sugar usually is added to the canned and frozen varieties. A generous glass of unsweetened orange juice yields 80 calories; count 20 more if it is sweetened.

How about consuming milk and and citrus fruits at the same meal? Millions do it every morning at breakfast without harm. Milk is curdled by acid, whether it is from the orange juice or the stomach but this helps to digest the fluid. In this respect, you can safely take a spoonful of cereal and milk and a sip of orange juice in succession.

Another fallacy along this line is the danger of mixing fish and milk. Others ask us to eat lots of carrots to improve vision and not to eat lettuce because it contains a narcotic. There are many other fables of this kind.

The recent publicity on the relationship between cholesterol and arteriosclerosis has led many persons to avoid high cholesterol foods such as eggs, cream, and animal fats. These priority nutriments should not be eliminated from the diet on circumstantial evidence alone. After all, cholesterol forms in the body readily and the amount present in the blood seems to have little relation to the amount eaten.

A somewhat similar myth existed years ago when the notion was widespread that meat was hard on the kidneys. The fact that in certain types of kidney disease proteins are not advised was misconstrued to mean that meat damages normal kidneys. This is not true.

Try And Stop Me!

Teddy Roosevelt's political trademarks were a big stick and a wide-brimmed black sombrero. He came by the sombrero, asserts Hermann Hagedorn in "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill," purely by accident.

Just before the nominating convention of 1900, one of T.R.'s children bopped him on the side of the head with a rock. The kid went out to work on his control, and T.R. went in to apply lotions. The lump just grew and grew, however, so Teddy seized the sombrero to conceal his condition from the public. When he saw the hit that it scored, he wore a sombrero for the rest of his life!

"Why," persisted the judge, "did you hit your poor husband over the head with a lamp?" "May it please your honor," sighed the wife, eyeing her bandaged husband coldly, "every other article of furniture in the parlor was too heavy to lift."

Coexistence Isn't Going To Be Easy

"Peaceful coexistence" line of communist propaganda insists that only the aggressive designs of the ruling circles of the West deprive the world's peoples of the peace they crave. But it is not easy to coexist peacefully with a communist-ruled nation.

The shooting down of a commercial airliner by Bulgaria, killing all 58 persons aboard is the latest of a long series of reminders of that.

The 58 persons aboard were not permitted to coexist, or even to exist at all. The plane, an Israeli-owned Constellation, was en route from Vienna to Istanbul. A beeline air route between the two cities would cross Bulgaria, but the usual route lies through Yugoslavia and Greece, passing at some points about three miles west of the Bulgarian border.

This sort of thing happens only in communist countries which follow the Moscow line. Last July the Chinese communists shot down a British passenger plane over international waters, and compounded the offense—to their cost—by attacking American rescue planes on a mission of mercy. An American weather plane was shot down off the Alaskan coast while top Moscow reds were being entertained in San Francisco.

Bulgaria has admitted the incident and apologized. But apologies in Sofia and smiling courtesy in Geneva should never lead the civilized world to forget that when it has intercourse with communist lands it is dealing with ruthless, violent rulers with whom strong nations may coexist with difficulty, while their weaker neighbors are not permitted to coexist at all as independent states.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Division Of Powers

No society can long remain static. Events force changes in structure, just as ideas force changes in the nature of government. The orderliness of a society is not to be measured by its capacity to reject change but by the strength of its institutions to withstand change without due process. The difference between the conservative and the radical is not the velocity of change but the method of development.

Our Constitution provides ample due process for affecting any kind of changes that the American people desire. As a matter of fact, by the process of amendment, the Government of the United States could be abolished altogether, to use an extreme example.

The basic structural theory of our government is the division of powers. So firmly was this idea adhered to by the Founding Fathers that the first three Articles of the Constitution, setting forth functions and limitations, follow the divisions of powers rigidly. The first three Articles are 1. The Legislative; 2. The Executive; 3. The Judicial.

The foreign affairs of the United States are conducted by the President, assisted by his Secretary of State, in accordance with the Constitution.

The Congress plays a Constitutional role in foreign relations as follows: 1. It declares war; 2. It ratifies treaties; 3. It appropriates funds for the conduct of foreign relations in peace and in war; it confirms the appointment of officers dealing with such matters. It may refuse to do any of these things.

The Judiciary plays no role in the conduct of foreign affairs, except as matters may arise out of law suits that come to its attention. The Judiciary plays no role in the formulation of policy, in the conduct of foreign relations, in the appropriation of funds or in any other way.

When, therefore, Justice William O. Douglas, while still a member of the Supreme Court, wherever he may be, holds forth on the foreign policy of the United States, he engages in an act of impropriety. When what he says is opposite to the stated policy of his country, as publicly declared by his government, his conduct is outrageous.

It has been said that while Douglas is Justice of the Supreme Court, he is also a citizen of the United States and that such a statement as he is reported to have made in Tokyo concerning our foreign policy has no official nature but is personal opinion. A person who appreciates the proprieties attending his position knows that certain offices require restraints of tongue because those who don the uniforms of some offices never are private persons. A Justice of the United States Supreme Court could not with propriety shoot crap, even at a private party; similarly, he ought to have better manners than to talk out of turn. If he wants to do a lot of free-and-easy talking, he ought to resign from a job that places upon him the restraints of position.

The phrase, "the dignity of a judge," had potent meaning in the United States and particularly as applied to Federal judges. They do not run for office; they do not have to compromise themselves by raising campaign funds; they do not have to curry the cheap plaudits of the mob. They are appointed for life or good behavior and it is expected of them that they shall remove themselves from vulgar living and wise-crack obiter dicta. They are expected to be aloof and dignified. To put it plainly, such living is part of their job and they are paid a salary to abide by it, just as a traffic cop is paid not to be drunk on his beat.

No one can prevent Justice Douglas from talking too much and about subjects which are constitutionally none of his official business. That has become a habit with him and because it is unusual, extraordinary and in bad taste, it makes news and he is assured a headline.

The big question is whether the United States has been maneuvered through the use of the imprisoned fliers into a position where America will be accused of obstructing peace in the Far East unless it lets Red China have something in exchange for its exhibition of alleged humanitarianism. The airmen, of course, never should have been kept in prison after the signing of the Panmunjom agreement, which pledged the return of all prisoners of war.

What "ransom" will America pay in the long run for the release of the 11 airmen? That's a question the answer to which only future events will reveal. It was a "unilateral" act for the Red Chinese to release them. What "unilateral" act is coming next from the American government? That's the real issue now.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Following an administration through Congress is like kibitzing a Bingo game with Mexican jumping beans.

Ike figures to do a little nuclear shopping on the fashionable side of the deficit. All he needs from the petrified cash drawer is around $7,895,054,684 pin money.

The House looks over the list and tells Ike to set on one.

It goes back to the committee on economical mistakes. Which refers it to the committee on Pennsylvania Avenue road blocks.

The three branches of government are the Executive, the Judicial and the Propositional. The Senate sends the dumpling back to the kitchen for more sauce.

The House Committee on Viewing with Suspicion adjourned last week. But not before recommending that we put wheels on the Treasury and back it up into Ike's lap.

Tom Dewey's Law Firm Tried To Sneak $2,200,000 Appropriation For Client

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Few people noticed it, but a neat litle appropriation of $2,200,000 was sneaked through Congress at the last minute, thanks to ex-Governor Tom Dewey of New York. It was the first bit of lobbying Dewey has done since he left the Governor's office to take up private law.

His lobbying, incidentally, was done for a Democrat—the Harvey Machine Company of Los Angeles, of which partner Lawrence Harvey has been active in Democratic circles and was once considered as Democratic committeeman from California.

It all goes to show that if you hire the right lawyer, you can get things done in Washington regardless of politics.

What happened was that the Harvey Company has been lobbying frantically to put up an aluminum plant at the Dalles, Ore., on the Columbia River, not far from Bonneville Dam.

To do this they wanted: 1. a contract from the government guaranteeing to buy part of their production for five years; 2. a certificate of tax amortization permitting them to write off capital expenses over five years; and 3. they wanted the government to build an electric power line from Bonneville to the Dalles. The latter was to cost $2,200,000 and would give the Harvey Company cheap government power.

To get this done, the Harveys employed Governor Dewey's law firm, and Dewey sent to Washington James F. Nickerson, once with Roosevelt's NRA and now a Dewey law partner.

"Free Enterprise"

Nickerson camped on the doorstep of Secretary of Interior McKay, hounded Undersecretary of Interior Clarence Davis, worked with Senators to get quick action for the Harveys.

These are days when business is supposed to be imbued with the spirit of free enterprise. But both Reynolds Metals and the Kaiser Aluminum Company have had gilt-edged contracts from the government and did not expand their aluminum factories until the government practically guaranteed a profit. Harvey felt it was only fair that he should get the same.

Secretary McKay, however, argued that Harvey should first build his plant at the Dalles, after which he would get the electric power line built from Bonneville Dam. Secretary McKay thought the horse should go before the cart, and that the plant should be built before the transmission lines were authorized.

Governor Dewey's law firm, however, argued that the cart should come before the horse. Finally Dewey got action. At the last minute the Senate okayed a special rider giving the Harveys $2,200,000.

The money, however, finally got stopped in the House. There eagle-eyed Congressman Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, spotted the Senate's sneak bill and started to kill it. Equally suspicious was Cannon's associate, Joe Evins of Tennessee. However, they consulted with Congressman Wright Patman's Small Business Committee, which advised that it was important to get more competition in the aluminum industry, regardless of Governor Dewey's lobbying.

But in the end the appropriation was killed in conference committee. While Dewey was on the right side, Democrats couldn't swallow the fact that for two years straight the Republican director of the budget had recommended against the $2,200,000 and only reversed himself after Dewey got into the picture.

Battle Over Health

It missed the headlines during the mad rush to adjourn Congress, but a backstage conference of Senators and Representatives quietly knifed part of the money to be spent on cancer, heart disease, arthritis and other diseases. Chief knife-wielder was a Democrat—Congressman John Fogarty of Rhode Island, though he could not have functioned without almost 100 per cent support from Republicans.

What happened was that the Senate, under the leadership of Alabama's Lister Hill, had appropriated $23,000,000 more for health than Mrs. Hobby, retiring head of health, education, and welfare, asked for. The House, however, appropriated $22,000,000 less than the Senate.

And when the conferees between the two bodies locked horns in secret session to iron out the difference, a battle royal ensued. On one side were Chairman Hill, Chavez of New Mexico, Stennis of Mississippi, Magnuson of Washington, all Democrats, fighting for more money to find cures for the nation's dread diseases. Aligned with them were two health-minded Republicans, Thye of Minnesota and Potter of Michigan, also anxious to improve the nation's health.

But across the table from them, most of the Republican Congressmen were solid with Democrat Fogarty, the chairman, also Lanham of Rome, Georgia, and Fernandez of Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Over and over again, Fogarty repeated: "They don't need the money, they don't need the money."

Intermittently, for six weeks the conferees argued. The House committeemen had not heard the testimony, as did the Senate, of such expert witnesses as Dr. Paul White of Boston, the heart specialist; of Dr. Sidney Farber, the cancer specialist, or Dr. Cornelius Rhoads of the New York Memorial Hospital. Without hearing all the testimony, they just stood pat.

Finally the Senators managed to get about $8,000,000 extra out of the congressmen — $2,500,000 for cancer; $1,500,000 for heart; $2,000,000 for arthritis; $1,000,000 for neurological diseases; $985,000 for contagious diseases; and $500,000 for basic research.

But they failed to get $15,000,000 for hospitals, $4,000,000 for crippled children, and $3,000,000 for vocational education.

Psychological Victory

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (INS)—The most terrifying weapon of World War II was the atomic bomb. Second, or close to second, was the V-2 rocket. But in ten short years we now have the "powder" of the A-bomb running peaceful turbines and generating power. And the V-2, or a reasonable facsimile, has now been cast in the role of a mighty hand that will enable man to reach into the limitless unknowns of space.

No scientific developments were ever more closely guarded than the bomb and the mighty rocket. But now our enemies are invited to share our peaceful knowledge of atomic energy and are invited to tune in on whatever is electronically revealed by the "bird." This is the affectionate name for the basketball-sized object which will be thrust into the ionosphere at 18,000 miles an hour, there to spin around the earth every hour and a half until diminishing speed enables the magnetic core of the earth to drag the object back to disintegrate in the 50 mile deep layer of thick air in which we humans crawl.

At the atoms-for-peace exhibit on the grounds of the Palais des Nations in Geneva, where Russia learned how to say "nyet" with a smile instead of a fang-bared snarl, all printed descriptions of marvels on display are in English, French and Russian. The mysteries and magic of the "ball" will be similarly explained, despite the expressed alarm of several members of the Congress.

The President's thinking in all this would seem to be pretty plain. Russia has been able to build a small atomic reactor which is already producing power. It was proudly shown to Pandit Nehru on his recent trip to Moscow. Russia's plans for a 100,000 kilowatt atomic power station will be spread before the West at next week's international atom show at Geneva. It would have been psychologically calamitous to our prestige if Russia rather than the United States had become the agent who offered the world information and assistance in the spread of peaceful atomic energy.

It is known, too, that the Red army's "talent scouts," a group which searched out and frequently seized outstanding German scientists and technicians and packed them off to work in Russia, harvested a bumper crop when the Red army moved in on Peenamunde. It was there that the V-1 and V-2 had taken shape and where there were plans not only for an intercontinental ballistic missile which might reach New York City from a German launching base but, also, sketches and plans for a "space platform" grander in all respects than the "bird." Unquestionably, these Germans have been working ceaselessly on Russian rockets.

By announcing an all-out attempt to hurl the "bird" into space, for all the world to see, we have won another great psychological victory over the Kremlin. Millions, maybe billions, will be able to observe that we—with the knowledge of how to suspend an H-bomb over their heads as if dangling it by a hair—chose to put a tiny research laboratory up there for the good of all. Russian propagandists will have a most difficult time thereafter attempting to persuade the people that we are brutal aggressors and exploiters.

Not since Lucius Quintius Cincinnatus literally beat his sword into a plowshare, after defeating the Aequians in an economy-sized 1-day battle in 458 A. D., has an implement of war undergone a faster and more gentle metamorphosis than the change in the A-bomb and the V-1. We finished World War I with an arsenal of dusty junk and barrels of poison gas that had to be dumped at sea. Herbert Hoover noted recently that we were stuck with $30,000,000,000 of obsolete arms at the end of World War II. But the bomb wasn't one and, as of President Eisenhower's announcement of last Friday, neither was Germany's V-2. One now makes the wheels go around and the other will help to spin a shiny ball around the earth.

Many Misconceptions Spread About Food

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Many erroneous beliefs and misconceptions make the rounds in every generation and sometimes it takes years to disprove them. Some of these myths arise through over-evaluation of a product by means of advertising. The origin of others is buried deep in folklore.

The fear that tomato juice would thin the blood might have arisen because of its color. Years ago, housewives soaked cucumbers in salt water to draw out the poison. Not many people today take these fairy tales seriously.

But some still think that oranges are acid formers. This is understandable because this citric fruit does contain acid but its chemical form changes after being digested and used by the body. It leaves an alkaline residue in the blood and tissues, rather than an acid ash.

Would-be reducers tend to indulge in fruit juices freely, thinking they have no calories. Actually, they contain natural sugars and sugar usually is added to the canned and frozen varieties. A generous glass of unsweetened orange juice yields 80 calories; count 20 more if it is sweetened.

How about consuming milk and and citrus fruits at the same meal? Millions do it every morning at breakfast without harm. Milk is curdled by acid, whether it is from the orange juice or the stomach but this helps to digest the fluid. In this respect, you can safely take a spoonful of cereal and milk and a sip of orange juice in succession.

Another fallacy along this line is the danger of mixing fish and milk. Others ask us to eat lots of carrots to improve vision and not to eat lettuce because it contains a narcotic. There are many other fables of this kind.

The recent publicity on the relationship between cholesterol and arteriosclerosis has led many persons to avoid high cholesterol foods such as eggs, cream, and animal fats. These priority nutriments should not be eliminated from the diet on circumstantial evidence alone. After all, cholesterol forms in the body readily and the amount present in the blood seems to have little relation to the amount eaten.

A somewhat similar myth existed years ago when the notion was widespread that meat was hard on the kidneys. The fact that in certain types of kidney disease proteins are not advised was misconstrued to mean that meat damages normal kidneys. This is not true.

UNUSUAL SEQUENCE

F. B. writes: Can longstanding spastic bowel lead to cancer?
REPLY

The cause of cancer is not known but considering the number of individuals who suffer from a spastic bowel, I doubt if any relationship exists.

IRKED BY HEAT

D. N. writes: Why does hot weather cause some people to become cranky?
REPLY

Uncomfortable people often become cranky people. This is the nature of their temperament.

PLUGGED EARS

D. F. writes: What, besides wax, causes the ears to become plugged every now and then?
REPLY

Inflammation, eczema, or ringworm of the outer ear canal. A feeling of fullness with slight deafness occurs when the eustachian tube is blocked. This condition is associated with cold, allergy, or flying at a high altitude.

BIRTHMARK REMOVAL

Mrs. Y. writes: My 12½ year old boy has a large, black, hairy birthmark on the side of his neck which is giving him an inferiority complex. When he was younger, the skin doctors advised leaving it alone but now that he is older I wonder if something could be done.
REPLY

Some birthmarks are best left alone. But there is no reason why you cannot get another opinion, now that the boy is old enough to be conscious of the blemish.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Teddy Roosevelt's political trademarks were a big stick and a wide-brimmed black sombrero. He came by the sombrero, asserts Hermann Hagedorn in "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill," purely by accident.

Just before the nominating convention of 1900, one of T.R.'s children bopped him on the side of the head with a rock. The kid went out to work on his control, and T.R. went in to apply lotions. The lump just grew and grew, however, so Teddy seized the sombrero to conceal his condition from the public. When he saw the hit that it scored, he wore a sombrero for the rest of his life!

"Why," persisted the judge, "did you hit your poor husband over the head with a lamp?" "May it please your honor," sighed the wife, eyeing her bandaged husband coldly, "every other article of furniture in the parlor was too heavy to lift."

Robt. W. Jones Receives State College Post

Named Successor To Stanley Stahl

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College has announced that Robert W. Jones, LaVale, and formerly of Frostburg, has been appointed instructor in education courses at Frostburg State Teachers College to succeed Stanley Stahl who resigned July 23, to accent a position at the University of Wisconsin. Jones will also work in the area of visual education, counseling, and alumni relations to college.

Jones, a native of Frostburg, graduated from Beall High School and from Frostburg State Normal in 1926. He earned his Master of Arts degree at the University of Maryland in 1940. He is currently working for his doctorate at the same institution.

President Hardesty stated that Jones brings to the college a background of experience in both elementary and secondary schools, having taught in both and having been a principal. He also brings to the college a rich background of counseling experience, having served in pupil personnel work for the Board of Education of Allegany County for the past eight years.

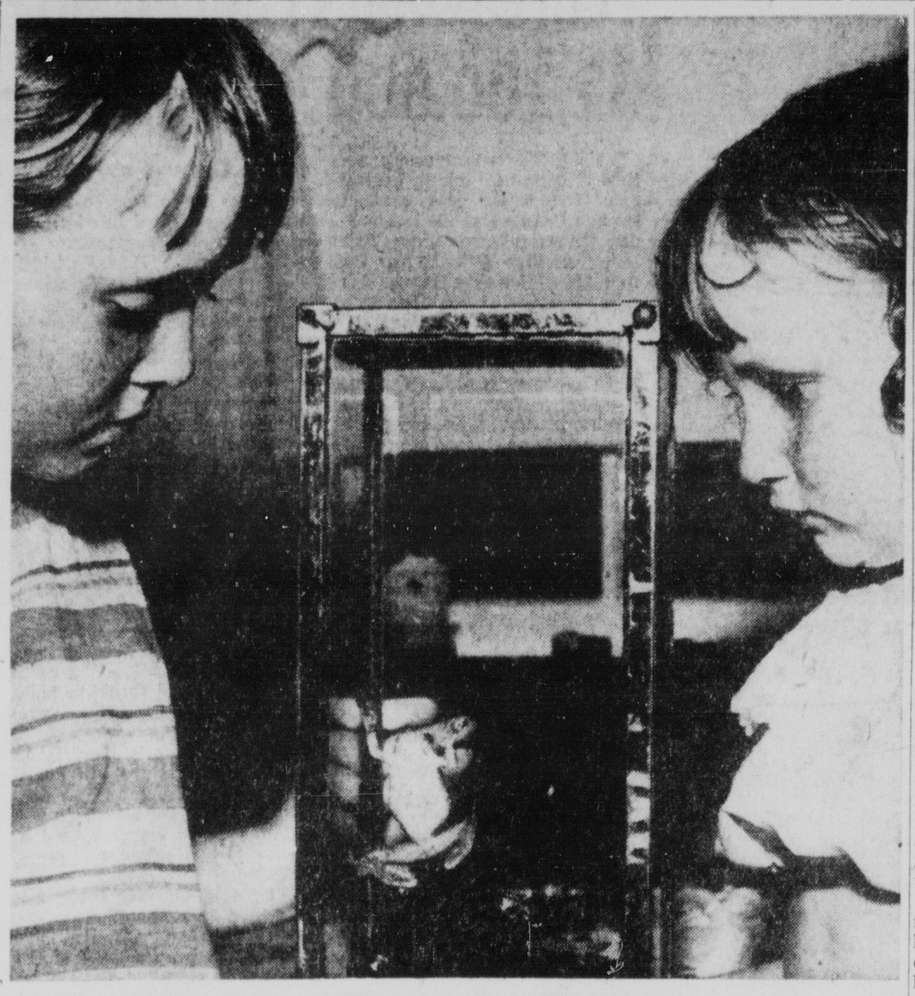

While in the armed services, 1942-45, Jones served as an occupational counselor.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Frostburg where he is an elder. He is a member of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion; Frostburg Lodge B. P. O. Elks, and of Frostburg Rotary Club of which he is a past president. He served as treasurer for two years for the State of Maryland Pupil Personnel Organization, related to his work with the Board of Education.

Jones is corresponding secretary and a member of the executive board of the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers. He is a member of the Association for Childhood Education and of the Maryland and National Education Association. He is affiliated with Beta Epsilon of Phi Delta Kappa.

Mr. Jones and his family reside in Woodlawn, LaVale. His wife is the former Miss Arva Eye, Harrisonburg, Va., and they have one son, Douglas, 8 years old.

Hardesty said the appointment is effective September, 1.

Mystery Toad Is Curiosity

A "mystery" toad, or maybe it's a frog, was captured last week by Ellsworth Russell, custodian of Valley High School, Lonaconing. The little creature was nimbly climbing a rear wall of the school building when Russell captured him. Science teachers have studied him and say he is a rare specimen in this area. They give him a very scientific name, "hyla-versicolor" and describe him as a sort of tree toad. These two youngsters, Lee Ann and Karen Fair are among many who went to see the little fellow and watch him climb the glass sides of his terrarium. He has suction cup-like tips on each foot and has the capacity of changing color to suit his surroundings, much like a chameleon. The little fellow can be seen at the home of DeSales Maher in Midland.

Keyser Citizens Protest Land Fill Operation

Petition Halts Council Proposal

KEYSER—The mayor and council received something of a shock at Tuesday's council meeting when almost 1,000 citizens invoked their right to petition, and raised strong opposition to a proposed garbage disposal ordinance.

The mayor and council have been planning to pass an ordinance which will permit a land fill operation for disposal of garbage in the town, but townspeople believe the costs of this sanitary fill project are excessive.

A petition bearing 957 signatures was presented to council in opposition to the plan.

Officials pointed out that under West Virginia law, citizens have the right to petition and the code provides that 10 percent of the total vote cast at the last municipal election is adequate in such instances.

The petition must be checked against county pole books to determine if the signers are legal voters.

The next move is up to the mayor and council, and the problem of the petition, and garbage disposal will be discussed at length, it was indicated.

Pair Held In Road Case

ROMNEY—Major motor vehicle law violations face two Virginians as a result of a wreck at the intersection of Routes 50 and 45 in Hampshire County Monday night.

Sgt. Robert Schnell, head of the Romney detachment of West Virginia State Police, said he has arrested Ralph J. May and Silas O. Collins, both of Bergton, Va.

Sgt. Schnell said May drove the car owned by Collins onto Route 50 in front of the oncoming machine operated by George B. Stump of RD 4, Winchester.

Stump could not avoid hitting the Collins car broadside, Sgt. Schnell reported.

The Collins car was a total wreck, while Stump's auto was badly damaged.

May has been charged with driving without an operator's permit and with the violation of a serious motor law. Collins is charged with permitting the unlicensed operator to drive his car.

Collins was treated for a head laceration by a Romney physician.

Keyser Area Asks More Water Pressure

KEYSER — A group of citizens from the Virginia Avenue section near the town limit line, appealed to the Mayor and Council yesterday for adequate water pressure.

Mrs. Harry Hamilton and Mrs. Mildred Davis, speaking for residents of the hill area, pleaded for some assistance in aiding the area to obtain a sufficient water supply for home use. The women explained that a number of difficulties are created because water pressure in the area is insufficient, and there are sometimes long periods, when they are unable to get any water at all through the line.

The women, speaking for the neighborhood, said they realize that they are just outside the town limits, and are willing to share in the cost of a pumping station or whatever other system is devised to supply the area with proper water pressure.

Council members suggested that a booster pump on the single line which feeds the area might be an answer, while others thought the line should be enlarged. In any event, the water department was asked to make an immediate survey and report back to council.

City Clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. submitted his report to the council, showing the financial position during July. In the general fund receipts and balance on hand during the month totaled $16,965.19. Disbursements totaled $6,337.17, leaving a balance on hand of $10,628.02 at the end of the month.

This sum, less checks issued the first two days in August provided a balance on hand yesterday, of $5,107.91.

Balances in other funds were shown on August 1, as:

Recreation, $2,144.78; Depreciation and Improvement, $800; Social Security, $118.31; Sinking Fund, none; Swimming Pool, $3,743.88; Police Department, $19,500.26; Water Department, $19,840.45; Street Department, $19,497.04; Fire Department, $2,303.78.

Robt. W. Jones Receives State College Post

Named Successor To Stanley Stahl

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College has announced that Robert W. Jones, LaVale, and formerly of Frostburg, has been appointed instructor in education courses at Frostburg State Teachers College to succeed Stanley Stahl who resigned July 23, to accent a position at the University of Wisconsin. Jones will also work in the area of visual education, counseling, and alumni relations to college.

Jones, a native of Frostburg, graduated from Beall High School and from Frostburg State Normal in 1926. He earned his Master of Arts degree at the University of Maryland in 1940. He is currently working for his doctorate at the same institution.

President Hardesty stated that Jones brings to the college a background of experience in both elementary and secondary schools, having taught in both and having been a principal. He also brings to the college a rich background of counseling experience, having served in pupil personnel work for the Board of Education of Allegany County for the past eight years.

While in the armed services, 1942-45, Jones served as an occupational counselor.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Frostburg where he is an elder. He is a member of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion; Frostburg Lodge B. P. O. Elks, and of Frostburg Rotary Club of which he is a past president. He served as treasurer for two years for the State of Maryland Pupil Personnel Organization, related to his work with the Board of Education.

Jones is corresponding secretary and a member of the executive board of the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers. He is a member of the Association for Childhood Education and of the Maryland and National Education Association. He is affiliated with Beta Epsilon of Phi Delta Kappa.

Mr. Jones and his family reside in Woodlawn, LaVale. His wife is the former Miss Arva Eye, Harrisonburg, Va., and they have one son, Douglas, 8 years old.

Hardesty said the appointment is effective September, 1.

Mystery Toad Is Curiosity

A "mystery" toad, or maybe it's a frog, was captured last week by Ellsworth Russell, custodian of Valley High School, Lonaconing. The little creature was nimbly climbing a rear wall of the school building when Russell captured him. Science teachers have studied him and say he is a rare specimen in this area. They give him a very scientific name, "hyla-versicolor" and describe him as a sort of tree toad. These two youngsters, Lee Ann and Karen Fair are among many who went to see the little fellow and watch him climb the glass sides of his terrarium. He has suction cup-like tips on each foot and has the capacity of changing color to suit his surroundings, much like a chameleon. The little fellow can be seen at the home of DeSales Maher in Midland.

Thomas Youth On Probation Breaks Parole

THOMAS — A 13-year-old youth from Thomas was apprehended last Wednesday evening in Oakland, Md. after returning to that city from Winchester, Va. The youth had been placed on probation until the age of 18 years after appearing before Judge Ernest A. See of Keyser in the June term of court here. The juvenile along with an eleven-year-old youth had broken and entered the Main Street Food Market in Thomas on July 5, at which time they were both released in the custody of their parents and placed under a $500 bond.

The one juvenile had a record of breaking and entering the skating rink at Thomas and the Western Maryland station at Hendricks.

On Saturday evening, July 16, the same juvenile broke into and entered the Main Street Food Market in Thomas for the second time and took all of the loose change in the cash register along with candy, cigarettes, and cigars. He left Thomas Monday morning and started hitchhiking toward Washington.

Lambert Named Board Member

PARSONS — J. Kenton Lambert of Parsons was appointed as member at large on the Board of Trustees of the Tucker County Extension program for a period of two years by members of the Tucker County Court at their meeting held in the Court House here.

Burley C. Bohon of Parsons was approved by the County Court as a Notary Public and his application was sent to Charleston for appointment.

The court granted a request of the County Clerk to have an auditor appear in the near future to audit the books of the office of the County Clerk. The County Court also made their report on the inspection of the county jail for the quarter and showed that the prisoners were being properly cared for, the building neat and orderly and offered no recommendations. The members also voted to have the Public Ladies Rest Room in the basement of the court house repaired, and they unanimously voted approval of the Budget for the Tucker County Extension office as presented by N. Carl Hardin Jr.

Keyser Citizens Protest Land Fill Operation

Petition Halts Council Proposal

KEYSER—The mayor and council received something of a shock at Tuesday's council meeting when almost 1,000 citizens invoked their right to petition, and raised strong opposition to a proposed garbage disposal ordinance.

The mayor and council have been planning to pass an ordinance which will permit a land fill operation for disposal of garbage in the town, but townspeople believe the costs of this sanitary fill project are excessive.

A petition bearing 957 signatures was presented to council in opposition to the plan.

Officials pointed out that under West Virginia law, citizens have the right to petition and the code provides that 10 percent of the total vote cast at the last municipal election is adequate in such instances.

The petition must be checked against county pole books to determine if the signers are legal voters.

The next move is up to the mayor and council, and the problem of the petition, and garbage disposal will be discussed at length, it was indicated.

Pair Held In Road Case

ROMNEY—Major motor vehicle law violations face two Virginians as a result of a wreck at the intersection of Routes 50 and 45 in Hampshire County Monday night.

Sgt. Robert Schnell, head of the Romney detachment of West Virginia State Police, said he has arrested Ralph J. May and Silas O. Collins, both of Bergton, Va.

Sgt. Schnell said May drove the car owned by Collins onto Route 50 in front of the oncoming machine operated by George B. Stump of RD 4, Winchester.

Stump could not avoid hitting the Collins car broadside, Sgt. Schnell reported.

The Collins car was a total wreck, while Stump's auto was badly damaged.

May has been charged with driving without an operator's permit and with the violation of a serious motor law. Collins is charged with permitting the unlicensed operator to drive his car.

Collins was treated for a head laceration by a Romney physician.

Keyser Area Asks More Water Pressure

KEYSER — A group of citizens from the Virginia Avenue section near the town limit line, appealed to the Mayor and Council yesterday for adequate water pressure.

Mrs. Harry Hamilton and Mrs. Mildred Davis, speaking for residents of the hill area, pleaded for some assistance in aiding the area to obtain a sufficient water supply for home use. The women explained that a number of difficulties are created because water pressure in the area is insufficient, and there are sometimes long periods, when they are unable to get any water at all through the line.

The women, speaking for the neighborhood, said they realize that they are just outside the town limits, and are willing to share in the cost of a pumping station or whatever other system is devised to supply the area with proper water pressure.

Council members suggested that a booster pump on the single line which feeds the area might be an answer, while others thought the line should be enlarged. In any event, the water department was asked to make an immediate survey and report back to council.

City Clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. submitted his report to the council, showing the financial position during July. In the general fund receipts and balance on hand during the month totaled $16,965.19. Disbursements totaled $6,337.17, leaving a balance on hand of $10,628.02 at the end of the month.

This sum, less checks issued the first two days in August provided a balance on hand yesterday, of $5,107.91.

Balances in other funds were shown on August 1, as:

Recreation, $2,144.78; Depreciation and Improvement, $800; Social Security, $118.31; Sinking Fund, none; Swimming Pool, $3,-743.88; Police Department, $19,-500.26; Water Department, $19,-840.45; Street Department, $19,-497.04; Fire Department, $2,303.78.

Dixie Howell Stops Red Sox In 9th Frame

Pale Hose Reliefer Retires Eddie Joost With 3rd Occupied

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Chicago's Dixie Howell, second relief pitcher of the inning, retired veteran Eddie Joost with the potential tying run on third base tonight, to preserve a 2-1 victory over Boston and keep the White Sox on top in the torrid American League pennant race.

Pinch hitter Fay Throneberry had just tripled in a Boston run with two out in the ninth when Manager Marty Marion called on Howell. The count ran to 3-2 on Joost before Jim Busby hauled in a fly ball in center field that ended the game.

Connie Johnson, 32-year-old righthander hurling his fourth victory in five decisions since his June 30 recall from Toronto, was within one out of a complete game when the Red Sox brewed trouble.

Johnson got behind Throneberry 2-0 after yielding a single to Jim Piersall and Marion waved in lefty Morrie Martin to face lefthander Throneberry.

The cool, mechanical Johnson's efforts added to those of his reliefers spelled a seven-hitter and maintained Chicago's American League one game lead over New York which defeated Cleveland 2-1.

The fourth place Red Sox are four games behind.

Reds Cop Pair, Gus Bell Stars

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2 (AP)—Centerfielder Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Redlegs drove in both runs in the first game with singles and homered twice in the second as the Reds shut out the Philadelphia Phillies twice tonight, 2-0 and 4-0.

Righthander Johnny Klippstein scattered six hits in the opener of the twi-nighter and southpaw Joe Nuxhall yielded five safeties in the nightcap. The double victory gave them seven triumphs in a row.

Praise For Dressen

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Chuck Stobbs took time out from his duties as a pitcher for the Washington Senators to return to his native Norfolk and address the Norfolk Sports Club.

The righthander paid high tribute to Washington manager Chuck Dressen.

"Dressen is the greatest manager I've ever played under," Stobbs said. "He's a stickler for baseball, makes all the decisions on the field — sends players to the bullpen, and makes all the moves himself.

"I've never seen anyone like him when it comes to stealing the other team's signs. It's amazing the way he does it."

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Johnny O'Donnell of Norfolk is making a habit of winning the Virginia State Open golf championship. The stocky Irishman has been the victor five times, the last three in succession. He won the 1955 crown with an eight-under-par 272 for the 72 holes over the 6,186-yard Ocean View course.

Dapper Dan Players To See Giants-Bucs Clash On August 20

A meeting of managers of Dapper Dan Little League teams will be held Monday, August 8 at 8 p. m. at the Eagles Home (first floor) for the purpose of arranging transportation for the players of the league to Pittsburgh on Saturday, August 20 for the game between the Giants and Pirates.

Announcement was made yesterday that proceeds of the Mills Brothers Circus, $204.81, will be turned over to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children. The circus was sponsored by the Dapper Dan Club and the Alhambra Club.

County League All-Stars Top R. C. Team, 4-1

Brelsford Victor Over Underdonk

Manager Jimmy Allen's County Softball League All-Stars defeated the Rocking Chair League All-Stars of Cumberland in their annual game yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 4-1.

The game was played for the players' insurance fund of both leagues and netted approximately $37.

Joe Raygor of the Sports Shoppe started on the mound for the County team and gave way to Junior Brelsford of the Potomac Valley Old Germans in the fourth with the count knotted at 1-1. Brelsford held a 2-1 lead in the 7th when he retired in favor of Hayden Phillips, of the Old Germans. The County Leaguers scored two insurance runs in the top of the ninth.

Al Sheetz of the Eagles worked the first four innings for the Rocking Chair aggregation and was relieved in the 5th by Bill Underdonk of the Elks with the score tied at 1-1. The latter yielded three runs in the last four frames and was charged with the loss.

Bill Ware of Potomac Valley and Leonard Emerick, of the Sports Shoppe, paced the winners with two hits each. Bob Pence of the Elks and "Red" Ingram of the Eagles shared four of the R. C. team's six safeties. There were no extra base hits.

The County League All-Stars won last year's game by the score of 6-1. Score:

Collins Poles Two Homers To Sink Tribe

Second Comes In 10th Inning, Giving Byrne Decision Over Wynn

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — Joe Collins belted his second home run of the game with one out in the 10th inning tonight, breaking up a 1-1 tie and giving New York a 2-1 victory over Cleveland while lifting the Yankees out of a second place tie with the Indians in the blistering American League race.

Collins' first shot, boomed into the lower right-field seats, had pulled the Yanks into the 1-1 tie with the Tribe in the first inning.

From then on, it was a tight cat-and-mouse pitching battle between New York's Tommy Byrne and Cleveland's Early Wynn.

Cleveland	100 000 000 0—1 7 0
New York	100 000 000 1—2 9 0

Wynn and Hegan; Byrne and Berra.

Both mound veterans were touched for hits that set up crucial moments, but each was tough in the clutch.

The 35-year-old Wynn, losing his sixth game in 19 decisions, gave nine hits, fanned five and walked just one—on a controversial 3-2 pitch in the eighth. Byrne, the 35-year-old lefty who now has won 10 while losing only 2 for the Yanks, allowed 7 hits, fanned 5 and walked 4.

Cleveland appeared to have Byrne on the ropes in the late innings, but the crafty veteran pitched out of the trouble and left five runners stranded in the seventh, eighth and ninth.

In the seventh, the Indians had runners on third and first with one out after singles by Larry Doby and George Strickland. Byrne then walked Jim Hegan on a 3-2 pitch to load the bases, but got Wynn on a doubleplay ball.

Dapper Phillies Whip Yanks, 11-8

The Phillies took the measure of the Yankees in a Dapper Division (Dapper Dan League) game last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 11-8.

Charley Boone registered his fourth win against a single loss, fanning 10 and issuing five walks. Mike Aaron, who relieved Garlitz, Yankees' starting pitcher, in the third inning, whiffed 10 batters.

Glenn Shipaway paced the Phillies' offensive with a double and two singles while Russ Griffey, Boone, Richard Smith and Fred Schindler had two hits each. Leatherman, Aaron and Bosley hit for the circuit for the Yankees. Six of the losers' 12 hits were shared by Aaron and Leatherman. Score:

PHILLIES	511 040—11 12 1
YANKEES	201 311— 8 10 4

B'nai B'rith Annexes Pair

Extends Win String To Seven Contests

Copping both ends of a double bill yesterday at Fort Hill Field, B'nai B'rith extended its winning streak to seven games in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

In the opening game, B'nai B'rith walloped the Jaycees, 15-3, while in the nightcap, a game continued from earlier in the season due to the curfew, the Exchange Club went down to a 6-4 defeat.

Gary Shook smashed a homer and three singles for a perfect day in the first tilt. Gary Wolford smacked a triple for the Jaycees who collected their four hits for their three runs in the fourth frame.

Whitey Slonaker hammered a double and Larry Burns larruped a triple for B'nai B'rith in the abbreviated affair. Robinette hit a three-bagger for Exchange.

The double win gave B'nai B'rith an 8-5 record. The undefeated Kiwanis Club (13-0) will be met in the final game of the regular schedule for both teams on Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at Penn Avenue.

Exchange Club rallied for two runs in the ninth frame to nose out the Jaycees in a game continued from July 7 yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 7-6. Doc Richards slammed a homer and two singles for Exchange. Jim O'Neal and Jimmy Kline of Exchange and Cranor, Davis and Wolford of the Jaycees had two blows each. Scores:

Manager Bob Ziler's Athletics, trailing 8-1, exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to defeat the Dodgers yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 9-8 and earned a berth in the Dapper Dan Little League playoffs.

The A's and the Dodgers, piloted by Jim Gaffney, were tied for second place in the Dan Division with 9-5 records prior to yesterday's contest. First and second place teams in each division of the circuit qualify for the playoffs.

In the "big" inning the Zilermen coupled five walks with an error, singles by Billy Norris and "Butch" Cross and a grand slam homer by Wellington Donahue that produced the last four runs of the eight-run rally. The circuit belt came at the expense of Mike Hadra.

The Athletics obtained only four hits but they were aided by ten bases on balls. Three of the hits came in the rousing fifth stanza.

Bobby Gaffney accounted for four of the Dodgers nine bingles while Hadra had a pair of singles.

Pen-Mar To Face Easton In State Title Contest

Hines Slated To Hurl In Battle On Shore

John "Lefty" Hines, of Cresaptown, is slated to pitch for the Pen-Mar All-Stars when the Allegany county team does battle with Easton today at 6 p. m. at Easton in the contest that will determine the Maryland Little League champions of 1955.

The winner of today's game goes to the sectional eliminations Saturday at Barrington, N. J., meeting the southern New Jersey champions.

Pen-Mar's team, piloted by Ted Femi, of LaVale, and Alden Lowery of Ellerslie, will be gunning for its sixth consecutive win in the statewide tourney. Frostburg, Oakland, Berkeley Springs-Hancock, Thurmont and Brooklyn Park of Baltimore already have fallen before the Pen-Mar aggregation.

Jim Willetts, Mickey Scaletta and Dave Folk are the Pen-Mar hurlers available for relief duty if needed.

The managers, 14 players and scorekeeper Oscar Waltman will leave for Easton this morning at 9 o'clock from the Mt. Savage Road and Route 40.

Connie Johnson, 32-year-old righthander hurling his fourth victory in five decisions since his June 30 recall from Toronto, was within one out of a complete game when the Red Sox brewed trouble.

Johnson got behind Throneberry 2-0 after yielding a single to Jim Piersall and Marion waved in lefty Morrie Martin to face lefthander Throneberry.

The cool, mechanical Johnson's efforts added to those of his reliefers spelled a seven-hitter and maintained Chicago's American League one game lead over New York which defeated Cleveland 2-1.

The fourth place Red Sox are four games behind.

Reds Cop Pair, Gus Bell Stars

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2 (AP)—Centerfielder Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Redlegs drove in both runs in the first game with singles and homered twice in the second as the Reds shut out the Philadelphia Phillies twice tonight, 2-0 and 4-0.

Righthander Johnny Klippstein scattered six hits in the opener of the twi-nighter and southpaw Joe Nuxhall yielded five safeties in the nightcap. The double victory gave them seven triumphs in a row.

Praise For Dressen

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Chuck Stobbs took time out from his duties as a pitcher for the Washington Senators to return to his native Norfolk and address the Norfolk Sports Club.

The righthander paid high tribute to Washington manager Chuck Dressen.

"Dressen is the greatest manager I've ever played under," Stobbs said. "He's a stickler for baseball, makes all the decisions on the field — sends players to the bullpen, and makes all the moves himself.

"I've never seen anyone like him when it comes to stealing the other team's signs. It's amazing the way he does it."

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Johnny O'Donnell of Norfolk is making a habit of winning the Virginia State Open golf championship. The stocky Irishman has been the victor five times, the last three in succession. He won the 1955 crown with an eight-under-par 272 for the 72 holes over the 6,186-yard Ocean View course.

Dapper Dan Players To See Giants-Bucs Clash On August 20

A meeting of managers of Dapper Dan Little League teams will be held Monday, August 8 at 8 p. m. at the Eagles Home (first floor) for the purpose of arranging transportation for the players of the league to Pittsburgh on Saturday, August 20 for the game between the Giants and Pirates.

Announcement was made yesterday that proceeds of the Mills Brothers Circus, $204.81, will be turned over to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children. The circus was sponsored by the Dapper Dan Club and the Alhambra Club.

County League All-Stars Top R. C. Team, 4-1

Brelsford Victor Over Underdonk

Manager Jimmy Allen's County Softball League All-Stars defeated the Rocking Chair League All-Stars of Cumberland in their annual game yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 4-1.

The game was played for the players' insurance fund of both leagues and netted approximately $37.

Joe Raygor of the Sports Shoppe started on the mound for the County team and gave way to Junior Brelsford of the Potomac Valley Old Germans in the fourth with the count knotted at 1-1. Brelsford held a 2-1 lead in the 7th when he retired in favor of Hayden Phillips, of the Old Germans. The County Leaguers scored two insurance runs in the top of the ninth.

Al Sheetz of the Eagles worked the first four innings for the Rocking Chair aggregation and was relieved in the 5th by Bill Underdonk of the Elks with the score tied at 1-1. The latter yielded three runs in the last four frames and was charged with the loss.

Bill Ware of Potomac Valley and Leonard Emerick, of the Sports Shoppe, paced the winners with two hits each. Bob Pence of the Elks and "Red" Ingram of the Eagles shared four of the R. C. team's six safeties. There were no extra base hits.

The County League All-Stars won last year's game by the score of 6-1. Score:

Collins Poles Two Homers To Sink Tribe

Second Comes In 10th Inning, Giving Byrne Decision Over Wynn

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — Joe Collins belted his second home run of the game with one out in the 10th inning tonight, breaking up a 1-1 tie and giving New York a 2-1 victory over Cleveland while lifting the Yankees out of a second place tie with the Indians in the blistering American League race.

Collins' first shot, boomed into the lower right-field seats, had pulled the Yanks into the 1-1 tie with the Tribe in the first inning.

From then on, it was a tight cat-and-mouse pitching battle between New York's Tommy Byrne and Cleveland's Early Wynn.

Cleveland	100 000 000 0—1 7 0
New York	100 000 000 1—2 9 0

Wynn and Hegan; Byrne and Berra.

Both mound veterans were touched for hits that set up crucial moments, but each was tough in the clutch.

The 35-year-old Wynn, losing his sixth game in 19 decisions, gave nine hits, fanned five and walked just one—on a controversial 3-2 pitch in the eighth. Byrne, the 35-year-old lefty who now has won 10 while losing only 2 for the Yanks, allowed 7 hits, fanned 5 and walked 4.

Cleveland appeared to have Byrne on the ropes in the late innings, but the crafty veteran pitched out of the trouble and left five runners stranded in the seventh, eighth and ninth.

In the seventh, the Indians had runners on third and first with one out after singles by Larry Doby and George Strickland. Byrne then walked Jim Hegan on a 3-2 pitch to load the bases, but got Wynn on a doubleplay ball.

Dapper Phillies Whip Yanks, 11-8

The Phillies took the measure of the Yankees in a Dapper Division (Dapper Dan League) game last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 11-8.

Charley Boone registered his fourth win against a single loss, fanning 10 and issuing five walks. Mike Aaron, who relieved Garlitz, Yankees' starting pitcher, in the third inning, whiffed 10 batters.

Glenn Shipaway paced the Phillies' offensive with a double and two singles while Russ Griffey, Boone, Richard Smith and Fred Schindler had two hits each. Leatherman, Aaron and Bosley hit for the circuit for the Yankees. Six of the losers' 12 hits were shared by Aaron and Leatherman. Score:

B'nai B'rith Annexes Pair

Extends Win String To Seven Contests

Copping both ends of a double bill yesterday at Fort Hill Field, B'nai B'rith extended its winning streak to seven games in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

In the opening game, B'nai B'rith walloped the Jaycees, 15-3, while in the nightcap, a game continued from earlier in the season due to the curfew, the Exchange Club went down to a 6-4 defeat.

Gary Shook smashed a homer and three singles for a perfect day in the first tilt. Gary Wolford smacked a triple for the Jaycees who collected their four hits for their three runs in the fourth frame.

Whitey Slonaker hammered a double and Larry Burns larruped a triple for B'nai B'rith in the abbreviated affair. Robinette hit a three-bagger for Exchange.

The double win gave B'nai B'rith an 8-5 record. The undefeated Kiwanis Club (13-0) will be met in the final game of the regular schedule for both teams on Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at Penn Avenue.

Exchange Club rallied for two runs in the ninth frame to nose out the Jaycees in a game continued from July 7 yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 7-6. Doc Richards slammed a homer and two singles for Exchange. Jim O'Neal and Jimmy Kline of Exchange and Cranor, Davis and Wolford of the Jaycees had two blows each. Scores:

Manager Bob Ziler's Athletics, trailing 8-1, exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to defeat the Dodgers yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 9-8 and earned a berth in the Dapper Dan Little League playoffs.

The A's and the Dodgers, piloted by Jim Gaffney, were tied for second place in the Dan Division with 9-5 records prior to yesterday's contest. First and second place teams in each division of the circuit qualify for the playoffs.

In the "big" inning the Zilermen coupled five walks with an error, singles by Billy Norris and "Butch" Cross and a grand slam homer by Wellington Donahue that produced the last four runs of the eight-run rally. The circuit belt came at the expense of Mike Hadra.

The Athletics obtained only four hits but they were aided by ten bases on balls. Three of the hits came in the rousing fifth stanza.

Bobby Gaffney accounted for four of the Dodgers nine bingles while Hadra had a pair of singles.

Pen-Mar To Face Easton In State Title Contest

Hines Slated To Hurl In Battle On Shore

John "Lefty" Hines, of Cresaptown, is slated to pitch for the Pen-Mar All-Stars when the Allegany county team does battle with Easton today at 6 p. m. at Easton in the contest that will determine the Maryland Little League champions of 1955.

The winner of today's game goes to the sectional eliminations Saturday at Barrington, N. J., meeting the southern New Jersey champions.

Pen-Mar's team, piloted by Ted Femi, of LaVale, and Alden Lowery of Ellerslie, will be gunning for its sixth consecutive win in the statewide tourney. Frostburg, Oakland, Berkeley Springs-Hancock, Thurmont and Brooklyn Park of Baltimore already have fallen before the Pen-Mar aggregation.

Jim Willetts, Mickey Scaletta and Dave Folk are the Pen-Mar hurlers available for relief duty if needed.

The managers, 14 players and scorekeeper Oscar Waltman will leave for Easton this morning at 9 o'clock from the Mt. Savage Road and Route 40.

Jim Hosack, Allegany High Assistant Grid Coach, Resigns

Joins Faculty At Frostburg State College

Served As Assistant To Pence And Lester For Past Eight Years

James Arthur Hosack, 43, assistant football coach at Allegany High School since 1947, has resigned to join the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, it was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools.

Hosack came to Allegany High eight years ago as science teacher and physical education instructor and also served as assistant to Robert E. Pence, head grid mentor, up to the time the latter resigned to accept the position as director of the City Recreation Department. In recent years Hosack has coached the Allegany High junior varsity football teams and was assistant to Head Coach Roy Lester.

A native of Blairsville, Pa., Hosack started his teaching career at that place in 1934 and in 1942 transferred to Finley Vocational School at Imperial, Pa. He saw military service from 1944 to 1946 and during the 1946-47 term he taught at Saltsburg (Pa.) High School. The following year he joined the teaching staff at the Campobello school.

In addition to his duties as assistant grid mentor, Hosack officiated in numerous basketball games in the tri-state area during the last several years. At the present time he is attending summer school at the University of Pittsburgh.

The Hosacks plan to remain in Cumberland as Mrs. Christina Hosack is first grade teacher at the Cumberland Valley Elementary School, Centerville, Pa., and their daughter is in the ninth grade at Allegany High School.

Superintendent Webster said that no successor has been named to replace Hosack at the Campobello school.

Hosack is the second Allegany High mentor to resign within a month. Walter L. Bowers has retired as basketball mentor and Eugene Shaw was named as his successor.

Eckard limited Central to seven hits, which included two singles by Ronnie Twigg, while his mates nicked Graham for a dozen safeties. Joe Leighty with a triple, double and single and Leroy Cover with three singles sparked the attack for the victors.

Ed Decker made his record 7-6 for the season by twirling the V.F.W. to a 7-6 decision over Post's Playground at East Side Field. The Vets' twirler also belted a triple with the bases loaded. He struck out five.

Williams homered, Breighner tripled and Lewis and Ritter garnered two hits each for the losers. Scores:

Orioles Win, 5-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP) — The four-hit pitching of Bill Wight, who also had a single and a run-producing double, plus four Kansas City errors, gave the Orioles, a 5-1 victory over the Athletics tonight.

Center fielder Bill Wilson hit a home run into the left-field bleachers in the fifth for the A's only score.

It was the first victory against two losses for Wight, who gave up only one hit, Wilson's homer, through seven innings. Bobby Shantz, who gave way to Marion Fricano in the eighth, was the loser. His record is now 5-8.

Only one of the Orioles' five runs was earned. They scored first in the second on a scratch single by Hal Smith who went to second on Joe DeMaestri's wild throw to first, and advanced to third on Gus Triandos' single. Smith scored on the same play when Wilson fumbled the ball.

Jackson And Charles Fight At Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, pits his punch and boxing skill against the youth and swarming style of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tomorrow night at War Memorial Auditorium in a 10-round match.

Off the record books this is strictly no contest between a good body puncher with proven boxing ability and an awkward youngster who has had only 26 fights. But the truth is that age and Jackson's stamina narrow the gap so that the Hurricane has a solid chance of winning. The odds favor Charles at 12-5.

Charles, at 34, no longer is the man he was when he held the title. In recent fights he has been knocked down often and hard pressed to win from ordinary opponents. Still, he has won five of six this year, reversing his only defeat, a technical knockout at the hands of Johnny Holman at Miami Beach, April 27.

Murray Heads Legion League Slab Artists With 4-0 Mark

Roberts And Markley Tied For Second At 3-1; Latter Edges Wilkinson In Strikeouts, 35-33

Wayne "Lefty" Murray, who posted a 5-0 record for Fort Hill High School's Bi-State Conference champions this spring, is also the pitcher with the highest average in the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League.

Wayne Murray

The southpaw ace of Fort Cumberland Post's championship aggregation wound up the campaign with a 4-0 mark, accounting for half of the wins credited to the Post No. 13 team. Murray registered two shutouts, beating Grantsville, 1-0, and Frostburg, 4-0. His other triumphs were over Midland, 9-8, in a relief role, and Frostburg, 11-1.

Jesse Markley, righthander, of Fort Cumberland Post, and "Lefty" Bill Roberts, of Farrady Post, Frostburg, tied for runner-up honors with three wins and one loss each. Markley posted an 8-1 record for Fort Hill High's champs this year while Roberts won five and lost three for LaSalle High's Explorers.

Donnie Wilkinson, who copped five and lost three for Bruce High this spring in the Bi-State Conference, turned in a 3-3 record for Midland Post. Toby Colaw, Grantsville, and Wayne Fleegle, of Farrady Post, also had .500 records with two wins and two losses each. Fleegle, incidentally, hung up the season's high for strikeouts in one game when he fanned 11 Grantsville batsmen on July 14, yielded one hit and won by the score of 8-0.

Markley nosed out Wilkinson for season strikeout honors, whiffing 35, while the Midland twirler accounted for 33. Murray finished in third place with 31 victims.

Hart Will Give Up Pass-Catching Role

YPSILANTI, Mich., Aug. 2 (AP)—Large Leon Hart came to terms today with the Detroit Lions' front office, agreeing to give up his usual pass-catching role to take over right end on the defensive platoon.

The former Notre Dame giant agreed to abide by the terms of his three-year contract—which still has a year to run—after meeting with Lions' brass for the second straight day.

Coach Buddy Parker decided Hart could put out his best efforts on the defensive unit. He plans to use Jug Girard at Hart's old offensive end post.

Banks Hits 4th Grand Slammer As Chicago Wallops Bucs, 12-4

Equals Major Record With 32nd Home Run

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Shortstop Ernie Banks tied a major league record today, hitting his fourth grand slam home run of the season as the Chicago Cubs walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates 12-4, before 4,788 fans.

Banks also hit two singles.

He used his 32nd homer plus a run-producing single to bat in five runs for a total of 79 RBI's—as many as he collected playing every game last season.

A walk and two bunts filled the bases in the sixth inning ahead of Banks' blast off Dick Littlefield, the second of four pitchers and today's loser. The drive cleared the left field screen to high spot the Cubs' fourth six-run inning of the season.

Pittsburgh started with a three-run first but the Cubs bounced back with one in their half and two more in the second to rout starter Vern Law as Littlefield was inserted into the game.

The second and third Chicago runs were batted in by Bob Rush, who gained his seventh win against eight losses.

Ellerslie Trims Wiley Ford, 15-0

Ellerslie's first place team trounced Wiley Ford in a Tri-State Pony Baseball League game yesterday at Ellerslie by the score of 15-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Ron Cook and Don Lowery.

The game ended in the 5th inning with one out after Ellerslie had scored its 15th run.

Don Lowery paced Ellerslie at the plate with a double and two singles, Ron Cook clouted a pair of homers, Gene Lowery garnered a double and single and Roger Cook had two one-base knocks. Manning and Mullen accounted for Wiley Ford's hits. Score:

The Reds, captained by Mrs. C. H. Griggs, defeated the Blues, headed by Mrs. A. Taylor Smith, 13 to 5, in a team match staged yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Fred W. Mills had low net score of 102-26—76 for the Blues and Mrs. R. W. Trevaskis posted a low of 86-15—71 for the Reds.

Hebert Paces All-American

Posts 7-Under-Par 65 In Qualifying Round

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP) — Things began to perk in the preliminary phase of Tam O'Shanter's golf carnival today as unheralded Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., banged a seven-under-par 65 to pace some 150 pros in qualifying play.

Another 18-hole qualifying round will be held tomorrow for 150 more pros hoping to grab 72 unexempted berths in the $25,000 All-American Tourney, Thursday through Sunday.

The All-American, which holds forth a $3,420 first prize is really only a warmup for the following week's "world" meet which carries a $50,000 cash prize for the winner.

However, contenders in the "world" must play in the All-American.

Hebert, 27, brother of the more renowned Jay Hebert, rapped a 32-33—65 for Tam's par 36-36—72, to finish two strokes in front of Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D., who had 34-33—67, and Gene Webb, St. Louis, whose 67 was fashioned with 35-32.

It appeared that 72 or 73 would round out the contingent of 72 qualifiers, who will join 85 exempted pros in in the All-American.

Jim Hosack, Allegany High Assistant Grid Coach, Resigns

Joins Faculty At Frostburg State College

Served As Assistant To Pence And Lester For Past Eight Years

James Arthur Hosack, 43, assistant football coach at Allegany High School since 1947, has resigned to join the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, it was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools.

Hosack came to Allegany High eight years ago as science teacher and physical education instructor and also served as assistant to Robert E. Pence, head grid mentor, up to the time the latter resigned to accept the position as director of the City Recreation Department. In recent years Hosack has coached the Allegany High junior varsity football teams and was assistant to Head Coach Roy Lester.

A native of Blairsville, Pa., Hosack started his teaching career at that place in 1934 and in 1942 transferred to Finley Vocational School at Imperial, Pa. He saw military service from 1944 to 1946 and during the 1946-47 term he taught at Saltsburg (Pa.) High School. The following year he joined the teaching staff at the Campobello school.

In addition to his duties as assistant grid mentor, Hosack officiated in numerous basketball games in the tri-state area during the last several years. At the present time he is attending summer school at the University of Pittsburgh.

The Hosacks plan to remain in Cumberland as Mrs. Christina Hosack is first grade teacher at the Cumberland Valley Elementary School, Centerville, Pa., and their daughter is in the ninth grade at Allegany High School.

Superintendent Webster said that no successor has been named to replace Hosack at the Campobello school.

Hosack is the second Allegany High mentor to resign within a month. Walter L. Bowers has retired as basketball mentor and Eugene Shaw was named as his successor.

Orioles Win, 5-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP) — The four-hit pitching of Bill Wight, who also had a single and a run-producing double, plus four Kansas City errors, gave the Orioles, a 5-1 victory over the Athletics tonight.

Center fielder Bill Wilson hit a home run into the left-field bleachers in the fifth for the A's only score.

It was the first victory against two losses for Wight, who gave up only one hit, Wilson's homer, through seven innings. Bobby Shantz, who gave way to Marion Fricano in the eighth, was the loser. His record is now 5-8.

Only one of the Orioles' five runs was earned. They scored first in the second on a scratch single by Hal Smith who went to second on Joe DeMaestri's wild throw to first, and advanced to third on Gus Triandos' single. Smith scored on the same play when Wilson fumbled the ball.

Jackson And Charles Fight At Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, pits his punch and boxing skill against the youth and swarming style of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tomorrow night at War Memorial Auditorium in a 10-round match.

Off the record books this is strictly no contest between a good body puncher with proven boxing ability and an awkward youngster who has had only 26 fights. But the truth is that age and Jackson's stamina narrow the gap so that the Hurricane has a solid chance of winning. The odds favor Charles at 12-5.

Charles, at 34, no longer is the man he was when he held the title. In recent fights he has been knocked down often and hard pressed to win from ordinary opponents. Still, he has won five of six this year, reversing his only defeat, a technical knockout at the hands of Johnny Holman at Miami Beach, April 27.

Murray Heads Legion League Slab Artists With 4-0 Mark

Roberts And Markley Tied For Second At 3-1; Latter Edges Wilkinson In Strikeouts, 35-33

Wayne "Lefty" Murray, who posted a 5-0 record for Fort Hill High School's Bi-State Conference champions this spring, is also the pitcher with the highest average in the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League.

Wayne Murray

The southpaw ace of Fort Cumberland Post's championship aggregation wound up the campaign with a 4-0 mark, accounting for half of the wins credited to the Post No. 13 team. Murray registered two shutouts, beating Grantsville, 1-0, and Frostburg, 4-0. His other triumphs were over Midland, 9-8, in a relief role, and Frostburg, 11-1.

Jesse Markley, righthander, of Fort Cumberland Post, and "Lefty" Bill Roberts, of Farrady Post, Frostburg, tied for runner-up honors with three wins and one loss each. Markley posted an 8-1 record for Fort Hill High's champs this year while Roberts won five and lost three for LaSalle High's Explorers.

Donnie Wilkinson, who copped five and lost three for Bruce High this spring in the Bi-State Conference, turned in a 3-3 record for Midland Post. Toby Colaw, Grantsville, and Wayne Fleegle, of Farrady Post, also had .500 records with two wins and two losses each. Fleegle, incidentally, hung up the season's high for strikeouts in one game when he fanned 11 Grantsville batsmen on July 14, yielded one hit and won by the score of 8-0.

Markley nosed out Wilkinson for season strikeout honors, whiffing 35, while the Midland twirler accounted for 33. Murray finished in third place with 31 victims.

The pitching records for the 1955 season:

Ellerslie Trims Wiley Ford, 15-0

Ellerslie's first place team trounced Wiley Ford in a Tri-State Pony Baseball League game yesterday at Ellerslie by the score of 15-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Ron Cook and Don Lowery.

The game ended in the 5th inning with one out after Ellerslie had scored its 15th run.

WILEY FORD	000 00—	0	2 1
ELLERSLIE	248 01—15	10	1

Young Is Removed From Tribe Roster

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2 (AP)—Second baseman Bobby Young was dropped from the roster of the Cleveland Indians today to make room for pitcher Sal Maglie, who was purchased from the New York Giants.

No disposition of Young has been made, the Indians apparently awaiting the result of a request for waivers. Young, who was obtained from the Baltimore Orioles in June, is batting .218.

Griggs Beat Smiths In CCC Match, 13-5

The Reds, captained by Mrs. C. H. Griggs, defeated the Blues, headed by Mrs. A. Taylor Smith, 13 to 5, in a team match staged yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Fred W. Mills had low net score of 102-26—76 for the Blues and Mrs. R. W. Trevaskis posted a low of 86-15—71 for the Reds.

Hebert Paces All-American

Posts 7-Under-Par 65 In Qualifying Round

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP) — Things began to perk in the preliminary phase of Tam O'Shanter's golf carnival today as unheralded Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., banged a seven-under-par 65 to pace some 150 pros in qualifying play.

Another 18-hole qualifying round will be held tomorrow for 150 more pros hoping to grab 72 unexempted berths in the $25,000 All-American Tourney, Thursday through Sunday.

The All-American, which holds forth a $3,420 first prize is really only a warmup for the following week's "world" meet which carries a $50,000 cash prize for the winner.

However, contenders in the "world" must play in the All-American.

Hebert, 27, brother of the more renowned Jay Hebert, rapped a 32-33—65 for Tam's par 36-36—72, to finish two strokes in front of Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D., who had 34-33—67, and Gene Webb, St. Louis, whose 67 was fashioned with 35-32.

It appeared that 72 or 73 would round out the contingent of 72 qualifiers, who will join 85 exempted pros in the All-American.

Hambletonian Sulky Classic Set For Today

Eleven Will Start, Scott Frost Favored

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Shed a tear for poor Joe O'Brien who drives Scott Frost, odds on favorite to capture the 30th Hambletonian Stake tomorrow.

The 38-year-old Canadian - born reinsman, has the finest 3-year-old trotter to come down the pike since Greyhound won this famous sulky classic in 1935.

"We're liable to get the heck whipped out of us," sighed O'Brien.

Eleven of the country's fastest 3-year-old trotters will face the starter in the first one-mile heat at 2 p.m., EST. The first horse to win two heats, to be raced every hour, grabs the big prize. The oddsmakers have Scott Frost 3-5 in their book.

Scott Frost will have two stablemates from the stable of Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif. One is Butch Hanover, a pretty fair trotter. The other, Home Free, isn't as highly regarded.

The chief rivals to the Camp trio are Galophone, owned by William T. Maybury of Dexter, Me., and Childs Hanover, pride of Kenneth D. Owen of Houston, Tex. They are 4-1 and 6-1, respectively.

Rounding it out are the Del Miller trained stable entry of Indian Raider and Way Ahead; Cobly Mite; Leopold Hanover; Arvilla Hanover; and Flemington.

O'Brien is a notorious sour noter. He never says his horse will win.

Mayor Would Name Field For Legge

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 2 (AP) — Mayor Edward W. Johnson said today he would urge Shepherd College officials to name their new athletic field for a former coach, the late Withrow Reynolds Legge.

Legge, a native of Shepherdstown, died last February.

As a student at Virginia Tech, he won 16 varsity letters which set a school record. He left his coaching duties at Shepherd in 1925 to become vocational-agricultural instructor at Handley High School in Winchester, Va.

Trabert Has Pulled Muscle In Back

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — Tony Trabert's back miseries were diagnosed as nothing more than a pulled muscle today and the wildly fluctuating American Davis Cup stock took another upward turn.

Trabert, America's No. 1 star, was carted to the hospital for special surgery by Cup Captain Bill Talbert and the top orthopedic surgeons on the staff went over him.

"Nothing serious," was the announcement. "Just a pulled muscle. He'll need some rest."

Talbert said he didn't know when Tony would get back in action. However, since the injury is not serious, Trabert doubtless will be ready for action in the challenge round.

NEW ADVANCED BLUE SUNOCO
HIGH-TEST, PREMIUM QUALITY, AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

How Sun's One-Grade Policy gives you a PREMIUM QUALITY GASOLINE at Regular Gas Price

Sun Oil Company's single-grade policy results in savings on storage tanks, trucks, pumps...savings that are reinvested in research and new facilities. Sun is also years ahead of the industry in advanced catalytic refining facilities. That's why Sun can produce a premium quality, high-test gasoline—New Advanced Blue Sunoco—that sells at regular gas price.

We save on tanks
We save on trucks
We save on pumps

You save every mile you drive with New High-Test Blue Sunoco

Beats other premiums in power tests

In scientific laboratory tests the New Advanced Blue Sunoco outperformed typical premium-priced gasolines because of its cleaner burning. It maintained higher engine power longer under conditions duplicating the kind of driving you do most of the time. Testing method observed by an independent laboratory. Drive in to your Sunoco dealer's today. Make your own 10-gallon test and see for yourself!

Meets all premium quality requirements as stated in owners' manuals of newest high-compression cars

Hambletonian Sulky Classic Set For Today

Eleven Will Start, Scott Frost Favored

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Shed a tear for poor Joe O'Brien who drives Scott Frost, odds on favorite to capture the 30th Hambletonian Stake tomorrow.

The 38-year-old Canadian - born reinsman, has the finest 3-year-old trotter to come down the pike since Greyhound won this famous sulky classic in 1935.

"We're liable to get the heck whipped out of us," sighed O'Brien.

Eleven of the country's fastest 3-year-old trotters will face the starter in the first one-mile heat at 2 p.m., EST. The first horse to win two heats, to be raced every hour, grabs the big prize. The oddsmakers have Scott Frost 3-5 in their book.

Scott Frost will have two stablemates from the stable of Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif. One is Butch Hanover, a pretty fair trotter. The other, Home Free, isn't as highly regarded.

The chief rivals to the Camp trio are Galophone, owned by William T. Maybury of Dexter, Me., and Childs Hanover, pride of Kenneth D. Owen of Houston, Tex. They are 4-1 and 6-1, respectively.

Rounding it out are the Del Miller trained stable entry of Indian Raider and Way Ahead; Cobly Mite; Leopold Hanover; Arvilla Hanover; and Flemington.

O'Brien is a notorious sour noter. He never says his horse will win.

Mayor Would Name Field For Legge

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 2 (AP) — Mayor Edward W. Johnson said today he would urge Shepherd College officials to name their new athletic field for a former coach, the late Withrow Reynolds Legge.

Legge, a native of Shepherdstown, died last February.

As a student at Virginia Tech, he won 16 varsity letters which set a school record. He left his coaching duties at Shepherd in 1925 to become vocational-agricultural instructor at Handley High School in Winchester, Va.

Trabert Has Pulled Muscle In Back

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP) — Tony Trabert's back miseries were diagnosed as nothing more than a pulled muscle today and the wildly fluctuating American Davis Cup stock took another upward turn.

Trabert, America's No. 1 star, was carted to the hospital for special surgery by Cup Captain Bill Talbert and the top orthopedic surgeons on the staff went over him.

"Nothing serious," was the announcement. "Just a pulled muscle. He'll need some rest."

Talbert said he didn't know when Tony would get back in action. However, since the injury is not serious, Trabert doubtless will be ready for action in the challenge round.

NEW ADVANCED BLUE SUNOCO

HIGH-TEST, PREMIUM QUALITY, AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

How Sun's One-Grade Policy gives you a PREMIUM QUALITY GASOLINE at Regular Gas Price

Sun Oil Company's single-grade policy results in savings on storage tanks, trucks, pumps...savings that are reinvested in research and new facilities. Sun is also years ahead of the industry in advanced catalytic refining facilities. That's why Sun can produce a premium quality, high-test gasoline—New Advanced Blue Sunoco—that sells at regular gas price.

We save on tanks

We save on trucks

We save on pumps

You save every mile you drive with New High-Test Blue Sunoco

Beats other premiums in power tests

In scientific laboratory tests the New Advanced Blue Sunoco outperformed typical premium-priced gasolines because of its cleaner burning. It maintained higher engine power longer under conditions duplicating the kind of driving you do most of the time. Testing method observed by an independent laboratory. Drive in to your Sunoco dealer's today. Make your own 10-gallon test and see for yourself!

Meets all premium quality requirements as stated in owners' manuals of newest high-compression cars

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 2 (INS)—The way good jobs keep coming up at RKO for Virginia Mayo it begins to look as if the blonde charmer will never get home to Warners.

Virginia is the third star to be cast in "Great Day In The Morning," the Robert Hardy Andrews story which Edmund Grainger is producing. She plays the southern belle competing with Ruth Roman for the affections of Robert Stack.

Recently, Virginia has been on tour with "Pearl Of The South Pacific" which she made at RKO for Ben Bogeaus.

The company takes off August 11th, with Jacques Tourneur at the directional helm, for Colorado and weeks of location.

Allan Ginsberg (no relation to Henry) tells me that he has run into a real stumbling block on his independent production of "The Little Heroes," a picture glorifying the Little League baseball teams throughout the country which have caught on like wildfire in the last six years. Over 400,000 youngsters between the ages of 8 to 12 now play in the Little League games.

"But," said Ginsberg, "the boy we want as our star, 9-year-old Bobby Newman of the Beverly Hills Tigers team, can't get parental consent to make our picture.

"He is a baseball sensation hitting .360 and fielding .992. We offered $15,000 cash and $5000 educational fund for the youngster, but his mother and father, the Carl Newmans, say they don't want the boy's baseball ability to be exploited commercially."

Hollywood in shorts: All the the guests agreed that Walda Winchell was one of the year's prettiest brides at her marriage to Hyatt von Dehn, and Walter Winchell one of the most nervous fathers.

Gary Cooper will play the hand organ and sing a couple of songs in "Friendly Persuasion" for Willy Wyler. This, on top of his new passion for bongo drums!

Alice Faye, Phil Harris, Edmond O'Brien and Olga, and Marlene Dietrich are just a few of the celebs catching Rosemary Clooney's show at the London Palladium.

The entire Crosby clan — Bing, Gary, Cathy, and Mother Crosby —will rally round lending support to Bob when he does his first dramatic TV show, "One Night Stand."

That's all today.

O'Shea Named Head Of RKO Pictures

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—Daniel T. O'Shea, an old Hollywood hand, was named president of RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., the outfit Howard Hughes just sold for 25 million dollars in cash.

O'Shea is resigning as senior vice president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., to return to movie-making. He joined the Columbia firm, parent to all CBS enterprises, in 1950.

O'Shea's appointment was announced by Thomas O'Neil, RKO's board chairman. It was O'Neil who recently engineered the purchase of RKO by General Teleradio, Inc., a General Tire and Rubber Co. subsidiary, which he heads.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Nice Young Married Couple

(John Crosby is leaving for Africa. His on-the-spot stories will start coming through in about two weeks. Until that time a distinguished group of guest columnists will substitute for him.)

I don't know how Peg Lynch does it. She's been turning out "Ethel And Albert," first as a radio, then as a television show, for what seems like generations now; and the stuff seems as fresh as ever. Partly this is because Miss Lynch who writes as well as stars in the series, can get an awful lot of mileage out of some very small crises.

Most of the crises that befall this married couple are pretty tiny ones, and they meet them with a sort of deadpan innocence that gives the show its chief charm. In one fairly typical one, Ethel gets herself all tangled up trying to figure out the name of a tune some workman is whistling in the street. Pretty soon she has got a very reluctant Albert wracking his brains, too.

And when they can't manage it, they call the workman in and he doesn't know the name of the tune either. So the workman calls his wife to see if she knows. "No, I haven't been drinking," says the workman over the phone. "Well, I was whistling and this lady wanted to know. . . . Well, the lady who owns this house!" And then, of course, the poor guy is in real trouble.

From such slender threads, Miss Lynch can suspend a whole half hour of fragile domestic comedy which generally hinges on the inescapable differences between men and women, differences which are by no means eradicated by years of married life. I'm especially amused by the way Ethel and Albert can each pursue their own quite different thoughts aloud at the same time, each only dimly aware of the other's.

Another of the pleasanter aspects of the show, too, is the fact that practically everyone in it is terribly, terribly nice and by simply being nice they get themselves into trouble. Like that workman getting in dutch with his wife just because he was trying to help out Ethel and Albert.

Miss Lynch also has a keen ear for that utterly inane conversation that people indulge in when they can't think of anything else to say and — well, they can't just stand there.

"Been a nice day."

"Yes, hasn't it?"

"Very nice day. Well, pretty soon it'll be fall."

"And then — winter."

Of all the young married couples on the air — and heaven knows there are quite a collection of them — Ethel and Albert seem most to resemble people who might live down the block. With all due respect for Miss Lucille Ball, you know all along that she is an actress. With Miss Lynch and Alan Bunce who plays Albert, you think they'd be anything but actors -- which is a very skillful form of acting in its own right.

Sid Caesar can't be taking much of a vacation. It's true he isn't on the screen any more, but he must be spending all his time in the wings coaching his summer replacements in how to play Sid Caesar. Everybody on the summer replacement show — even the girls — seem to be playing Caesar for all it's worth.

Same tricks, same mannerisms, same exaggerated postures and facial contortions and also, I'm afraid, pretty much the same material. Not that it's bad material—it isn't. But it's the same sort of material and I think that's a little short-sighted. Partly the idea of a summer hiatus is to give the comics a rest, but at least partly the idea is to give the audience a rest, too.

When the big man returns in the fall and appears in a bunch of sketches which closely resemble those that Sandra Deel, Sid Gould, Phil Foster, and Cliff Norton have been appearing in all summer, I should imagine the home audience will be just a little tired of it all.

As summer shows go, this is a very elaborate operation, and the sketches, especially a running one called "The Pharmacist And His Mate," are very clever, but they all sound to me not only as if Sid Caesar ought to be in them but as if Mr. Caesar had already been in them.

TOO MANY POSSIBILITIES

SOUTH probably would have been better off in the following hand if there had been only one reasonable line of play. As it was he got bogged down in a selection process.

South dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South obviously had the values conservatively speaking, for a jump rebid over North's two clubs, but he felt that since North had made a two-over-one response, he wouldn't drop a mere two-heart rebid. He was right—North not only kept the auction alive but (rather too agressively) jumped in spades to show better-than-a-preference, and after that of course, at least a small-slam contract was a foregone conclusion.

West laid down the diamond ace and, seeing no attractive shift, continued the suit. South won and right then had to decide on a long-range plan. Obviously, he could handle the club suit in several different ways. He could finesse through West; he could cash the ace and finesse through East, letting the club jack ride; or he could try to drive out the club queen by ruffing. This latter plan, moreover, was subject to variation.

Finally, South decided to lay down the ace and queen of trumps, then to lead a club to the ace and discard a heart on the club king. He then led the club jack through East. That defender imperturbably played low—and South guessed wrong. Fearing that West had the queen, South ruffed, hoping to drop the vital card, but when West played the nine, all hope faded.

The best plan was to go out for a combination of chances, as follows:

South leads only the trump ace, then cashes the top clubs and ruffs the club four high in his own hand. The queen may drop on this trick, but even when it does not, South still has the chance for a 2-2 trump break. He leads a high spade to the king and, the 2-2 break having developed, ruffs another club, driving out the queen, then finally leads his three of trumps to dummy's five and takes the vital discard on the set-up fifth club.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Nice Young Married Couple

(John Crosby is leaving for Africa. His on-the-spot stories will start coming through in about two weeks. Until that time a distinguished group of guest columnists will substitute for him.)

I don't know how Peg Lynch does it. She's been turning out "Ethel And Albert," first as a radio, then as a television show, for what seems like generations now; and the stuff seems as fresh as ever. Partly this is because Miss Lynch who writes as well as stars in the series, can get an awful lot of mileage out of some very small crises.

Most of the crises that befall this married couple are pretty tiny ones, and they meet them with a sort of deadpan innocence that gives the show its chief charm. In one fairly typical one, Ethel gets herself all tangled up trying to figure out the name of a tune some workman is whistling in the street. Pretty soon she has got a very reluctant Albert wracking his brains, too.

And when they can't manage it, they call the workman in and he doesn't know the name of the tune either. So the workman calls his wife to see if she knows. "No, I haven't been drinking," says the workman over the phone. "Well, I was whistling and this lady wanted to know. . . . Well, the lady who owns this house!" And then, of course, the poor guy is in real trouble.

From such slender threads, Miss Lynch can suspend a whole half hour of fragile domestic comedy which generally hinges on the inescapable differences between men and women, differences which are by no means eradicated by years of married life. I'm especially amused by the way Ethel and Albert can each pursue their own quite different thoughts aloud at the same time, each only dimly aware of the other's.

Another of the pleasanter aspects of the show, too, is the fact that practically everyone in it is terribly, terribly nice and by simply being nice they get themselves into trouble. Like that workman getting in dutch with his wife just because he was trying to help out Ethel and Albert.

Miss Lynch also has a keen ear for that utterly inane conversation that people indulge in when they can't think of anything else to say and — well, they can't just stand there.

"Been a nice day."

"Yes, hasn't it?"

"Very nice day. Well, pretty soon it'll be fall."

"And then — winter."

Of all the young married couples on the air — and heaven knows there are quite a collection of them — Ethel and Albert seem most to resemble people who might live down the block. With all due respect for Miss Lucille Ball, you know all along that she is an actress. With Miss Lynch and Alan Bunce who plays Albert, you think they'd be anything but actors -- which is a very skillful form of acting in its own right.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 2 (INS)—The way good jobs keep coming up at RKO for Virginia Mayo it begins to look as if the blonde charmer will never get home to Warners.

Virginia is the third star to be cast in "Great Day In The Morning," the Robert Hardy Andrews story which Edmund Grainger is producing. She plays the southern belle competing with Ruth Roman for the affections of Robert Stack.

Recently, Virginia has been on tour with "Pearl Of The South Pacific" which she made at RKO for Ben Bogeaus.

The company takes off August 11th, with Jacques Tourneur at the directional helm, for Colorado and weeks of location.

Allan Ginsberg (no relation to Henry) tells me that he has run into a real stumbling block on his independent production of "The Little Heroes," a picture glorifying the Little League baseball teams throughout the country which have caught on like wildfire in the last six years. Over 400,000 youngsters between the ages of 8 to 12 now play in the Little League games.

"But," said Ginsberg, "the boy we want as our star, 9-year-old Bobby Newman of the Beverly Hills Tigers team, can't get parental consent to make our picture.

"He is a baseball sensation hitting .360 and fielding .992. We offered $15,000 cash and $5000 educational fund for the youngster, but his mother and father, the Carl Newmans, say they don't want the boy's baseball ability to be exploited commercially."

Hollywood in shorts: All the the guests agreed that Walda Winchell was one of the year's prettiest brides at her marriage to Hyatt von Dehn, and Walter Winchell one of the most nervous fathers.

Gary Cooper will play the hand organ and sing a couple of songs in "Friendly Persuasion" for Willy Wyler. This, on top of his new passion for bongo drums!

Alice Faye, Phil Harris, Edmond O'Brien and Olga, and Marlene Dietrich are just a few of the celebs catching Rosemary Clooney's show at the London Palladium.

The entire Crosby clan — Bing, Gary, Cathy, and Mother Crosby —will rally round lending support to Bob when he does his first dramatic TV show, "One Night Stand."

That's all today.

O'Shea Named Head Of RKO Pictures

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—Daniel T. O'Shea, an old Hollywood hand, was named president of RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., the outfit Howard Hughes just sold for 25 million dollars in cash.

O'Shea is resigning as senior vice president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., to return to movie-making. He joined the Columbia firm, parent to all CBS enterprises, in 1950.

O'Shea's appointment was announced by Thomas O'Neil, RKO's board chairman. It was O'Neil who recently engineered the purchase of RKO by General Teleradio, Inc., a General Tire and Rubber Co. subsidiary, which he heads.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Nice Young Married Couple

(John Crosby is leaving for Africa. His on-the-spot stories will start coming through in about two weeks. Until that time a distinguished group of guest columnists will substitute for him.)

I don't know how Peg Lynch does it. She's been turning out "Ethel And Albert," first as a radio, then as a television show, for what seems like generations now; and the stuff seems as fresh as ever. Partly this is because Miss Lynch who writes as well as stars in the series, can get an awful lot of mileage out of some very small crises.

Most of the crises that befall this married couple are pretty tiny ones, and they meet them with a sort of deadpan innocence that gives the show its chief charm. In one fairly typical one, Ethel gets herself all tangled up trying to figure out the name of a tune some workman is whistling in the street. Pretty soon she has got a very reluctant Albert wracking his brains, too.

And when they can't manage it, they call the workman in and he doesn't know the name of the tune either. So the workman calls his wife to see if she knows. "No, I haven't been drinking," says the workman over the phone. "Well, I was whistling and this lady wanted to know. . . . Well, the lady who owns this house!" And then, of course, the poor guy is in real trouble.

From such slender threads, Miss Lynch can suspend a whole half hour of fragile domestic comedy which generally hinges on the inescapable differences between men and women, differences which are by no means eradicated by years of married life. I'm especially amused by the way Ethel and Albert can each pursue their own quite different thoughts aloud at the same time, each only dimly aware of the other's.

Another of the pleasanter aspects of the show, too, is the fact that practically everyone in it is terribly, terribly nice and by simply being nice they get themselves into trouble. Like that workman getting in dutch with his wife just because he was trying to help out Ethel and Albert.

Miss Lynch also has a keen ear for that utterly inane conversation that people indulge in when they can't think of anything else to say and — well, they can't just stand there.

"Been a nice day."

"Yes, hasn't it?"

"Very nice day. Well, pretty soon it'll be fall."

"And then — winter."

Of all the young married couples on the air — and heaven knows there are quite a collection of them — Ethel and Albert seem most to resemble people who might live down the block. With all due respect for Miss Lucille Ball, you know all along that she is an actress. With Miss Lynch and Alan Bunce who plays Albert, you think they'd be anything but actors -- which is a very skillful form of acting in its own right.

Sid Caesar can't be taking much of a vacation. It's true he isn't on the screen any more, but he must be spending all his time in the wings coaching his summer replacements in how to play Sid Caesar. Everybody on the summer replacement show — even the girls — seem to be playing Caesar for all it's worth.

Same tricks, same mannerisms, same exaggerated postures and facial contortions and also, I'm afraid, pretty much the same material. Not that it's bad material—it isn't. But it's the same sort of material and I think that's a little short-sighted. Partly the idea of a summer hiatus is to give the comics a rest, but at least partly the idea is to give the audience a rest, too.

When the big man returns in the fall and appears in a bunch of sketches which closely resemble those that Sandra Deel, Sid Gould, Phil Foster, and Cliff Norton have been appearing in all summer, I should imagine the home audience will be just a little tired of it all.

As summer shows go, this is a very elaborate operation, and the sketches, especially a running one called "The Pharmacist And His Mate," are very clever, but they all sound to me not only as if Sid Caesar ought to be in them but as if Mr. Caesar had already been in them.

TOO MANY POSSIBILITIES

SOUTH probably would have been better off in the following hand if there had been only one reasonable line of play. As it was he got bogged down in a selection process.

South dealer.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South obviously had the values conservatively speaking, for a jump rebid over North's two clubs, but he felt that since North had made a two-over-one response, he wouldn't drop a mere two-heart rebid. He was right—North not only kept the auction alive but (rather too agressively) jumped in spades to show better-than-a-preference, and after that of course, at least a small-slam contract was a foregone conclusion.

West laid down the diamond ace and, seeing no attractive shift, continued the suit. South won and right then had to decide on a long-range plan. Obviously, he could handle the club suit in several different ways. He could finesse through West; he could cash the ace and finesse through East, letting the club jack ride; or he could try to drive out the club queen by ruffing. This latter plan, moreover, was subject to variation.

Finally, South decided to lay down the ace and queen of trumps, then to lead a club to the ace and discard a heart on the club king. He then led the club jack through East. That defender imperturbably played low—and South guessed wrong. Fearing that West had the queen, South ruffed, hoping to drop the vital card, but when West played the nine, all hope faded.

South leads only the trump ace, then cashes the top clubs and ruffs the club four high in his own hand. The queen may drop on this trick, but even when it does not, South still has the chance for a 2-2 trump break. He leads a high spade to the king and, the 2-2 break having developed, ruffs another club, driving out the queen, then finally leads his three of trumps to dummy's five and takes the vital discard on the set-up fifth club.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By Lichty

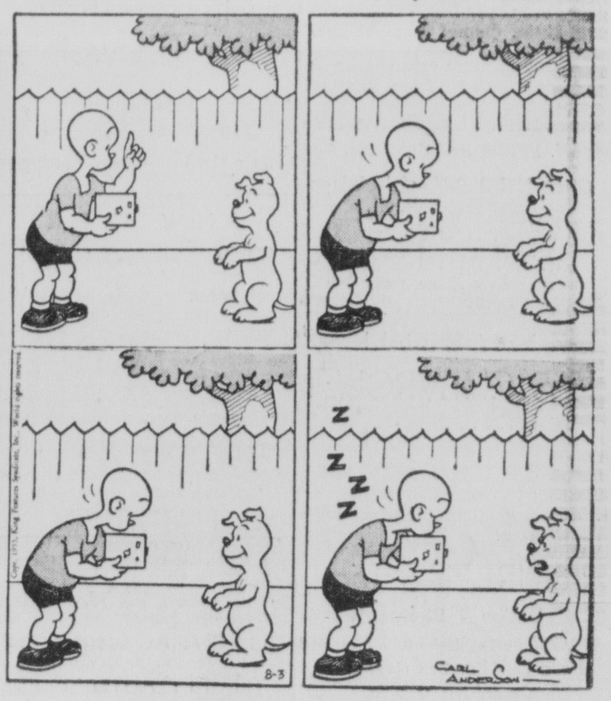

"All we can do, lady, is to estimate that the peach crop will be 10 million bushels . . . we have no way of knowing whether the good ones will be on top."

THE LITTLE WOMAN — HENRY — By Carl Anderson

"My wife? Since I put in that new air-conditioning unit, she hasn't been out of the house."

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Nice Young Married Couple

(John Crosby is leaving for Africa. His on-the-spot stories will start coming through in about two weeks. Until that time a distinguished group of guest columnists will substitute for him.)

I don't know how Peg Lynch does it. She's been turning out "Ethel And Albert," first as a radio, then as a television show, for what seems like generations now; and the stuff seems as fresh as ever. Partly this is because Miss Lynch who writes as well as stars in the series, can get an awful lot of mileage out of some very small crises.

Most of the crises that befall this married couple are pretty tiny ones, and they meet them with a sort of deadpan innocence that gives the show its chief charm. In one fairly typical one, Ethel gets herself all tangled up trying to figure out the name of a tune some workman is whistling in the street. Pretty soon she has got a very reluctant Albert wracking his brains, too.

And when they can't manage it, they call the workman in and he doesn't know the name of the tune either. So the workman calls his wife to see if she knows. "No, I haven't been drinking," says the workman over the phone. "Well, I was whistling and this lady wanted to know. . . . Well, the lady who owns this house!" And then, of course, the poor guy is in real trouble.

From such slender threads, Miss Lynch can suspend a whole half hour of fragile domestic comedy which generally hinges on the inescapable differences between men and women, differences which are by no means eradicated by years of married life. I'm especially amused by the way Ethel and Albert can each pursue their own quite different thoughts aloud at the same time, each only dimly aware of the other's.

Another of the pleasanter aspects of the show, too, is the fact that practically everyone in it is terribly, terribly nice and by simply being nice they get themselves into trouble. Like that workman getting in dutch with his wife just because he was trying to help out Ethel and Albert.

Miss Lynch also has a keen ear for that utterly inane conversation that people indulge in when they can't think of anything else to say and — well, they can't just stand there.

"Yes, hasn't it?"

"Very nice day. Well, pretty soon it'll be fall."

"And then — winter."

HENRY

By Carl Anderson

"My wife? Since I put in that new air-conditioning unit, she hasn't been out of the house."

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Margaret Metzner, who passed away 6 years ago, August 2, 1949.
Not dead to us who loved her,
Not lost but gone before.
She lives with us in memory,
And will forever more.
Sadly missed by

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Margaret Metzner, who passed away 6 years ago, August 2, 1949.
Not dead to us who loved her,
Not lost but gone before.
She lives with us in memory,
And will forever more.
Sadly missed by
The Family

Red China's Decision To Free Airmen Improves Her Chances In Geneva Talks

By WARREN ROGERS JR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP) —Red China's decision to free 11 American airmen is taken here as improving her chances of high level diplomatic dealings with the United States.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles indicated in advance of the meeting on the ambassadorial level in Geneva today that the spirit shown by the Communists at Geneva would have a good deal of bearing on any future meetings at higher levels to tackle broader problems.

A foreign ministers conference, already said to be a possibility by Eisenhower, would take the Peiping regime a long way along the road toward acceptance as an equal among the big powers.

Such a conference, following up the ambassadorial meeting at Geneva, would bring together Dulles and Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai for the first time.

That could be the long range effect of freeing the fliers. The immediate result may well be a redoubling of American probing at Geneva for more information about the 40 U. S. civilians known to be held inside China and the hundreds of Americans suspected to be in detention there.

In this connection the United States had made it clear an arrangement might be made in which freedom for the Americans would be exchanged for any Chinese in the United States who want to go back to China.

The Communists have repeatedly accused the United States of holding thousands of Red Chinese in America against their will. The United States is just as insistent that all the Chinese who want to go home have been allowed to do so.

However, Secretary Dulles implied last week that there may be some Chinese who came here as students and who have not made formal application to return home, although they may want to. Dulles said at a news conference last Tuesday:

"We are prepared to discuss with the Chinese Communists the status of the few Chinese students in the United States who desire to return to Communist China and who the Chinese Communists claim, without foundation, are prevented."

Dulles appeared to have the possible long range effects of today's Peiping announcement in mind when he issued his statement on the airmen. The statement emphasized that the United States in no way bought freedom for the fliers.

"The desired results," Dulles said, "have come about without the United States making any concessions or giving any promises as the price of the release."

But the bill might come later—possibly on an installment plan asking for:

1. Administerial meeting, possibly including the foreign ministers of other countries with an interest in the Far East—Britain, France, Australia, and New Zealand, for instance.

2. A United Nations vote seating Red China's representative in the United Nations General Assembly and Security Council, ousting the Nationalist Chinese representative now there.

Congresswoman's Work Is Never Done

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP) — It looks as though a congresswoman's work is never done.

Anyone who thinks that when Congress adjourns its 17 women members will loaf is very much mistaken.

Asked what she would be doing, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), the only woman senator, replied wryly: "the usual—work."

She plans to be here for about 10 days catching up on office work and then onto Maine for a four to six weeks tour of its cities and hamlets. She hopes to get about 10 days real rest in October.

Only Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) and eight House members have been longer in Congress than Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) who with her 30 years service is dean of women lawmakers. Her plans?

"Work! No matter where I am I've got work to do." And she seems to thrive on it. She is 74.

She intends to make the rounds of her district and frequently return to Washington.

Rep. Maude Elizabeth Kee (D-W.Va.) sees the time between congressional sessions as good for listening. To her there is no such thing as a vacation. When you go home—well, there are a lot of folks with problems stored up."

The four women freshmen—representatives Iris Blitch (Ga), Edith Green (Ore), Martha Griffiths (Mich), and Coya Knutson (Minn), all Democrats—will be doing some important listening in the coming months.

To find out, Rep. Griffiths, who campaigned in a trailer, is renting one again to tour her district. Rep. Blitch is opening an office in Homerville, Ga., where she'll be when not traveling the district.

Mrs. Knutson plans to attend Democratic meetings in every county in her district.

Mrs. Green is staying here for about two weeks after adjournment and then is heading for her Portland, Ore., home—"and I'm anxious to get there."

Rep. Frances Bolton (Ohio) is making a three-months official trip through mid and South Africa to see the results of foreign aid, especially in welfare fields.

The only member who is certain of getting a little rest—and that on doctor's orders — is Rep. Vera Buchanan (D-Pa) who is recuperating from pneumonia.

Waistline To Be Featured In Milady's New Fashions

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, Aug. 2 (AP) — Where will the waistline be?

In major fashion showings thus far, there has been no agreement and Maggy Rouff, in her new fashion collection last night, came up with two or three answers, just to play it safe. But the decolletage is way, way down.

But the backbone of the collection was a combination of the trumpet and the princess lines, both well worn in previous seasons.

Rouff called her dual line "Stick Candy" and "Sugar Candy." As you might imagine, one was straight and slim, the other flared and bouffant. As a third entry, there was the "Oblique Line," carried out with diagonal buttons, seams and details, and already seen in several earlier shows this season.

Bathing beauty necklines, hide-and-seek necklines and basket necklines made up the Rouff decolletage. The bustline, the designer crisply announced, "gets fuller and is higher placed."

Tunics appeared here as in most other houses so far this season. So did an avalanche of fur trimmings and orientally rich lames and brocades.

Incidental oddities included shoes with mismatched heels (red heels on green slippers, for example) and a funny Antoine hairdo like an erupting volcano, with a lock in the middle of the scalp shooting straight up.

The designer describes the collection as "more exotic than romantic," which only means that she is following the leader in an Oriental trend this fall.

Dies in Mystery

MRS. MARY DONOVAN, 37, daughter-in-law of Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, was found dead in bed at the family's summer home in South Dartmouth, Mass. An autopsy revealed no sign of violence, but a vial of capsules was found in the room with the mother of five. The general was wartime head of the Office of Strategic Services. (International)

Red China's Decision To Free Airmen Improves Her Chances In Geneva Talks

By WARREN ROGERS JR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP) —Red China's decision to free 11 American airmen is taken here as improving her chances of high level diplomatic dealings with the United States.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles indicated in advance of the meeting on the ambassadorial level in Geneva today that the spirit shown by the Communists at Geneva would have a good deal of bearing on any future meetings at higher levels to tackle broader problems.

A foreign ministers conference, already said to be a possibility by Eisenhower, would take the Peiping regime a long way along the road toward acceptance as an equal among the big powers.

Such a conference, following up the ambassadorial meeting at Geneva, would bring together Dulles and Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai for the first time.

That could be the long range effect of freeing the fliers. The immediate result may well be a redoubling of American probing at Geneva for more information about the 40 U. S. civilians known to be held inside China and the hundreds of Americans suspected to be in detention there.

In this connection the United States had made it clear an arrangement might be made in which freedom for the Americans would be exchanged for any Chinese in the United States who want to go back to China.

The Communists have repeatedly accused the United States of holding thousands of Red Chinese in America against their will. The United States is just as insistent that all the Chinese who want to go home have been allowed to do so.

However, Secretary Dulles implied last week that there may be some Chinese who came here as students and who have not made formal application to return home, although they may want to. Dulles said at a news conference last Tuesday:

"We are prepared to discuss with the Chinese Communists the status of the few Chinese students in the United States who desire to return to Communist China and who the Chinese Communists claim, without foundation, are prevented."

Dulles appeared to have the possible long range effects of today's Peiping announcement in mind when he issued his statement on the airmen. The statement emphasized that the United States in no way bought freedom for the fliers.

"The desired results," Dulles said, "have come about without the United States making any concessions or giving any promises as the price of the release."

But the bill might come later—possibly on an installment plan asking for:

1. Administerial meeting, possibly including the foreign ministers of other countries with an interest in the Far East—Britain, France, Australia, and New Zealand, for instance.

2. A United Nations vote seating Red China's representative in the United Nations General Assembly and Security Council, ousting the Nationalist Chinese representative now there.

Congresswoman's Work Is Never Done

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP) — It looks as though a congresswoman's work is never done.

Anyone who thinks that when Congress adjourns its 17 women members will loaf is very much mistaken.

Asked what she would be doing, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), the only woman senator, replied wryly: "the usual—work."

She plans to be here for about 10 days catching up on office work and then onto Maine for a four to six weeks tour of its cities and hamlets. She hopes to get about 10 days real rest in October.

Only Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) and eight House members have been longer in Congress than Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) who with her 30 years service is dean of women lawmakers. Her plans?

"Work! No matter where I am I've got work to do." And she seems to thrive on it. She is 74.

She intends to make the rounds of her district and frequently return to Washington.

Rep. Maude Elizabeth Kee (D-W.Va.) sees the time between congressional sessions as good for listening. To her there is no such thing as a vacation. When you go home—well, there are a lot of folks with problems stored up."

The four women freshmen—representatives Iris Blitch (Ga), Edith Green (Ore), Martha Griffiths (Mich), and Coya Knutson (Minn), all Democrats—will be doing some important listening in the coming months.

They want to know how the homefolks think they've been doing in their first year in Congress.

To find out, Rep. Griffiths, who campaigned in a trailer, is renting one again to tour her district. Rep. Blitch is opening an office in Homerville, Ga., where she'll be when not traveling the district.

Mrs. Knutson plans to attend Democratic meetings in every county in her district.

Mrs. Green is staying here for about two weeks after adjournment and then is heading for her Portland, Ore., home—"and I'm anxious to get there."

Rep. Frances Bolton (Ohio) is making a three-months official trip through mid and South Africa to see the results of foreign aid, especially in welfare fields.

The only member who is certain of getting a little rest—and that on doctor's orders — is Rep. Vera Buchanan (D-Pa) who is recuperating from pneumonia.

Waistline To Be Featured In Milady's New Fashions

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, Aug. 2 (AP) — Where will the waistline be?

In major fashion showings thus far, there has been no agreement and Maggy Rouff, in her new fashion collection last night, came up with two or three answers, just to play it safe. But the decolletage is way, way down.

After fitting the waist snugly at its natural place, she stuck on belts and half-belts at the bust, at the shoulder blades, and both midway and below the hips.

With her old fondness for flounces, she turned out several two-tier flamenco dresses for cocktail time, complete with some of the most daringly low necklines seen this season.

But the backbone of the collection was a combination of the trumpet and the princess lines, both well worn in previous seasons.

Rouff called her dual line "Stick Candy" and "Sugar Candy." As you might imagine, one was straight and slim, the other flared and bouffant. As a third entry, there was the "Oblique Line," carried out with diagonal buttons, seams and details, and already seen in several earlier shows this season.

Bathing beauty necklines, hide-and-seek necklines and basket necklines made up the Rouff decolletage. The bustline, the designer crisply announced, "gets fuller and is higher placed."

Tunics appeared here as in most other houses so far this season. So did an avalanche of fur trimmings and orientally rich lames and brocades.

Red, red and more red is Maggy Rouff's choice of color. Of course, there's a lot of black too, as well as a whole range of browns and many blues.

Incidental oddities included shoes with mismatched heels (red heels on green slippers, for example) and a funny Antoine hairdo like an erupting volcano, with a lock in the middle of the scalp shooting straight up.

The designer describes the collection as "more exotic than romantic," which only means that she is following the leader in an Oriental trend this fall.

3 Companies Combat Area Forest Fire

About 20 Acres Are Scorched

A stubborn forest fire which spread rapidly over tinder-dry land yesterday afternoon between Braddock Road and Route 40, destroying about 20 acres of timber, was reported under control yesterday evening.

About 50 members of three area volunteer fire companies and crews of the district forester's office were on the scene combatting the flames.

The fire was discovered early yesterday afternoon and was reported under control about 6 p. m. However, according to William H. Johnson, district forester, a tractor with fire plow was being sent from Garrett County to the burning area.

Johnson pointed out that the equipment would be used in "mop up" work as well as in deepening the fire line to prevent the flames from spreading under the line.

Cause Unknown

The immediate cause of the blaze was not known, although it is suspected that it was "touched off." The flames spread rapidly through the dry leaves and underbrush.

Johnson said three boys were reported to have been seen leaving the area. He said his office got a call about 12:50 p. m. and volunteer firemen were summoned.

Potomac Edison crews also went into action as the fire was reported to have started along the PE right-of-way in the vicinity of the Elda Inn.

George Brown, forest guard was in charge of the forestry workers. Also on the scene was Allan Holt, of Braddock Road, who is a forest warden with the department.

One utility pole was reported to have caught fire and the ground wire on the pole was said to have been ignited. Sometime ago the PE sprayed the area around their poles and lines to kill foilage.

Volunteers, manning rakes and Indian pumps were hampered not only by the heat of the flames but also by the intensive heat of the day and fought the blaze along mountainous terrain in thick underbrush.

The afternoon blaze got into a dense pine sector and as the flames "crowned" it was impossible for the men to remain in the area and a new fire line was started, Johnson said.

A large amount of small timber ranging from 15 to 20 feet high was destroyed in the flames. However there were no residences immediately threatened by the flames, which seemed to be centered in a hollow to the rear of the Elda Inn along Braddock Road.

The wind fanned the flames and they began spreading toward the lower end of LaVale and then to the top of the mountain. Volunteer firemen back-fired along the highway at several points.

LaVale Notified

LaVale Fire Company was the first of three volunteer companies to receive a call. They reported to the scene and later called for another truck and more volunteers.

Cresaptown volunteers then received a call and later on volunteers with fire fighting equipment from Clarysville reported to help combat the flames.

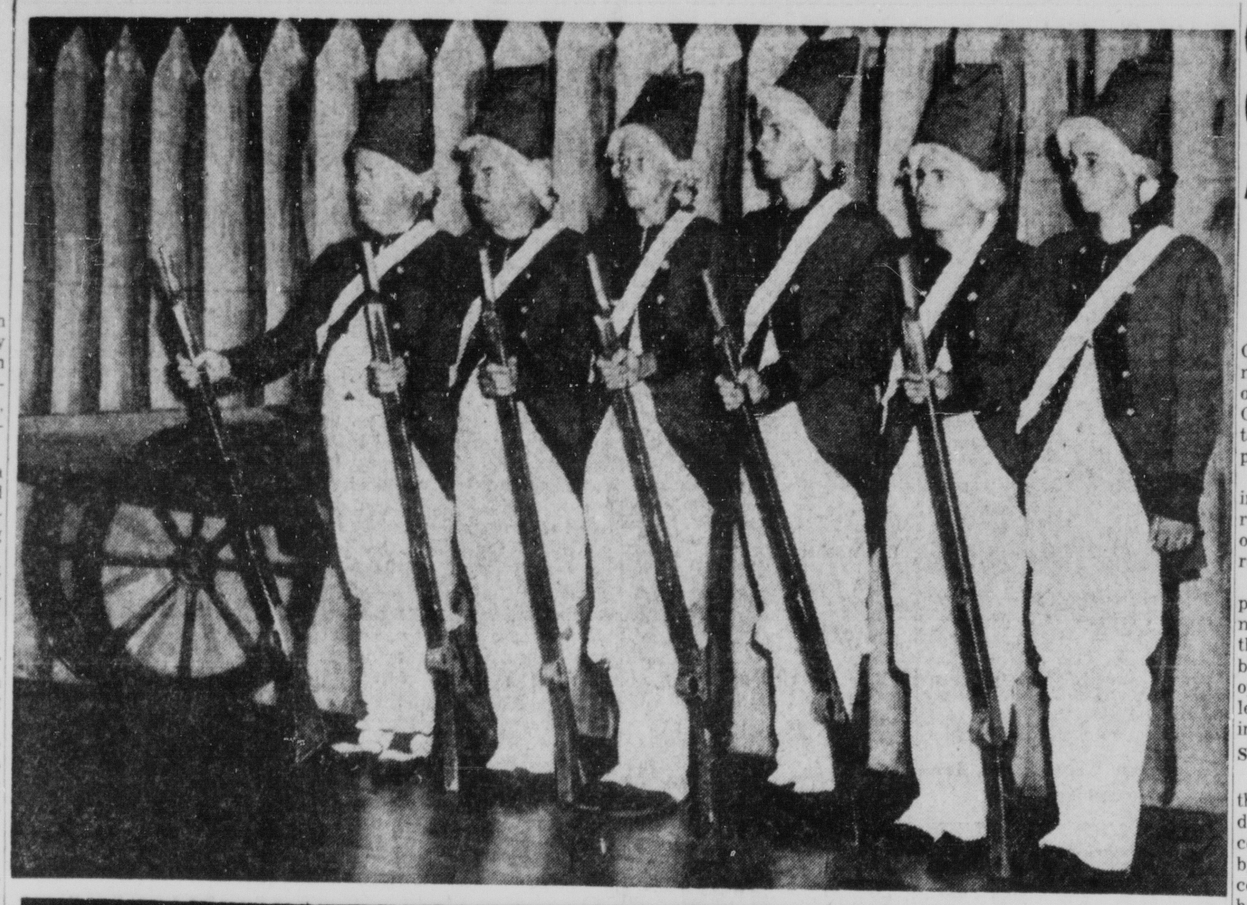

Cresaptown volunteers reported to the scene about 1 p. m. as firemen using rakes and Indian pumps and lines from their 500-gallon pumper went into the woods to check the flames.

The company also put its jeep and portable pump to use in combatting the flames.

Clarysville firemen, who were called out about 4 p. m. returned to their station at 8:30 p. m. While on the scene volunteers of that company fought the flames with rakes and Indian pumps. They also used their 500-gallon pumper.

Volunteers for LaVale reported to the fire early in the afternoon with their fire fighting equipment and were still on duty until about 8:30 last night.

Forestry workers remained to patrol the scorched land and smoldering embers, and were using the tractor and plow last night to "mop up" and deepen the fire line.

Rehearse For Historical Pageant

County Board Opens Roads At Plant Site

First Step Leads To Closing Them

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday unanimously voted to open certain roads on property of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in a legal move to remove any doubts as to the public's right to use them.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson moved for the opening of the roads at the plant site and the other two commissioners concurred.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company filed a petition with the commissioners July 12 requesting that the roads mentioned in old deeds but apparently never developed be opened as a preliminary move leading to their permanent closing.

Suggests Solution

William C. Walsh, attorney for the company, who attended yesterday's session, suggested that the company might settle the question by deeding the right-of-ways to the county commissioners and then have the county commissioners give a quit claim deed to the company.

Several road complaints were submitted to the commissioners yesterday. Two Hagerstown men, Roy M. Snyder Jr. and Leroy H. Beck, who own land along Mudlick Road in Election District No. 1, wrote that the road is in very bad condition. They state that their cars have been scratched from briars and overhanging trees and jagged rocks in the road have flattened tires. They asked that the roadway be graded and cleared. The matter was referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for a number of residents of Beecher Avenue in Eckhart, who had complained previously about the condition of the avenue, called attention to its "deplorable and hazardous" condition. He said that he was giving the commissioners warning in cases of any future accidents.

Offers Complaint

Sylvia Valentine of Newton, near Mt. Savage, appeared to complain about a drainage problem at her home. This too was referred to Chapman.

The commissioners also voted to hire George Steele, local painter, as inspector to check on the painting of the exterior of the Court House and the Cumberland Free Public Library. Contracts for both jobs were awarded July 26. Steele will be paid $12 for each day he works as an inspector and estimates it will take eight or 10 days.

H. R. "Ted" Metcalfe of McCoole sent the commissioners a letter of thanks for not allowing a Keyser used car dealer to operate a junk area in the McCoole area. He said McCoole will be spared the experience which a number of LaVale residents now are undergoing.

Three Teachers Get Positions In Schools Here

Will Direct Classes In Primary Grades

Appointment of three young women as teachers in the primary grades of Allegany County public schools was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Miss Carolyn Bowie will teach at Columbia Street School, Miss Wilda Winterberg at Flintstone School and Miss Barbara Henry at the new school in LaVale.

Miss Bowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas R. Bowie, 723 Washington Street, was a 1950 graduate of Allegany High School. She attended Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., for two years, then had one year at a nursery training school and finally one-and-one-half years at the University of Maryland.

Both Miss Henry, who lives in Bowling Green, and Miss Winterberg, who resides at 513 Dilly Street, were in the 1951 graduating class at Allegany High School. They also were in the same 1955 graduating class at Frostburg State Teachers College.

While announcing the three appointments, Webster also reported the resignation of Robert K. Young, 823 Shawnee Avenue, who has been teaching algebra and arithmetic at Fort Hill High School.

He sent a letter to the superintendent announcing his resignation and the acceptance of a teaching position in Florida. A teacher with 15 years of experience, Young has taught in Allegany County since 1947. After two years at Bruce High School in Westernport he joined the Fort Hill faculty in 1949.

Man Jailed For 75 Days Is Freed

Judge Henderson Grants Petition

Eugene Oldaker, 38-year-old local man who has been confined in the County Jail for some 75 days although no commitment papers were signed for his confinement, yesterday was granted his freedom after a habeas corpus hearing before Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Oldaker was convicted May 19 by Magistrate J. Milton Dick on a charge of being an habitual drunkard and was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction. Taken to the County Jail, Oldaker appealed the case to Circuit Court. He was unable to post a $500 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis informed Judge Henderson that he helped Oldaker fill out a petition for an immediate trial on his appeal July 14 and this paper was sent to the State's Attorney's office. Oldaker also wrote Judge Henderson and yesterday's habeas corpus hearing was the result.

Charles K. McDonald, deputy clerk of Circuit Court, also told Judge Henderson that no appeal papers ever had come to him in the Oldaker case from Trial Magistrate Dick.

After hearing these statements, Judge Henderson told Oldaker that he was not deciding the point as to whether the prisoner was guilty or not guilty as charged May 19. However he stated that Oldaker had been imprisoned improperly and was entitled to his freedom.

Judge Henderson closed his remarks with a twofold warning. He warned Oldaker not to drink alcoholic beverages in the future. He also said that any holder of a liquor license who sells Oldaker anything to drink will be cited. He observed that the man has a long record for intemperance.

Red Feather Agency Helps 2,300 Families

Many Are Aided By Associated Charities

Helping the needy who have no other place to go for aid is the job of the Associated Charities, one of the welfare agencies of the Cumberland Community Chest.

The annual report of the Red Feather agency for the fiscal year ending June 1 tells part of the story of how the Associated Charities managed to stretch a $26,802 budget to provide help to 2,300 families during the 13-month period.

From that modest budget the agency provided 1,502 grocery orders for 750 families, paid 32 drug bills for 29 families, paid the electric bills for 94 families and the gas bills for 65 families.

Helps On Rent

Rent was paid for 160 families for a total of 4,655 days and room and board for 46 persons for a total of 493 days.

Forty tons of coal were provided for 35 families and 43 loads of wood for 15 more families, and money was advanced to 17 families to meet insurance payments.

To clothe the needy, the Red Feather agency purchased 118 pairs of shoes and 895 pieces of clothing. The bulk of the clothing distributed—15,183 pieces—was donated by friends of the Associated Charities.

The Associated Charities also distributed food valued at more than $1,280 as Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets.

Not a cent of Chest money is used for these holiday food baskets, since the food or funds to buy it is supplied by dozens of organizations and individuals.

Distributes Toys

Many of the toys were cast-offs which became usable after they were repaired and painted. Others were hand-made toys which would cost up to $10 or more if they could be purchased.

Another phase of the work of the agency consisted of arranging for the distribution of 143 cases of surplus beef and gravy and certifying 4,310 families for surplus foods.

Arrangements for medical care for the medically indigent, eye examinations and glasses and for aid through the State Department of Rehabilitation was also part of the work of the agency of which Miss Jeannette Bonig is executive secretary.

Arranging for services provided by other agencies of the city, county or state is part of the agency's work. For example, the report lists:

Was Difficult Year

Arranged for back brace for one person, for free school lunches for 2,373 children, for working tools for one man, for moving of eight families and batteries for a hearing aid needed by one person.

Miss Bonig said the Associated Charities largely supplements the work of other agencies, meeting urgent needs until the needy are eligible for aid through other agencies, such as the Welfare Board, or taking over when unemployment benefits of workers stop.

She said the past year has been a difficult one, due to heavy unemployment, which overtaxed the resources of the agency.

Since spring, she said, the load has been decreasing as families aided by the Associated Charities get seasonal work.

Equity Suit Filed

Harry A. Holsinger yesterday filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Margie L. Holsinger.

Judges Named For Livestock At Fair Here

Livestock, fruit and vegetable judges for the 38th annual Cumberland Fair, which will run from August 22 through August 27, have been named, according to County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Walter J. Hahn of Frederick, who owns one of the largest Ayrshire herds in North America, will judge that dairy cattle breed starting at 9 a. m. Tuesday, August 23, Steger said.

The Guernsey judging will be done by Herbert Snyder of Union Bridge in Carroll County, who formerly exhibited here. This judging also will get under way at 9 a. m. August 23.

Judges from the University of Maryland will grade the Holsteins and Jerseys shown at Fairgo later this month.

Boyd Whittle, livestock specialist at the university, will judge the beef cattle. The Herefords on exhibition will be entered by A. L. O'Brien of Manns Choice, Pa., and Virgil Jones, manager of Tomar Farms near Oakland.

Entries of the 4-H Dairy Calf Club will be judged Wednesday, August 24. Judging of fruit and vegetables will be done Tuesday of fair week by Joseph Newcomer, extension agronomist, and A. F. Vierheller, extension horticulturist.

Bicentennial Belles Will Be Hostesses

Fashion Show Set At Constitution Park

Final plans for Homecoming Day and Belles and Brush Day during the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration were completed at a meeting here last night.

Plans were made to have Bicentennial Belles, in authentic costumes, on duty at City Hall to register former residents who come home for the Bicentennial.

The hostesses will be on duty each day of the Bicentennial to advise visitors of activities.

They will also aid the visitors to register for the tours of historical landmarks which will originate at the hospitality center at City Hall.

Details of activities planned on Thursday, August 18, Belles and Brush Day, were also completed.

Highlights will be an old fashioned fashion show at 4:30 p. m. in the Amphitheater of Constitution Park. The show will include a bathing beauty skit sponsored by the Bicentennial Belles.

Slated at 5:30 p. m. at the park is the final judging of beards grown by the Brothers of the Brush. A box lunch picnic will be held from 6 to 8 p. m., with old fashioned games and dancing.

Keegan Appeals For Observance Of Speed Rules

Police Commissioner William V. Keegan yesterday appealed to all citizens of this area to keep within the speed limits set up in the City of Cumberland.

He said he is asking everybody who uses Cumberland streets to "cut down speeding."

"I do not like to see people have to pay fines," he said, adding that if drivers do not cooperate in the campaign there will be "nothing to do but fine."

The use of the radar speedmeter, he said, will continue in an effort to reduce the danger from speeding on crowded city streets.

Police cruisers have also been busy patrolling city streets to enforce the speed limits.

Yesterday, seven persons were found guilty or forfeited bonds for speeding on Frederick Street and Bedford Street as a result of checks made recently by city police.

Carver Playground Has Flower Show

Winners were Lisa Stephens, prettiest white flower; LaVerne Method, potted; Connie Washington, best arrangement; Sue Smith, most unusual; Freda Beckwith, largest, and Donna Jean Bates, smallest.

Carver Playground will hold a dance tonight, from 8 to 11 o'clock, at Lamont Playground. Music will be by the King of Swing.

'Kasey Clippers' Dance Is Planned On Friday Night

On Friday night the "Kasey Clippers," Brothers of the Brush unit of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, will sponsor a dance in the air-conditioned ballroom on the third floor of the K of C Home.

Joe Schupher and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Awards will be presented during intermission for various types of beards and unique dress.

The Casey Chorus, "Barber Shop Quartet," under the direction of Jimmy Burns will present a program of old-time tunes at intermission.

Proceeds of the dance will be given to the Keating Memorial Day Nursery. Brothers of the Brush of local chapters are invited to attend. Judges of the beards will be Joseph Love, Richard Pratt and James Morris.

2 Local Vets Attend Unit's Annual Reunion

The 55th Field Artillery Battalion Association of World War II held its annual reunion over the weekend at Fort Bedford Hotel, in Bedford, Pa., which was attended by two local members of the organization.

Donald G. Harden, 401 Springdale Street, and F. Allan Weatherholt, 419 Fairmont Lane, who served with the unit through World War II action in New Guinea and the Phillipines, were among the hundred or more veterans present.

The association, which has met in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Bedford, plans to meet next year in New York. Most of the members of the battalion reside in Pennsylvania and New York, but there were men in the organization from about 11 states.

Officers elected include William H. Taylor, Harrisburg, Pa., president; John S. Briner, Hummelstown, Pa., vice president and financial secretary, with battery correspondents including Michael Shekmar, Philadelphia, for Headquarters Battery; Clayton Graybill, Hershey, Pa., for Battery A; Philip Noto, Easton, Pa., for Battery B; John D. Null, New Waterford, Ohio, for Battery C; and Theodore Thorne, Pemberton, N. J., for Service Battery.

The battalion participated in a number of important engagements including the invasion of Luzon at Lingayen Gulf, the Battle of Balete Pass, the Battle for Baguio and numerous lesser operations. It received four commendations during the Luzon campaign.

Surplus Food Registration Still Declines

Red Cross branches throughout the county reported yesterday that registrations are fewer than in the past couple of months, and a decline in the number of people needing surplus commodities appears to be continuing. The decline is attributed to increased employment conditions in the Cumberland area and other desirable factors.

Registrations were conducted Monday and Tuesday at all points throughout the county except at Westernport, where the enrollment is now completed in one day, and at Frostburg where the three-day registration was held last week.

At Eckhart, registrars indicated that next month only one day of registration will be held there, instead of the usual three.

Totals enrolled to date include Frostburg 260, Lonaconing 178, Barton 124, Mt. Savage 88, Cumberland 86, Midland 82, Westernport 80, and Eckhart 71.

Registrations will be concluded today at Cumberland, Barton, Lonaconing, Eckhart, Mt. Savage and Midland. Eligible persons not enrolled may do so at any of these points.

The August distribution of surplus foods, for which a registration was held early in July, will begin at Westernport August 8 at 9 a. m., with the usual schedule being followed throughout the county.

The Associated Charities, Salvation Army and Allegany County Welfare Board also are expected to complete their registrations today.

Motor Overheats In Local Home

Firemen from Central Fire Station received a call at 3:51 p. m. and reported to the home of Francis Mattingly, 119 Hanover Street.

Progress Noted On Paving Jobs

Good progress is being made on the Frederick Street improvement project, city officials reported yesterday.

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company has already laid the roadway for the project and yesterday had about completed laying the curb on the west side of the street which will become the northbound route to U. S. 220.

Pavements will be laid on the west side and then crews will begin the final phase of the work as curbs and pavements are provided on the east side of the street.

The contract was awarded recently to the V. P. Stickley Company, Burlington, for $36,229.

Contracts on both sides call for work to be completed within 50 working days, so that both approaches should be completed at about the same time.

Current Heat Wave Slated To Continue During Week

If you are looking for methods of "beating the heat," then you might as well continue to do so because the weatherman promises little relief from the torrid temperatures during the next five days.

You might think it was hot here yesterday afternoon when a high reading of 94 degrees was recorded at Constitution Park, but such a temperature was rather "cool" as compared to the sizzling 101 degrees recorded in Baltimore as that city is struggling through the hottest summer of its history.

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast gives little hope of immediate relief from the blistering temperatures which have been prevalent. At least for the rest of the week there is "no relief in sight."

Very light and widely scattered thundershowers were in the forecast, but no relief was expected from them. The low temperature yesterday in Cumberland was 67 degrees and at 7:30 p. m. the mercury stood at 90 degrees.

Unofficially the temperature soared to 98 degrees in downtown Cumberland about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and as residents checked thermometers at home or along the street, they simply mopped their brows and sought relief wherever possible.

Humidity yesterday was 41 per cent at 6 p. m. What is on tap for today? Well, the forecaster says Maryland will have mostly sunny and hot weather with a high of between 92 and 98 degrees.

Voting Rolls Down 275 Since 1954 Election

As of August 1, the city voting records included the names of 14,795 citizens as compared with the 15,070 who were qualified to vote in the June 1 and June 15 elections last year.

The net loss for the month was 15 after the names of 16 dead were stricken from the lists.

At present, there are 7,747 white male, 6,749 white females, 191 colored males and 108 colored females on the city's voting books.

3 Companies Combat Area Forest Fire

About 20 Acres Are Scorched

A stubborn forest fire which spread rapidly over tinder-dry land yesterday afternoon between Braddock Road and Route 40, destroying about 20 acres of timber, was reported under control yesterday evening.

About 50 members of three area volunteer fire companies and crews of the district forester's office were on the scene combatting the flames.

The fire was discovered early yesterday afternoon and was reported under control about 6 p. m. However, according to William H. Johnson, district forester, a tractor with fire plow was being sent from Garrett County to the burning area.

Johnson pointed out that the equipment would be used in "mop up" work as well as in deepening the fire line to prevent the flames from spreading under the line.

Cause Unknown

The immediate cause of the blaze was not known, although it is suspected that it was "touched off." The flames spread rapidly through the dry leaves and underbrush.

Johnson said three boys were reported to have been seen leaving the area. He said his office got a call about 12:50 p. m. and volunteer firemen were summoned.

Potomac Edison crews also went into action as the fire was reported to have started along the PE right-of-way in the vicinity of the Elda Inn.

George Brown, forest guard was in charge of the forestry workers. Also on the scene was Allan Holt, of Braddock Road, who is a forest warden with the department.

One utility pole was reported to have caught fire and the ground wire on the pole was said to have been ignited. Sometime ago the PE sprayed the area around their poles and lines to kill foilage.

Johnson said the dry vegetation and recent hot drying weather caused the fire to break out very easily.

Volunteers, manning rakes and Indian pumps were hampered not only by the heat of the flames but also by the intensive heat of the day and fought the blaze along mountainous terrain in thick underbrush.

The afternoon blaze got into a dense pine sector and as the flames "crowned" it was impossible for the men to remain in the area and a new fire line was started, Johnson said.

A large amount of small timber ranging from 15 to 20 feet high was destroyed in the flames. However there were no residences immediately threatened by the flames, which seemed to be centered in a hollow to the rear of the Elda Inn along Braddock Road.

The wind fanned the flames and they began spreading toward the lower end of LaVale and then to the top of the mountain. Volunteer firemen back-fired along the highway at several points.

LaVale Notified

LaVale Fire Company was the first of three volunteer companies to receive a call. They reported to the scene and later called for another truck and more volunteers.

Cresaptown volunteers then received a call and later on volunteers with fire fighting equipment from Clarysville reported to help combat the flames.

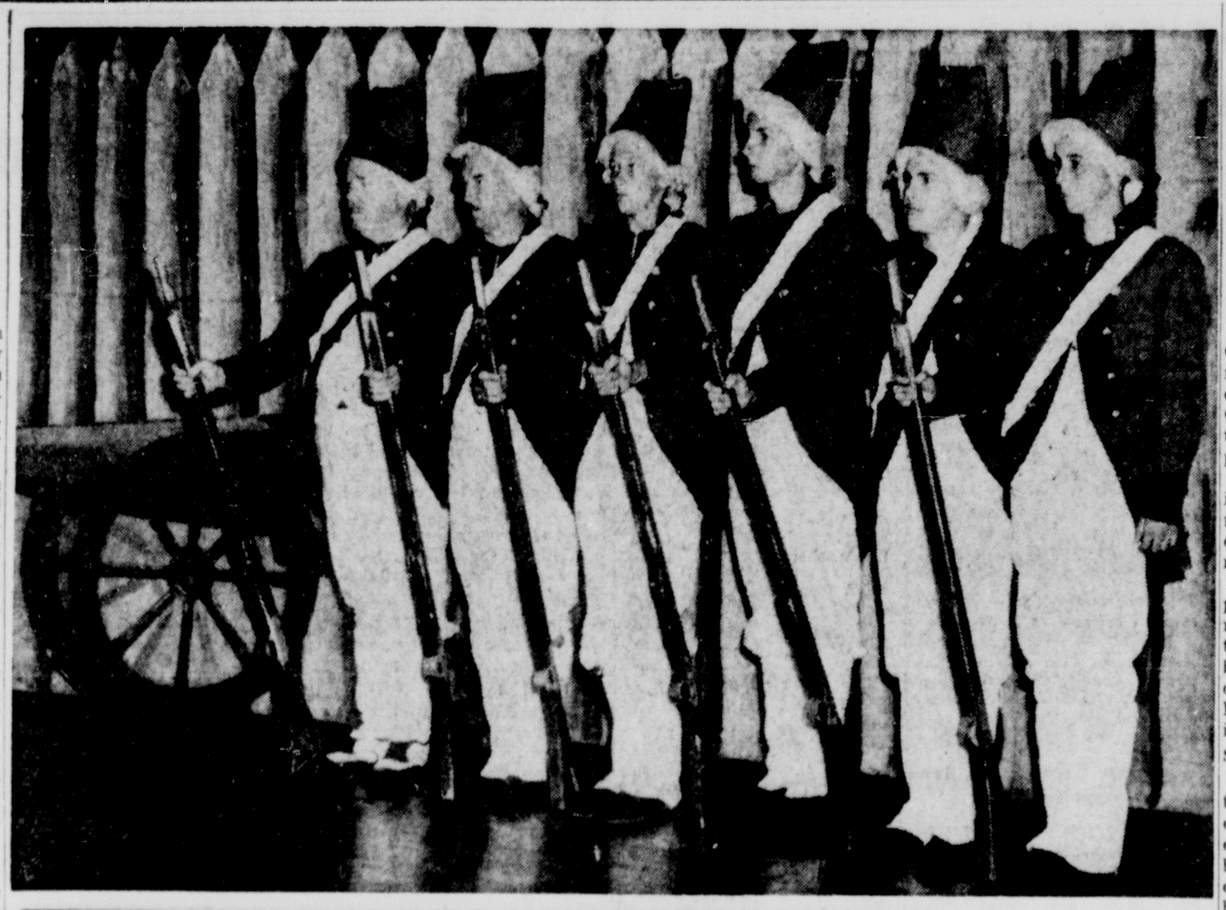

Cresaptown volunteers reported to the scene about 1 p. m. as firemen using rakes and Indian pumps and lines from their 500-gallon pumper went into the woods to check the flames.

The company also put its jeep and portable pump to use in combatting the flames.

Clarysville firemen, who were called out about 4 p. m. returned to their station at 8:30 p. m. While on the scene volunteers of that company fought the flames with rakes and Indian pumps. They also used their 500-gallon pumper.

Volunteers for LaVale reported to the fire early in the afternoon with their fire fighting equipment and were still on duty until about 8:30 last night.

Forestry workers remained to patrol the scorched land and smoldering embers, and were using the tractor and plow last night to "mop up" and deepen the fire line.

County Board Opens Roads At Plant Site

First Step Leads To Closing Them

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday unanimously voted to open certain roads on property of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in a legal move to remove any doubts as to the public's right to use them.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson moved for the opening of the roads at the plant site and the other two commissioners concurred.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company filed a petition with the commissioners July 12 requesting that the roads mentioned in old deeds but apparently never developed be opened as a preliminary move leading to their permanent closing.

Suggests Solution

William C. Walsh, attorney for the company, who attended yesterday's session, suggested that the company might settle the question by deeding the right-of-ways to the county commissioners and then have the county commissioners give a quit claim deed to the company.

Several road complaints were submitted to the commissioners yesterday. Two Hagerstown men, Roy M. Snyder Jr. and Leroy H. Beck, who own land along Mudlick Road in Election District No. 1, wrote that the road is in very bad condition. They state that their cars have been scratched from briars and overhanging trees and jagged rocks in the road have flattened tires. They asked that the roadway be graded and cleared. The matter was referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for a number of residents of Beecher Avenue in Eckhart, who had complained previously about the condition of the avenue, called attention to its "deplorable and hazardous" condition. He said that he was giving the commissioners warning in cases of any future accidents.

Offers Complaint

Sylvia Valentine of Newton, near Mt. Savage, appeared to complain about a drainage problem at her home. This too was referred to Chapman.

The commissioners also voted to hire George Steele, local painter, as inspector to check on the painting of the exterior of the Court House and the Cumberland Free Public Library. Contracts for both jobs were awarded July 26. Steele will be paid $12 for each day he works as an inspector and estimates it will take eight or 10 days.

H. R. "Ted" Metcalfe of McCoole sent the commissioners a letter of thanks for not allowing a Keyser used car dealer to operate a junk area in the McCoole area. He said McCoole will be spared the experience which a number of LaVale residents now are undergoing.

Three Teachers Get Positions In Schools Here

Will Direct Classes In Primary Grades

Appointment of three young women as teachers in the primary grades of Allegany County public schools was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Miss Carolyn Bowie will teach at Columbia Street School, Miss Wilda Winterberg at Flintstone School and Miss Barbara Henry at the new school in LaVale.

Miss Bowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas R. Bowie, 723 Washington Street, was a 1950 graduate of Allegany High School. She attended Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., for two years, then had one year at a nursery training school and finally one-and-one-half years at the University of Maryland.

Both Miss Henry, who lives in Bowling Green, and Miss Winterberg, who resides at 513 Dilly Street, were in the 1951 graduating class at Allegany High School. They also were in the same 1955 graduating class at Frostburg State Teachers College.

While announcing the three appointments, Webster also reported the resignation of Robert K. Young, 823 Shawnee Avenue, who has been teaching algebra and arithmetic at Fort Hill High School.

He sent a letter to the superintendent announcing his resignation and the acceptance of a teaching position in Florida. A teacher with 15 years of experience, Young has taught in Allegany County since 1947. After two years at Bruce High School in Westernport he joined the Fort Hill faculty in 1949.

Man Jailed For 75 Days Is Freed

Judge Henderson Grants Petition

Eugene Oldaker, 38-year-old local man who has been confined in the County Jail for some 75 days although no commitment papers were signed for his confinement, yesterday was granted his freedom after a habeas corpus hearing before Chief Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Oldaker was convicted May 19 by Magistrate J. Milton Dick on a charge of being an habitual drunkard and was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction. Taken to the County Jail, Oldaker appealed the case to Circuit Court. He was unable to post a $500 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis informed Judge Henderson that he helped Oldaker fill out a petition for an immediate trial on his appeal July 14 and this paper was sent to the State's Attorney's office. Oldaker also wrote Judge Henderson and yesterday's habeas corpus hearing was the result.

Charles K. McDonald, deputy clerk of Circuit Court, also told Judge Henderson that no appeal papers ever had come to him in the Oldaker case from Trial Magistrate Dick.

After hearing these statements, Judge Henderson told Oldaker that he was not deciding the point as to whether the prisoner was guilty or not guilty as charged May 19. However he stated that Oldaker had been imprisoned improperly and was entitled to his freedom.

Judge Henderson closed his remarks with a twofold warning. He warned Oldaker not to drink alcoholic beverages in the future. He also said that any holder of a liquor license who sells Oldaker anything to drink will be cited. He observed that the man has a long record for intemperance.

Surplus Food Registration Still Declines

Today is the last day of registrations for the September distribution of surplus foods, with Red Cross enrollments to date totaling 969.

Red Cross branches throughout the county reported yesterday that registrations are fewer than in the past couple of months, and a decline in the number of people needing surplus commodities appears to be continuing. The decline is attributed to increased employment conditions in the Cumberland area and other desirable factors.

Registrations were conducted Monday and Tuesday at all points throughout the county except at Westernport, where the enrollment is now completed in one day, and at Frostburg where the three-day registration was held last week.

At Eckhart, registrars indicated that next month only one day of registration will be held there, instead of the usual three.

Totals enrolled to date include Frostburg 260, Lonaconing 178, Barton 124, Mt. Savage 88, Cumberland 86, Midland 82, Westernport 80, and Eckhart 71.

Registrations will be concluded today at Cumberland, Barton, Lonaconing, Eckhart, Mt. Savage and Midland. Eligible persons not enrolled may do so at any of these points.

The August distribution of surplus foods, for which a registration was held early in July, will begin at Westernport August 8 at 9 a. m., with the usual schedule being followed throughout the county.

The Associated Charities, Salvation Army and Allegany County Welfare Board also are expected to complete their registrations today.

The Casey Chorus, "Barber Shop Quartet," under the direction of Jimmy Burns will present a program of old-time tunes at intermission.

Proceeds of the dance will be given to the Keating Memorial Day Nursery. Brothers of the Brush of local chapters are invited to attend. Judges of the beards will be Joseph Love, Richard Pratt and James Morris.

2 Local Vets Attend Unit's Annual Reunion

The 55th Field Artillery Battalion Association of World War II held its annual reunion over the weekend at Fort Bedford Hotel, in Bedford, Pa., which was attended by two local members of the organization.

Donald G. Harden, 401 Springdale Street, and F. Allan Weatherholt, 419 Fairmont Lane, who served with the unit through World War II action in New Guinea and the Phillipines, were among the hundred or more veterans present.

The association, which has met in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Bedford, plans to meet next year in New York. Most of the members of the battalion reside in Pennsylvania and New York, but there were men in the organization from about 11 states.

Officers elected include William H. Taylor, Harrisburg, Pa., president; John S. Briner, Hummelstown, Pa., vice president and financial secretary, with battery correspondents including Michael Shekmar, Philadelphia, for Headquarters Battery; Clayton Graybill, Hershey, Pa., for Battery A; Philip Noto, Easton, Pa., for Battery B; John D. Null, New Waterford, Ohio, for Battery C; and Theodore Thorne, Pemberton, N. J., for Service Battery.

The battalion participated in a number of important engagements including the invasion of Luzon at Lingayen Gulf, the Battle of Balete Pass, the Battle for Baguio and numerous lesser operations. It received four commendations during the Luzon campaign.

Progress Noted On Paving Jobs

Good progress is being made on the Frederick Street improvement project, city officials reported yesterday.

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company has already laid the roadway for the project and yesterday had about completed laying the curb on the west side of the street which will become the northbound route to U. S. 220.

Pavements will be laid on the west side and then crews will begin the final phase of the work as curbs and pavements are provided on the east side of the street.

The Cumberland Contracting Company is making progress in installing drainage pipes for the Maryland approach to the Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge.

Contracts on both sides call for work to be completed within 50 working days, so that both approaches should be completed at about the same time.

Motor Overheats In Local Home

Current Heat Wave Slated To Continue During Week

If you are looking for methods of "beating the heat," then you might as well continue to do so because the weatherman promises little relief from the torrid temperatures during the next five days.

You might think it was hot here yesterday afternoon when a high reading of 94 degrees was recorded at Constitution Park, but such a temperature was rather "cool" as compared to the sizzling 101 degrees recorded in Baltimore as that city is struggling through the hottest summer of its history.

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast gives little hope of immediate relief from the blistering temperatures which have been prevalent. At least for the rest of the week there is "no relief in sight."

Very light and widely scattered thundershowers were in the forecast, but no relief was expected from them. The low temperature yesterday in Cumberland was 67 degrees and at 7:30 p. m. the mercury stood at 90 degrees.

Unofficially the temperature soared to 98 degrees in downtown Cumberland about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and as residents checked thermometers at home or along the street, they simply mopped their brows and sought relief wherever possible.

Humidity yesterday was 41 per cent at 6 p. m. What is on tap for today? Well, the forecaster says Maryland will have mostly sunny and hot weather with a high of between 92 and 98 degrees.

Voting Rolls Down 275 Since 1954 Election

Cumberland's registration rolls dropped 15 more last month, bringing the total loss of voters to the 275 mark since last year's municipal elections.

As of August 1, the city voting records included the names of 14,795 citizens as compared with the 15,070 who were qualified to vote in the June 1 and June 15 elections last year.

During July, only one new voter registered and one person made a change in voting records.

The net loss for the month was 15 after the names of 16 dead were stricken from the lists.

At present, there are 7,747 white male, 6,749 white females, 191 colored males and 108 colored females on the city's voting books.
